Americans in Chunchon 8 Miles South of Parallel

Civilians Sole Ones in Stronghold

City Was Once Big Red Massing Point in South Korea; May Have Gone North

West Has Battle

Bitter Communist Fight Breaks Out North of Seoul

Tokyo, March 21 (AP) — An American tank force today rumbled into the former Chinese stronghold of Chunchon. It met only flag-waving Korean civilians.

The Chinese, who had made the central Korean road center their troop massing point in South Korea, apparently had withdrawn north of Parallel 38.

Chunchon is 8½ miles south of the Red Korean border.

It was from Chunchon that the Chinese mounted their two massive offensives in January and February against Wonju, deep in central Korea.

On the western front, South Korean and American task forces ranging up the historic invasion route of Korea bumped into bitter Communist resistance north of Seoul.

An American tank patrol on the road to Uijongbu ran into a heavy mine field.

"The small arms and mortar fire were so intense that it was impossible for the men to leave the tanks and remove the mines," an operations officer said.

Bradshaw Gives Report

On the east coast South Korean units were officially placed within 8½ miles of the old border between North and South Korea. Patrols may have reached or crossed the imaginary line.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the central front that United Nations troops were unopposed by the vanishing enemy. He said armored patrols were probing the area between the main allied lines and Parallel 38.

Earlier reports placed American units five miles south of Chunchon.

From Eighth Army Headquarters A.P. Correspondent Leif Erickson reported: "In pulling back from Chunchon, the Chinese Communists apparently have withdrawn their main forces back north of the 38th Parallel."

On the east-central front, American artillery and planes decimated a small enemy concentration forming for an attack northwest of Pangam. About half the 200 Reds were killed.

Won't Regain Initiative

A British general told Eighth Army correspondents the Reds would not regain the initiative in Korea. Lt. Gen. Richard Nelson Gale, director general of training in the British Army, said the U.N. forces are slowly and methodically pursuing their own course.

He did not say whether the allies planned to cross the politically significant border, but said British troops in the Eighth Army would carry out any orders given them.

Erickson reported fresh Chinese troops were digging in on the western front north of Seoul. This may indicate the Reds are trying to slow down or halt the allied advance up the center by posing a serious threat on the U.N.'s western flank.

The Eighth Army described the Americans south of Chuchon as "holding elements"—a task force strong enough to withstand a counterattack. They were over the crest of mountain ridges ringing the Chunchon valley on the south.

More Important Than Seoul

Chunchon was a more important objective than Seoul in the Eighth Army offensive launched one month ago. At that time the Reds were just outside Wonju and Chechon, some 40 miles to the south.

The allies reoccupied Seoul March 14.

The Chinese and Red Koreans appear to be north of the border on the eastern front and withdrawing behind it on the central front.

But on the western front, a fresh Chinese Army corps, the 26th, has moved into position about 30 miles northeast of the battered old south Korean capital. It was screening the withdrawal of other Red troops.

This shift of force, Allied officers said, may be the start of a

President Says U. S. Doubles Armed Forces Since June 25

Strength Now Stands at More Than 2,900,000 Men, He Says

Key West, Fla., March 21 (AP)—President Truman served notice today that the United States has doubled its armed forces since the invasion of Korea to resist "still further Communist attacks against other free nations."

An exchange of telegrams between the President and Secretary of Defense Marshall disclosed that this country's uniformed forces now stand at more than 2,900,000, nine months after Korean Reds launched their unprovoked attack June 25.

Mr. Truman made the telegrams public shortly before leaving at 7:30 a. m (EST) for a visit to Fort Jefferson in the dry tortugas aboard the destroyed Sarsfield. He is due back at 5 p. m.

The President will fly back to Washington tomorrow to spend the Easter week-end with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret. He is scheduled to take off at 2 p. m. (EST) Thursday from Boca Chica Air Station, eight and a half miles from this naval submarine station.

New Warnings to Reds

Mr. Truman's announcement was a new warning to Soviet Russia that this country "in company with other free nations" is determined "to establish and maintain world peace."

He emphasized the speed with which this country is rebuilding its defenses by disclosing Marshall's telegram giving the size of this country's armed force as doubled what it was on June 25.

"For your information, the strength we have already attained —a total strength in excess of 2,900,000—was not attained in World War two until more than 21 months after our build-up started in June 1940, following the fall of France, and more than three months after Pearl Harbor," Marshall wired.

The President took unusual steps to seek world-wide disclosure of the progress of American defenses, and the exchange of telegrams was beamed around the

DiSalle Anticipates Rollback in Prices

Price Stabilizer Says 'Early Break' Will Come; Office Will Issue Regulations About Foods

Boston, March 21 (AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. Di Salle said yesterday Americans bought $5 billion worth of nothing in 1950, due to rising prices—but he forecast an early break in consumer prices.

He said he previously had "felt that the break in prices was still months away. Now I feel justified in moving up that schedule."

Di Salle said also his office will issue in the near future "regulations for wholesale and retail food distributors covering 60 per cent of the items in the average family's market basket, and we are at work on a regulation establishing ceilings for all kinds of manufactured products."

In an address before the Industrial Conference Board, he said "prices on manufactured goods will be developed from a pre-Korean period, with provision for reflecting increases in manufacturing costs since that base period."

Both food and manufacturers regulations, he said, would provide for rollbacks where markups had been "higher than customary margins."

Di Salle told the non-profit research organization for industrial and economic fact-finding that a drop in prices would be reflected in retail stores in several weeks.

Village Voters Elect Officials; Holmes Winner

Village elections in Ellenville and Saugerties Tuesday brought out record voting, in Saugerties a total of 1,584 votes were cast and in Ellenville 1,534 voters came to the polling place. In Saugerties voting machines were used for the first time in an election for mayor and the results were known within a few minutes after the polls closed. Two years ago it was after 2:30 o'clock in the morning before the ballots were counted and the results known.

In Saugerties Mayor George P. Holmes was re-elected while in Ellenville, where a very lively campaign had been waged, Mayor Henry L. Schipp was defeated by Frank Muller, editor of the Ellenville Journal. The entire Republican ticket was elected in Ellenville. In Saugerties, where the party designations are Taxpayers Party and Citizens Protective Party, the Taxpayers' party candidates swept the board for re-election, Mayor Holmes defeating his opponent, Herman Snyder by a vote of 1162 to 396. Muller won in Ellenville by a 992 to 502 vote.

New Paltz, Pine Hill

Both in New Paltz and in Pine Hill there was little interest in the election, nominations at the caucuses in those villages being tantamount to election. In New Paltz there was considerable interest at the caucus but Mayor Robert Reid and Dr. Roland Will and Gregory Rheude, trustees, were nominated and their election was without opposition. The turnout in New Paltz was small yesterday at the election. In Pine Hill only about 22 turned out to vote and Charles Griffin was re-elected mayor and Conrad Smith elected trustee on the Republican ticket. The Democratic party had no ticket.

Mayor Holmes of Saugerties ran on a policy supported by the workers and homeowners of the village and an active campaign was conducted by poth parties. The results in Saugerties was:

Taxpayers' Party: Mayor Holmes 1162. Trustees Elton Johnson 995, Jesse Van Gaasbeck 993, Frank Short 953.

Citizens Protective Party: Herman Snyder for mayor 396. Charles Granwehr for trustee 463. Myron Banks for trustee 544. Joseph Sweeney for trustee 612. Total vote cast 1584, this being one of the largest votes cast in village history.

Ellenville Voting

In Ellenville where 1534 votes were cast, some 300 above the usual vote and where 135 votes were cast in the first hour of the election at Hunt Memorial, the figures were:

Republican party: Frank Muller, mayor, 993. Edward Christiana for trustee, 887 and Sol Steinhoff for trustee 849 votes.

Democratic party: Mayor Henry L. Schipp 502. Cyrus DePuy, trustee, 508, and Louis N. Zipperman, present village trustee, 668.

Mayor-elect Muller has served the village of Ellenville as a trustee but was defeated for re-election in 1949.

Vaughn Is Victor

Incumbent Mayor J. W. Vaughn was returned to office by Rosendale voters with a 169 to 103 vote victory over his opponent, Morris DeWitt.

In other contests, John J. Mooney defeated Robert Esposito for the post as trustee for a two-year term by 155 to 115.

Everett Diehl defeated Christopher Raisner as trustee for a one year term by 167 to 96.

Labor Raps Congress on Defense Act

Mobilization Squabble Is Result of Weak Law, Green and Murray Declare

'Privileges' Cited

Deferred to Rich, They Say, at Expense of Poor

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The heads of the AFL and the CIO asserted today that Congress is to blame for the mobilization squabble because it enacted a weak defense production act.

AFL President William Green, addressing a conference of CIO, AFL, machinists and rail union officials at a precedent-making nationwide rally, said Congress had "failed the people."

"In adopting the defense production act last year," Green said in a prepared speech, "Congress went out of its way to lard the law with special privilege for business interests. Under that law, which expires on June 30, it is virtually impossible to stabilize the cost of living.

"In deference to the real estate lobby, Congress acted to decontrol rents. In obedience to the financial interests of the nation, it adopted tax laws that soak the poor and spare the rich.

'Became Intimidated'

"Second, the administration became intimidated by the reactionary coalition that rules the roost in Congress. Apparently, it decided to appease Congress in order to get some cooperation from Congress.

"This policy of appeasement . . . resulted in the appointment of big business executives to almost every significant position in defense agencies.

"The results speak for themselves. Not a single recommendation by labor representatives in the defense program was adopted. Our views were either ignored, or the exact opposite of our proposals was put into effect. * * *

"We decided, therefore, to take a drastic step. We voted unanimously for the withdrawal of labor representatives from any defense agencies in which they were serving. We felt that this was the only way we could effectively impress upon the American people the shocking failures and the gross inequities of defense policies."

Group Aid Sought

The labor meetings here yesterday and today are aimed at enlisting the support of community groups, through the local and state leaders attending, behind the United Labor Policy Committee's fight.

C.I.O. President Philip Murray said the management groups which opposed giving a newly-formed wage stabilization board power to settle all kinds of disputes wanted to force workers "into a narrow, blind alley."

"On the one side: a rigid, unbending wage formula," Murray said. "On the other side, the malicious, provocative provisions of the Taft-Hartley anti-labor law."

Murray said a coalition in Congress produced "an inefficient specimen of law" in the defense production act.

The labor groups have withdrawn from the government agencies, including the wage stabilization board, as a gesture of protest. They were motivated directly by

Costello Defies Committee Fourth Time on Net Worth

Gambler Tells Senate Group It Has No Right to This Information

New York, March 21 (AP)—Underworld boss Frank Costello today defied Senate crime investigators for the fourth time in their efforts to find out his net worth. He said he wouldn't answer the question.

With the same sullen stubbornness he has displayed when the matter came up previously, Costello said the committee was asking for information to which it had no right.

"I refused before," Costello said. "I'm not going to answer that question."

The gambler, labeled by the committee as head of a national crime syndicate, pictured himself to the committee as now engaged in purely legitimate business.

And he said he wasn't going to talk about what assets he has.

Says He's Businessman

Costello pictured himself before the committee as a businessman engaged in various enterprises—including jet broilers.

He said he had no technical knowledge about the enterprises and once made an investment in oil on "a hunch."

He made the oil investment, he said, as a result of a casual conversation he had in a barber shop with Frank Erickson, reputed leader of a $12,500,000-a-year bookmaking empire. Erickson now is serving a two-year jail sentence on bookmaking charges.

Rudolph Halley, the committee's chief counsel, asked if it were "just a blind investment."

Costello: Yes.

Halley: You were playing a hunch?

Costello: Yes.

Dewey Extended Second Invitation

Kefauver Renews Bid to Have Governor Come to New York

New York, March 21 (AP)—Senate crime investigators today issued a second invitation to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to testify before them about gambling at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Dewey has brushed aside a previous invitation, suggesting instead that the Senators come to the State Capitol at Albany to hear his views. But the committee rejected this idea.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), committee chairman, renewed the committee's invitation at the opening of the final and eighth day of the sensation-packed New York public hearings.

"It is unfortunate that Governor Dewey has not seen fit to come down and give us any information he might have," Kefauver commented.

He added that it wasn't a practice of the committee to command governors to appear, so he said the committee wished to say again it hoped Dewey will show up for subsequent hearings in Washington.

'Impossible to Go'

The Tennessee Senator said the committee "appreciates greatly" that it was invited to come to Albany but that "it is manifestly impossible for us to go."

He said the committee will be holding hearings in Washington the later part of this week and the first of next.

Last week, the committee heard testimony about wide-open gambling at the fashionable horse racing and resort area at Saratoga, and it was then Dewey's appearance was suggested.

Kefauver said the committee felt "the Saratoga matter" should be cleared up by Dewey.

When Dewey announced his decision yesterday, Sen. Lester Hunt (D-Wyo.) had remarked wryly that "it's just as far from New York to Albany as it is from Albany to New York."

Acheson Says U. S. Seeks Allies' View On Crossing 38th

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the United States wants a common point of view with its allies on the 38th Parallel problem. But he said no new authority is required for United Nations military forces to cross the old boundary between North and South Korea.

Acheson told a news conference the U. S. government is consulting with other nations having troops in Korea, is studying the situation closely, and working on it with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command.

He was asked whether on the political level there was any necessity for new authority for crossing the parallel. He replied no—that there was no such necessity but that this was a matter on which a common point of view is desired.

He thus drew a sharp distinction between MacArthur's authority and the practical question of what MacArthur is doing about that authority.

Diplomatic authorities had told reporters earlier that the U.N. command in Korea had ample authority to cross the 38th Parallel as military necessity required.

Budget-Cutters Cite Their Trimming of HST Requests

Washington, March 21 (AP)—House budget-cutters cited a perfect batting average today as evidence of a firm intent to trim down Presidents Truman's $71,600,000,000 budget.

Cuts tentatively voted yesterday however, were on relatively minor items.

The budget got its first test of the 82nd Congress when the House started consideration of a $2,921,600,000 bill financing the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The self-styled "economy bloc" composed of most Republicans and a large group of southern Democrats took three rapid shots at the bill and scored three direct hits.

On each of the first three items considered, the House applied reductions below those recommended by its Appropriations Committee.

The bill's handlers then forced a delay in further consideration until today, when the House hopes to dispose of the scores of other allotments making up the bill's today.

None of the cuts made yesterday by standing votes was large, but the three together amounted to $898,000 and when the House

McClellan Suggests Truman Withdraw Disputed RFC Plan

Congress, He Says, Should Work Out Problem Regarding Fate of Agency

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) of the Senate Expenditures Committee proposed today that President Truman withdraw temporarily his hotly disputed plan to revamp the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

He said Congress should be allowed to work out its own solution to the fate of RFC, huge government lending agency. A Senate banking subcommittee contends the RFC has fallen under the control of an influence ring with White House contacts.

McClellan made his suggestion as his committee opened public hearings on the President's proposal to abolish the five-man RFC board of directors and put the agency under a single administrator.

"This plan should be withdrawn temporarily," McClellan said.

The hearings before McClellan's committee was the opening phase of a fight by senators seeking to abolish RFC.

Their Announced Goals

Their announced goals are to (a) beat down the President's proposal to reorganize the controversy-ridden government lending agency, and (b) go on, then, to abolish it.

In advance of hearings before the Senate Expenditures Committee, Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) told a reporter: "The reorganization plan appears in some danger of being defeated because of growing sentiment for complete abolition of RFC."

Foes of Mr. Truman's plan to wipe out the RFC's five man board of directors and install a one man administrator in their place, had the first inning before McClellan's committee. He declined to express his personal views on the proposal.

Senator Hendrickson (R.-N.J.), the scheduled lead-off witness, told a reporter he would argue that RFC has lost the public's confidence as a result of the report by a Senate Banking Subcommittee that an influence clique with White House contacts has dominated its affairs.

Jibes With Committee

Hendrickson's announced stand jibes with the position of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which has called for rejection of the reorganization plan and liquidation of RFC.

The House G.O.P. Policy Committe took the same stand, but the House refused to go along with a move to block the proposed reorganization. It is due to go into effect April 20 unless the Senate vetoes it.

Actually, a majority of the House members voting disapproved of the RFC Reorganization Plan. But the law under which Mr. Truman proposed it requires a majority of all members—49 in the Senate, 218 in the House—for rejection of a reorganization move. The House vote was 18 short.

The subcommittee which has been investigating RFC has agreed to continue its probe indefinitely. Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) who heads the committee says he plans to testify later in support of the President's proposal to replace the RFC Board with a single man. He insists the nation needs such an agency and should not abolish it.

Democrats Might Accept Proposal By Senator Ives

Amendment Is Relative to Troops Resolution, Would Request Consultation

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Democratic leaders indicated today they might accept a proposal by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) to spell out future congressional action on sending troops to Europe.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters he is studying Ives' proposed amendment to a pending troops resolution.

It would approve the sending of four more U. S. divisions to join two already assigned to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international command.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said in a Senate speech yesterday he has it on "high authority" that U. S. contributions would eventually amount to 15 divisions. Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said he never heard any such thing.

Consultation Is Point

Ives' amendment would request the President to consult with the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees of both Houses about future assignments. If the majority of lawmakers on the committees disagreed with the plans, they could recommend congressional action.

Connally said he personally finds the amendment acceptable as a substitute for a provision of two pending troops resolutions which call merely for "congressional approval" of future ground force assignments.

One of the resolutions requires only Senate action. Another, to be taken up immediately afterward, needs two-House action to become effective. Both are requests—not commands—to the President for future cooperation with the lawmakers on the issue.

There seemed little likelihood that the Senate would get down to voting on the first of the resolutions much before April 2. The Senate expects to take an Easter recess from Thursday night until Monday.

Big Strike Wave Hits France; Rail Walkout Is Possibility

Paris, March 21 (AP)—A mounting strike wave rolled through France today, threatening to affect almost everyone in the nation. A near-general railway walkout appeared the most alarming immediate possibility.

Premier Henri Queuille warned that the strikes, all pressing wage increase demands, "may develop into a veritable attempt on the life of the country."

Most of the stoppages were aimed directly at the government, by far France's biggest employer.

Unions of all political alignments were taking part, reflecting widespread discontent with rapidly rising prices and the cabinet's hesitancy to raise wages.

The Communist-controlled General Federation of Labor (CGT), leader in many strikes of a political nature in the past, was again involved but was not always the leader.

In brief this was the situation:

RAILROADS — A near-nationwide strike appeared to be shaping up and a complete tieup of long distance travel was feared.

GAS — Gas pressure was low yesterday and is expected to continue low today.

ELECTRICITY — Power was expected to continue without interruption for domestic consumers but some factories already have been forced to shut down. Domestic needs can be supplied from hydroelectric sources.

The government put French sailors to work in the capital manning some public utility plants closed by the gas and electricity walkouts.

WATER SUPPLY — Some 1,500 water company workers in Paris began a 24-hour strike.

PARIS SUBWAY & BUSSES—The strike went into its sixth day with no solution in sight. The government has 1,100 military trucks and private busses operating but transportation within the city still was difficult.

CIVIL SERVANTS — Workers are demanding increases but no strike action has been considered.

METAL WORKING—Stoppages are possible today in the government-owned Renault automobile factories.

FUNERAL WORKERS—Started a 24-hour strike today.

Missionaries Freed

Maryknoll, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Two Maryknoll priests and two sisters arrested by Chinese Communists last December have been released and now are in Hong Kong, a cablegram received at Maryknoll headquarters disclosed today. They are: The Rev. Joseph E. Van Den Bogaard, Brooklyn, N. Y.; the Rev. Allan J. Dennie, Staten Island, N. Y., Sister Marcelline Crondin, Westbrook, Me., and Sister Paul Therese Sticka, New England, N. D.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The position of the treasury March 19: Net budget receipts, $743,302,021.60; budget expenditures, $118,345,448.76; cash balance, $6,292,931,073.83; customs receipts for month, $36,146,481.55; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $31,272,300,972.55; budget expenditures fiscal year, $28,435,774,152.19; budget surplus, $2,836,526,820.36; total debt, $254,955,630,691.19; decrease under previous day, $109,455,516.32; gold assets, $21,906,597,398.12.

Strength Now Stands at More Than 2,900,000 Men, He Says

Key West, Fla., March 21 (AP)—President Truman served notice today that the United States has doubled its armed forces since the invasion of Korea to resist, "still further Communist attacks against other free nations."

An exchange of telegrams between the President and Secretary of Defense Marshall disclosed that this country's uniformed forces now stand at more than 2,900,000, nine months after Korean Reds launched their unprovoked attack June 25.

Mr. Truman made the telegrams public shortly before leaving at 7:30 a. m (EST) for a visit to Fort Jefferson in the dry tortugas aboard the destroyed Sarsfield. He is due back at 5 p. m.

The President will fly back to Washington tomorrow to spend the Easter week-end with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret. He is scheduled to take off at 2 p. m. (EST) Thursday from Boca Chica Air Station, eight and a half miles from this naval submarine station.

New Warnings to Reds

Mr. Truman's announcement was a new warning to Soviet Russia that this country "in company with other free nations" is determined "to establish and maintain world peace."

He emphasized the speed with which this country is rebuilding its defenses by disclosing Marshall's telegram giving the size of this country's armed force as doubled what it was on June 25.

"For your information, the strength we have already attained—a total strength in excess of 2,900,000—was not attained in World War two until more than 21 months after our build-up started in June 1940, following the fall of France, and more than three months after Pearl Harbor," Marshall wired.

The President took unusual steps to seek world-wide disclosure of the progress of American defenses, and the exchange of telegrams was beamed around the

City Was Once Big Red Massing Point in South Korea; May Have Gone North

West Has Battle

Bitter Communist Fight Breaks Out North of Seoul

Tokyo, March 21 (AP) — An American tank force today rumbled into the former Chinese stronghold of Chunchon. It met only flag-waving Korean civilians.

The Chinese, who had made the central Korean road center their troop massing point in South Korea, apparently had withdrawn north of Parallel 38.

Chunchon is 8½ miles south of the Red Korean border.

It was from Chunchon that the Chinese mounted their two massive offensives in January and February against Wonju, deep in central Korea.

On the western front, South Korean and American task forces ranging up the historic invasion route of Korea bumped into bitter Communist resistance north of Seoul.

An American tank patrol on the road to Uijongbu ran into a heavy mine field.

"The small arms and mortar fire were so intense that it was impossible for the men to leave the tanks and remove the mines," an operations officer said.

Bradshaw Gives Report

On the east coast South Korean units were officially placed within 8½ miles of the old border between North and South Korea. Patrols may have reached or crossed the imaginary line.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the central front that United Nations troops were unopposed by the vanishing enemy. He said armored patrols were probing the area between the main allied lines and Parallel 38.

Earlier reports placed American units five miles south of Chunchon.

From Eighth Army Headquarters A.P. Correspondent Leif Erickson reported: "In pulling back from Chunchon, the Chinese Communists apparently have withdrawn their main forces back north of the 38th Parallel."

On the east-central front, American artillery and planes decimated a small enemy concentration forming for an attack northwest of Pangam. About half the 200 Reds were killed.

Won't Regain Initiative

A British general told Eighth Army correspondents the Reds would not regain the initiative in Korea. Lt. Gen. Richard Nelson Gale, director general of training in the British Army, said the U.N. forces are slowly and methodically pursuing their own course.

He did not say whether the allies planned to cross the politically significant border, but said British troops in the Eighth Army would carry out any orders given them.

Erickson reported fresh Chinese troops were digging in on the western front north of Seoul. This may indicate the Reds are trying to slow down or halt the allied advance up the center by posing a serious threat on the U.N.'s western flank.

The Eighth Army described the Americans south of Chuchon as "holding elements"—a task force strong enough to withstand a counterattack. They were over the crest of mountain ridges ringing the Chunchon valley on the south.

More Important Than Seoul

Chunchon was a more important objective than Seoul in the Eighth Army offensive launched one month ago. At that time the Reds were just outside Wonju and Chechon, some 40 miles to the south.

The allies reoccupied Seoul March 14.

The Chinese and Red Koreans appear to be north of the border on the eastern front and withdrawing behind it on the central front.

But on the western front, a fresh Chinese Army corps, the 26th, has moved into position about 30 miles northeast of the battered old south Korean capital. It was screening the withdrawal of other Red troops.

This shift of force, Allied officers said, may be the start of a

McClellan Suggests Truman Withdraw Disputed RFC Plan

Congress, He Says, Should Work Out Problem Regarding Fate of Agency

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) of the Senate Expenditures Committee proposed today that President Truman withdraw temporarily his hotly disputed plan to revamp the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

He said Congress should be allowed to work out its own solution to the fate of RFC, huge government lending agency. A Senate banking subcommittee contends the RFC has fallen under the control of an influence ring with White House contacts.

McClellan made his suggestion as his committee opened public hearings on the President's proposal to abolish the five-man RFC board of directors and put the agency under a single administrator.

"This plan should be withdrawn temporarily," McClellan said.

The hearings before McClellan's committee was the opening phase of a fight by senators seeking to abolish RFC.

Their Announced Goals

Their announced goals are to (a) beat down the President's proposal to reorganize the controversy-ridden government lending agency, and (b) go on, then, to abolish it.

In advance of hearings before the Senate Expenditures Committee, Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) told a reporter: "The reorganization plan appears in some danger of being defeated because of growing sentiment for complete abolition of RFC."

Foes of Mr. Truman's plan to wipe out the RFC's five man board of directors and install a one man administrator in their place, had the first inning before McClellan's committee. He declined to express his personal views on the proposal.

Senator Hendrickson (R.-N.J.), the scheduled lead-off witness, told a reporter he would argue that RFC has lost the public's confidence as a result of the report by a Senate Banking Subcommittee that an influence clique with White House contacts has dominated its affairs.

Jibes With Committee

Hendrickson's announced stand jibes with the position of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which has called for rejection of the reorganization plan and liquidation of RFC.

The House G.O.P. Policy Committe took the same stand, but the House refused to go along with a move to block the proposed reorganization. It is due to go into effect April 20 unless the Senate vetoes it.

Actually, a majority of the House members voting disapproved of the RFC Reorganization Plan. But the law under which Mr. Truman proposed it requires a majority of all members—49 in the Senate, 218 in the House—for rejection of a reorganization move. The House vote was 18 short.

The subcommittee which has been investigating RFC has agreed to continue its probe indefinitely. Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) who heads the committee says he plans to testify later in support of the President's proposal to replace the RFC Board with a single man. He insists the nation needs such an agency and should not abolish it.

Democrats Might Accept Proposal By Senator Ives

Amendment Is Relative to Troops Resolution, Would Request Consultation

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Democratic leaders indicated today they might accept a proposal by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) to spell out future congressional action on sending troops to Europe.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters he is studying Ives' proposed amendment to a pending troops resolution.

It would approve the sending of four more U. S. divisions to join two already assigned to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international command.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said in a Senate speech yesterday he has it on "high authority" that U. S. contributions would eventually amount to 15 divisions. Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said he never heard any such thing.

Consultation Is Point

Ives' amendment would request the President to consult with the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees of both Houses about future assignments. If the majority of lawmakers on the committees disagreed with the plans, they could recommend congressional action.

Connally said he personally finds the amendment acceptable as a substitute for a provision of two pending troops resolutions which call merely for "congressional approval" of future ground force assignments.

One of the resolutions requires only Senate action. Another, to be taken up immediately afterward, needs two-House action to become effective. Both are requests—not commands—to the President for future cooperation with the lawmakers on the issue.

There seemed little likelihood that the Senate would get down to voting on the first of the resolutions much before April 2. The Senate expects to take an Easter recess from Thursday night until Monday.

Big Strike Wave Hits France; Rail Walkout Is Possibility

Paris, March 21 (AP)—A mounting strike wave rolled through France today, threatening to affect almost everyone in the nation. A near-general railway walkout appeared the most alarming immediate possibility.

Premier Henri Queuille warned that the strikes, all pressing wage increase demands, "may develop into a veritable attempt on the life of the country."

Most of the stoppages were aimed directly at the government, by far France's biggest employer.

Unions of all political alignments were taking part, reflecting widespread discontent with rapidly rising prices and the cabinet's hesitancy to raise wages.

The Communist-controlled General Federation of Labor (CGT), leader in many strikes of a political nature in the past, was again involved but was not always the leader.

In brief this was the situation:

RAILROADS — A near-nationwide strike appeared to be shaping up and a complete tieup of long distance travel was feared.

GAS — Gas pressure was low yesterday and is expected to continue low today.

ELECTRICITY — Power was expected to continue without interruption for domestic consumers but some factories already have been forced to shut down. Domestic needs can be supplied from hydroelectric sources.

The government put French sailors to work in the capital manning some public utility plants closed by the gas and electricity walkouts.

WATER SUPPLY — Some 1,500 water company workers in Paris began a 24-hour strike.

PARIS SUBWAY & BUSSES—The strike went into its sixth day with no solution in sight. The government has 1,100 military trucks and private busses operating but transportation within the city still was difficult.

CIVIL SERVANTS — Workers are demanding increases but no strike action has been considered.

METAL WORKING—Stoppages are possible today in the government-owned Renault automobile factories.

FUNERAL WORKERS—Started a 24-hour strike today.

Missionaries Freed

Maryknoll, N. Washington, March 21 (AP)—The position of the treasury March 19: Net budget receipts, $743,302,021.60; budget expenditures, $118,345,448.76; cash balance, $6,292,931,073.83; customs receipts for month, $36,146,481.55; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $31,272,300,972.55; budget expenditures fiscal year, $28,435,774,152.19; budget surplus, $2,836,526,820.36; total debt, $254,955,630,691.19; decrease under previous day, $109,455,516.32; gold assets, $21,906,397,398.12.

Costello Defies Committee Fourth Time on Net Worth

Dewey Extended Second Invitation

Kefauver Renews Bid to Have Governor Come to New York

New York, March 21 (AP)—Senate crime investigators today issued a second invitation to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to testify before them about gambling at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Dewey has brushed aside a previous invitation, suggesting instead that the Senators come to the State Capitol at Albany to hear his views. But the committee rejected this idea.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), committee chairman, renewed the committee's invitation at the opening of the final and eighth day of the sensation-packed New York public hearings.

"It is unfortunate that Governor Dewey has not seen fit to come down and give us any information he might have," Kefauver commented.

He added that it wasn't a practice of the committee to command governors to appear, so he said the committee wished to say again it hoped Dewey will show up for subsequent hearings in Washington.

'Impossible to Go'

The Tennessee Senator said the committee "appreciates greatly" that it was invited to come to Albany but that "it is manifestly impossible for us to go."

He said the committee will be holding hearings in Washington the later part of this week and the first of next.

Last week, the committee heard testimony about wide-open gambling at the fashionable horse racing and resort area at Saratoga, and it was then Dewey's appearance was suggested.

Kefauver said the committee felt "the Saratoga matter" should be cleared up by Dewey.

When Dewey announced his decision yesterday, Sen. Lester Hunt (D-Wyo.) had remarked wryly that "it's just as far from New York to Albany as it is from Albany to New York."

Cook Is Sentenced

Oklahoma City, March 21 (AP)—Admitted slayer William E. Cook, Jr., today was sentenced to terms totaling 300 years in "Alcatraz or another safe prison where he has no chance to escape" for the slaying of the five members of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill.

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Movie actor Larry Parks said today he was a Communist 10 years ago but later quit the party. Parks was the first witness in a renewed hunt by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Gambler Tells Senate Group It Has No Right to This Information

New York, March 21 (AP)—Underworld boss Frank Costello today defied Senate crime investigators for the fourth time in their efforts to find out his net worth. He said he wouldn't answer the question.

With the same sullen stubbornness he has displayed when the matter came up previously, Costello said the committee was asking for information to which it had no right.

"I refused before," Costello said. "I'm not going to answer that question."

The gambler, labeled by the committee as head of a national crime syndicate, pictured himself to the committee as now engaged in purely legitimate business.

And he said he wasn't going to talk about what assets he has.

Says He's Businessman

Costello pictured himself before the committee as a businessman engaged in various enterprises—including jet broilers.

He said he had no technical knowledge about the enterprises and once made an investment in oil on "a hunch."

He made the oil investment, he said, as a result of a casual conversation he had in a barber shop with Frank Erickson, reputed leader of a $12,500,000-a-year bookmaking empire. Erickson now is serving a two-year jail sentence on bookmaking charges.

Rudolph Halley, the committee's chief counsel, asked if it were "just a blind investment."

Costello: Yes.

Halley: You were playing a hunch?

Costello: Yes.

No 'Facts or Reports'

The witness said he received no "facts or reports" but that he

Acheson Says U. S. Seeks Allies' View On Crossing 38th

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the United States wants a common point of view with its allies on the 38th Parallel problem. But he said no new authority is required for United Nations military forces to cross the old boundary between North and South Korea.

Acheson told a news conference the U. S. government is consulting with other nations having troops in Korea, is studying the situation closely, and working on it with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command.

He was asked whether on the political level there was any necessity for new authority for crossing the parallel. He replied no—that there was no such necessity but that this was a matter on which a common point of view is desired.

He thus drew a sharp distinction between MacArthur's authority and the practical question of what MacArthur is doing about that authority.

Diplomatic authorities had told reporters earlier that the U.N. command in Korea had ample authority to cross the 38th Parallel as military necessity required.

Budget-Cutters Cite Their Trimming of HST Requests

Washington, March 21 (AP)—House budget-cutters cited a perfect batting average today as evidence of a firm intent to trim down Presidents Truman's $71,600,000,000 budget.

Cuts tentatively voted yesterday however, were on relatively minor items.

The budget got its first test of the 82nd Congress when the House started consideration of a $2,921,600,000 bill financing the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The self-styled "economy bloc" composed of most Republicans and a large group of southern Democrats took three rapid shots at the bill and scored three direct hits.

On each of the first three items considered, the House applied reductions below those recommended by its Appropriations Committee.

The bill's handlers then forced a delay in further consideration until today, when the House hopes to dispose of the scores of other allotments making up the bill's today.

None of the cuts made yesterday by standing votes was large, but the three together amounted to $898,000 and when the House

Labor Raps Congress on Defense Act

'Privileges' Cited

Deferred to Rich, They Say, at Expense of Poor

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The heads of the AFL and the CIO asserted today that Congress is to blame for the mobilization squabble because it enacted a weak defense production act.

AFL President William Green, addressing a conference of CIO, AFL, machinists and rail union officials at a precedent-making nationwide rally, said Congress had "failed the people."

"In adopting the defense production act last year," Green said in a prepared speech, "Congress went out of its way to lard the law with special privilege for business interests. Under that law, which expires on June 30, it is virtually impossible to stabilize the cost of living.

"In deference to the real estate lobby, Congress acted to decontrol rents. In obedience to the financial interests of the nation, it adopted tax laws that soak the poor and spare the rich.

'Became Intimidated'

"Second, the administration became intimidated by the reactionary coalition that rules the roost in Congress. Apparently, it decided to appease Congress in order to get some cooperation from Congress.

"This policy of appeasement . . . resulted in the appointment of big business executives to almost every significant position in defense agencies.

"The results speak for themselves. Not a single recommendation by labor representatives in the defense program was adopted. Our views were either ignored, or the exact opposite of our proposals was put into effect. * * *

"We decided, therefore, to take a drastic step. We voted unanimously for the withdrawal of labor representatives from any defense agencies in which they were serving. We felt that this was the only way we could effectively impress upon the American people the shocking failures and the gross inequities of defense policies."

Group Aid Sought

The labor meetings here yesterday and today are aimed at enlisting the support of community groups, through the local and state leaders attending, behind the United Labor Policy Committee's fight.

C.I.O. President Philip Murray said the management groups which opposed giving a newly-formed wage stabilization board power to settle all kinds of disputes wanted to force workers "into a narrow, blind alley."

"On the one side: a rigid, unbending wage formula," Murray said. "On the other side, the malicious, provocative provisions of the Taft-Hartley anti-labor law."

Murray said a coalition in Congress produced "an inefficient specimen of law" in the defense production act.

The labor groups have withdrawn from the government agencies, including the wage stabilization board, as a gesture of protest. They were motivated directly by

Village Voters Elect Officials; Holmes Winner

Village elections in Ellenville and Saugerties Tuesday brought out record voting, in Saugerties a total of 1,584 votes were cast and in Ellenville 1,534 voters came to the polling place. In Saugerties voting machines were used for the first time in an election for mayor and the results were known within a few minutes after the polls closed. Two years ago it was after 2:30 o'clock in the morning before the ballots were counted and the results known.

In Saugerties Mayor George P. Holmes was re-elected while in Ellenville, where a very lively campaign had been waged, Mayor Henry L. Schipp was defeated by Frank Muller, editor of the Ellenville Journal. The entire Republican ticket was elected in Ellenville. In Saugerties, where the party designations are Taxpayers Party and Citizens Protective Party, the Taxpayers' party candidates swept the board for re-election, Mayor Holmes defeating his opponent, Herman Snyder by a vote of 1162 to 396. Muller won in Ellenville by a 992 to 502 vote.

New Paltz, Pine Hill

Both in New Paltz and in Pine Hill there was little interest in the election, nominations at the caucuses in those villages being tantamount to election. In New Paltz there was considerable interest at the caucus but Mayor Robert Reid and Dr. Roland Will and Gregory Rheude, trustees, were nominated and their election was without opposition. The turnout in New Paltz was small yesterday at the election. In Pine Hill only about 22 turned out to vote and Charles Griffin was re-elected mayor and Conrad Smith elected trustee on the Republican ticket. The Democratic party had no ticket.

Mayor Holmes of Saugerties ran on a policy supported by the workers and homeowners of the village and an active campaign was conducted by poth parties. The results in Saugerties was:

Taxpayers' Party: Mayor Holmes 1162. Trustees Elton Johnson 995, Jesse Van Gaasbeck 993, Frank Short 953.

Citizens Protective Party: Herman Snyder for mayor 396. Charles Granwehr for trustee 463. Myron Banks for trustee 544. Joseph Sweeney for trustee 612. Total vote cast 1584, this being one of the largest votes cast in village history.

Ellenville Voting

In Ellenville where 1534 votes were cast, some 300 above the usual vote and where 135 votes were cast in the first hour of the election at Hunt Memorial, the figures were:

Republican party: Frank Muller, mayor, 993. Edward Christiana for trustee, 887 and Sol Steinhoff for trustee 849 votes.

Democratic party: Mayor Henry L. Schipp 502. Cyrus DePuy, trustee, 508, and Louis N. Zipperman, present village trustee, 668.

Mayor-elect Muller has served the village of Ellenville as a trustee but was defeated for re-election in 1949.

Vaughn Is Victor

Incumbent Mayor J. W. Vaughn was returned to office by Rosendale voters with a 169 to 103 vote victory over his opponent, Morris DeWitt.

In other contests, John J. Mooney defeated Robert Esposito for the post as trustee for a two-year term by 155 to 115.

Everett Diehl defeated Christopher Raisner as trustee for a one year term by 167 to 96.

President Says U. S. Doubles Armed Forces Since June 25

Price Stabilizer Says 'Early Break' Will Come; Office Will Issue Regulations About Foods

Boston, March 21 (AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. Di Salle said yesterday Americans bought $5 billion worth of nothing in 1950, due to rising prices—but he forecast an early break in consumer prices.

He said he previously had "felt that the break in prices was still months away. Now I feel justified in moving up that schedule."

Di Salle said also his office will issue in the near future "regulations for wholesale and retail food distributors covering 60 per cent of the items in the average family's market basket, and we are at work on a regulation establishing ceilings for all kinds of manufactured products."

In an address before the Industrial Conference Board, he said "prices on manufactured goods will be developed from a pre-Korean period, with provision for reflecting increases in manufacturing costs since that base period."

Both food and manufacturers regulations, he said, would provide for rollbacks where markups had been "higher than customary margins."

Di Salle told the non-profit research organization for industrial and economic fact-finding that a drop in prices would be reflected in retail stores in several weeks.

Bitter Communist Fight Breaks Out North of Seoul

Tokyo, March 21 (AP) — An American tank force today rumbled into the former Chinese stronghold of Chunchon. It met only flag-waving Korean civilians.

The Chinese, who had made the central Korean road center their troop massing point in South Korea, apparently had withdrawn north of Parallel 38.

On the east coast South Korean units were officially placed within 8½ miles of the old border between North and South Korea. Patrols may have reached or crossed the imaginary line.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the central front that United Nations troops were unopposed by the vanishing enemy. He said armored patrols were probing the area between the main allied lines and Parallel 38.

Earlier reports placed American units five miles south of Chunchon.

From Eighth Army Headquarters A.P. Correspondent Leif Erickson reported: "In pulling back from Chunchon, the Chinese Communists apparently have withdrawn their main forces back north of the 38th Parallel."

On the east-central front, American artillery and planes decimated a small enemy concentration forming for an attack northwest of Pangam. About half the 200 Reds were killed.

Chunchon was a more important objective than Seoul in the Eighth Army offensive launched one month ago. At that time the Reds were just outside Wonju and Chechon, some 40 miles to the south.

The allies reoccupied Seoul March 14.

The Chinese and Red Koreans appear to be north of the border on the eastern front and withdrawing behind it on the central front.

He said he had no technical knowledge about the enterprises and once made an investment in oil on "a hunch."

He made the oil investment, he said, as a result of a casual conversation he had in a barber shop with Frank Erickson, reputed leader of a $12,500,000-a-year bookmaking empire. Erickson now is serving a two-year jail sentence on bookmaking charges.

Rudolph Halley, the committee's chief counsel, asked if it were "just a blind investment."

Costello: Yes.

Halley: You were playing a hunch?

Costello: Yes.

Dewey Extended Second Invitation

Kefauver Renews Bid to Have Governor Come to New York

New York, March 21 (AP)—Senate crime investigators today issued a second invitation to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to testify before them about gambling at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Dewey has brushed aside a previous invitation, suggesting instead that the Senators come to the State Capitol at Albany to hear his views. But the committee rejected this idea.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), committee chairman, renewed the committee's invitation at the opening of the final and eighth day of the sensation-packed New York public hearings.

"It is unfortunate that Governor Dewey has not seen fit to come down and give us any information he might have," Kefauver commented.

He added that it wasn't a practice of the committee to command governors to appear, so he said the committee wished to say again it hoped Dewey will show up for subsequent hearings in Washington.

'Impossible to Go'

The Tennessee Senator said the committee "appreciates greatly" that it was invited to come to Albany but that "it is manifestly impossible for us to go."

He said the committee will be holding hearings in Washington the later part of this week and the first of next.

Last week, the committee heard testimony about wide-open gambling at the fashionable horse racing and resort area at Saratoga, and it was then Dewey's appearance was suggested.

Kefauver said the committee felt "the Saratoga matter" should be cleared up by Dewey.

When Dewey announced his decision yesterday, Sen. Lester Hunt (D-Wyo.) had remarked wryly that "it's just as far from New York to Albany as it is from Albany to New York."

Cook Is Sentenced

Oklahoma City, March 21 (AP)—Admitted slayer William E. Cook, Jr., today was sentenced to terms totaling 300 years in "Alcatraz or another safe prison where he has no chance to escape" for the slaying of the five members of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill.

Parks Gives Testimony

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Movie actor Larry Parks said today he was a Communist 10 years ago but later quit the party. Parks was the first witness in a renewed hunt by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Acheson Says U. S. Seeks Allies' View On Crossing 38th

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the United States wants a common point of view with its allies on the 38th Parallel problem. But he said no new authority is required for United Nations military forces to cross the old boundary between North and South Korea.

Acheson told a news conference the U. S. government is consulting with other nations having troops in Korea, is studying the situation closely, and working on it with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command.

He was asked whether on the political level there was any necessity for new authority for crossing the parallel. He replied no—that there was no such necessity but that this was a matter on which a common point of view is desired.

He thus drew a sharp distinction between MacArthur's authority and the practical question of what MacArthur is doing about that authority.

Diplomatic authorities had told reporters earlier that the U.N. command in Korea had ample authority to cross the 38th Parallel as military necessity required.

Budget-Cutters Cite Their Trimming of HST Requests

Washington, March 21 (AP)—House budget-cutters cited a perfect batting average today as evidence of a firm intent to trim down Presidents Truman's $71,600,000,000 budget.

Cuts tentatively voted yesterday however, were on relatively minor items.

The budget got its first test of the 82nd Congress when the House started consideration of a $2,921,600,000 bill financing the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The self-styled "economy bloc" composed of most Republicans and a large group of southern Democrats took three rapid shots at the bill and scored three direct hits.

On each of the first three items considered, the House applied reductions below those recommended by its Appropriations Committee.

The bill's handlers then forced a delay in further consideration until today, when the House hopes to dispose of the scores of other allotments making up the bill's today.

None of the cuts made yesterday by standing votes was large, but the three together amounted to $898,000 and when the House

McClellan Suggests Truman Withdraw Disputed RFC Plan

Congress, He Says, Should Work Out Problem Regarding Fate of Agency

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) of the Senate Expenditures Committee proposed today that President Truman withdraw temporarily his hotly disputed plan to revamp the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

He said Congress should be allowed to work out its own solution to the fate of RFC, huge government lending agency. A Senate banking subcommittee contends the RFC has fallen under the control of an influence ring with White House contacts.

McClellan made his suggestion as his committee opened public hearings on the President's proposal to abolish the five-man RFC board of directors and put the agency under a single administrator.

"This plan should be withdrawn temporarily," McClellan said.

The hearings before McClellan's committee was the opening phase of a fight by senators seeking to abolish RFC.

Their Announced Goals

Their announced goals are to (a) beat down the President's proposal to reorganize the controversy-ridden government lending agency, and (b) go on, then, to abolish it.

In advance of hearings before the Senate Expenditures Committee, Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) told a reporter: "The reorganization plan appears in some danger of being defeated because of growing sentiment for complete abolition of RFC."

Foes of Mr. Truman's plan to wipe out the RFC's five man board of directors and install a one man administrator in their place, had the first inning before McClellan's committee. He declined to express his personal views on the proposal.

Senator Hendrickson (R.-N.J.), the scheduled lead-off witness, told a reporter he would argue that RFC has lost the public's confidence as a result of the report by a Senate Banking Subcommittee that an influence clique with White House contacts has dominated its affairs.

Jibes With Committee

Hendrickson's announced stand jibes with the position of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which has called for rejection of the reorganization plan and liquidation of RFC.

The House G.O.P. Policy Committe took the same stand, but the House refused to go along with a move to block the proposed reorganization. It is due to go into effect April 20 unless the Senate vetoes it.

Actually, a majority of the House members voting disapproved of the RFC Reorganization Plan. But the law under which Mr. Truman proposed it requires a majority of all members—49 in the Senate, 218 in the House—for rejection of a reorganization move. The House vote was 18 short.

The subcommittee which has been investigating RFC has agreed to continue its probe indefinitely. Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) who heads the committee says he plans to testify later in support of the President's proposal to replace the RFC Board with a single man. He insists the nation needs such an agency and should not abolish it.

Freed of Charges

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Frederick Vanderbilt Field, New York millionaire, was freed today of contempt of Congress charges.

Democrats Might Accept Proposal By Senator Ives

Amendment Is Relative to Troops Resolution, Would Request Consultation

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Democratic leaders indicated today they might accept a proposal by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) to spell out future congressional action on sending troops to Europe.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters he is studying Ives' proposed amendment to a pending troops resolution.

It would approve the sending of four more U. S. divisions to join two already assigned to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international command.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said in a Senate speech yesterday he has it on "high authority" that U. S. contributions would eventually amount to 15 divisions. Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said he never heard any such thing.

Consultation Is Point

Ives' amendment would request the President to consult with the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees of both Houses about future assignments. If the majority of lawmakers on the committees disagreed with the plans, they could recommend congressional action.

Connally said he personally finds the amendment acceptable as a substitute for a provision of two pending troops resolutions which call merely for "congressional approval" of future ground force assignments.

One of the resolutions requires only Senate action. Another, to be taken up immediately afterward, needs two-House action to become effective. Both are requests—not commands—to the President for future cooperation with the lawmakers on the issue.

There seemed little likelihood that the Senate would get down to voting on the first of the resolutions much before April 2. The Senate expects to take an Easter recess from Thursday night until Monday.

Big Strike Wave Hits France; Rail Walkout Is Possibility

Paris, March 21 (AP)—A mounting strike wave rolled through France today, threatening to affect almost everyone in the nation. A near-general railway walkout appeared the most alarming immediate possibility.

Premier Henri Queuille warned that the strikes, all pressing wage increase demands, "may develop into a veritable attempt on the life of the country."

Most of the stoppages were aimed directly at the government, by far France's biggest employer.

Unions of all political alignments were taking part, reflecting widespread discontent with rapidly rising prices and the cabinet's hesitancy to raise wages.

The Communist-controlled General Federation of Labor (CGT), leader in many strikes of a political nature in the past, was again involved but was not always the leader.

In brief this was the situation:

RAILROADS — A near-nationwide strike appeared to be shaping up and a complete tieup of long distance travel was feared.

GAS — Gas pressure was low yesterday and is expected to continue low today.

ELECTRICITY — Power was expected to continue without interruption for domestic consumers but some factories already have been forced to shut down. Domestic needs can be supplied from hydroelectric sources.

The government put French sailors to work in the capital manning some public utility plants closed by the gas and electricity walkouts.

WATER SUPPLY — Some 1,500 water company workers in Paris began a 24-hour strike.

PARIS SUBWAY & BUSSES—The strike went into its sixth day with no solution in sight. The government has 1,100 military trucks and private busses operating but transportation within the city still was difficult.

CIVIL SERVANTS — Workers are demanding increases but no strike action has been considered.

METAL WORKING—Stoppages are possible today in the government-owned Renault automobile factories.

FUNERAL WORKERS—Started a 24-hour strike today.

Orange College Ready to Present AgricultureCourse

The possibility of including an agricultural course in the curriculum of Orange County Community College was stressed by President Edwin H. Miner of the institution at the recent dinner meeting of the Ulster-Sullivan-Orange Holstein Club.

Approximately 60 members and guests of the organization attended the banquet in Goshen Methodist Church and heard Mr. Miner say that the college is ready to serve the practical needs of the community.

Referring to the lethargy of the American people, he emphasized "we are inclined to think that our government is already made and we have little connection with it. Because we didn't make it, we shrug our shoulders. However, those who formed our government were making only a beginning and the old structure, designed for an economic structure and social pattern of a hundred years ago, remains.

"Orange County Community College is not just another traditional conventional college. There is a fine excuse for its existence. Our county was at one time a leader in the educational field, but today it has the lowest number going on for higher education of any of the counties of New York state.

"Believing that one of the reasons was the expense of living away from home and travel expense, the college was formed to meet the need. It aims at helping each young person to find himself before leaving the college, to teach him to accept responsibility.

"The program gives (1) a maturity process, (2) learning the elements of communication, how to express oneself.

"A good business man is able to communicate and sell his ideas. It teaches applied psychology, getting people to do what one would like them to do. We need an idea of what our government is, what it stands for, and our relationship to it. We learn to live together and have respect for each other."

In answering questions relative to the proposed agricultural course, President Miner said that if the demand is sufficient, it will be established at Arden Farms, Goshen, with laboratory classes at the college in Middletown.

Executive Session Of Ulster W.C.T.U.

An executive session of the Ulster County Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Friday at the home of Mrs. James Swift of Woodside Place, Highland.

The session was led by Mrs. Lillie Shultis, county president, who began plans to have the unit represented with a booth at the annual Ulster county fair.

The following official report was released following the meeting:

A movement is afoot to secure a uniform time for the closing of drinking places. Reports of drinkers journeying to neighboring counties that keep later closing hours floods Ulster, via the bridge, with those who continue drinking and so prove causes of disturbances and accidents. The state law is to be studied and officials consulted.

Members of the unions are to be searching for a proper safe in which to store old records that keep coming to Mrs. Shultis. When the safe is found, it will be placed in the W.C.T.U. building in Ellenville, the Hunt Memorial Hall, where they will be secure to furnish data in years to come. The progress of the temperance movement can be traced through Ulster county secretary's books. Now, such records are scattered.

The president of the New Jersey W.C.T.U. delighted the women gathered in the Plattekill Church for the spring institute on May 19, 1950. So she is invited to be the speaker at the institute in Ellenville May 16, 1951. The inspiration received from the Highland executive provides the spirit in which to greet that coming institute, really a school of methods.

Condition Is Serious

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 21 (AP) — The condition of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was reported today as still serious although he had a comfortable day yesterday. Dr. A. B. Smith said yesterday Vandenberg was "a little more comfortable after a restful night." Vandenberg will be 67 tomorrow. He suffered a setback Feb. 26 in his convalescence from two tumor operations in the past 18 months.

MOST OF ALASKA "EXPENDABLE"—U.S. Army plans to defend only about one-quarter of Alaska in case of war with Russia, according to a reliable report. Newsmap above shows defense line (jagged symbol) running from naval base on Kodiak Island north along the territory's only railroad to Fairbanks. Nearly all the country's population of 126,000 persons lives in the so-called "hinterland" embraced by the line. Barren outlands (diagonal shading) are considered expendable. Top brass sees Alaska as a base from which fighter planes could intercept Russian bombers and, possibly, as a forward base for our own bombers.

WALLKILL

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rose Sheeley Post on Monday evening it was decided to hold a food sale at the Lester Terwilliger store on March 30 at 11 a. m. Mrs. Jason Auchmoody, chairman, announces that there will also be homemade clam chowder for sale and prospective customers should bring their own containers. The next regular meeting will be held in the Legion rooms on April 9. On March 15, the Auxiliary sponsored a Baked Ham Dinner in honor of the 32nd birth of the American Legion. Sixty-seven Legionnaires, Auxiliary women and their guests were served. A birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Edward M. Lown and a gift of $100 for the Legion building fund was presented to Legion Commander David Freer by the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Edgar Kaup. Dinner chairman was Mrs. Joseph Wickes, Mrs. Robert Terwilliger was in charge of the dining room. Following the dinner cards were played. Pinochle high scorers were Mrs. Hugh Galbraith, and Stanley Freer. Mrs. Everett Cameron and Charles Maley had low score. In bridge Joseph Cazimir and Mrs. Edward Masten were high scorers.

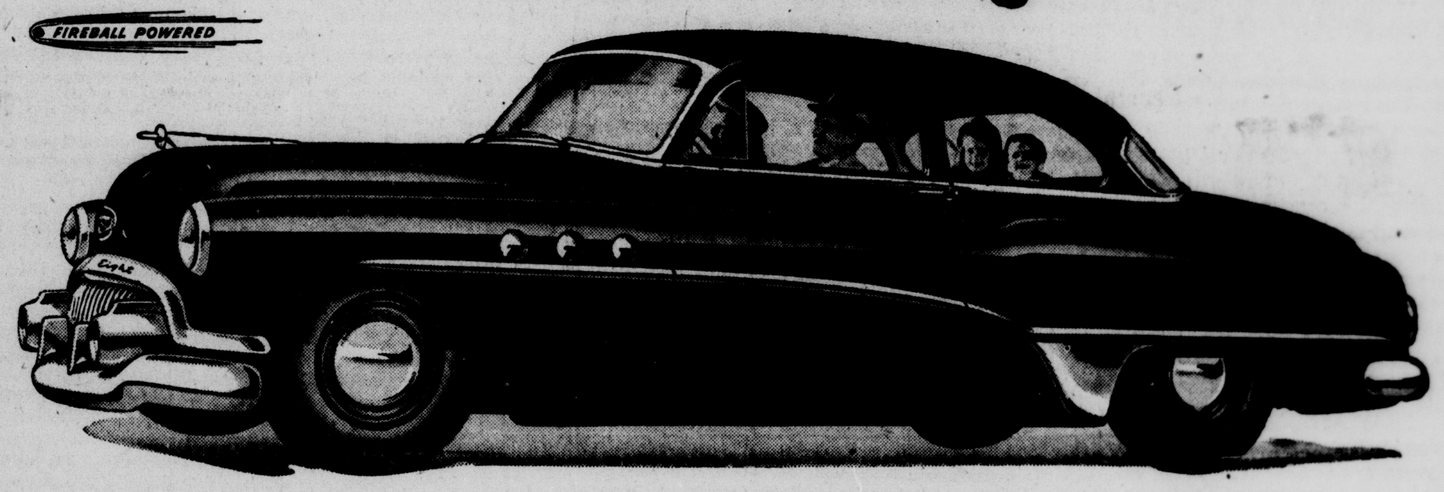
Powered for thrills - Priced for thrift!



HERE, packed in 3,615 nimble pounds and 204.8 inches of over-all length, is the car marvel of '51.

In the few short weeks since it started to roll off the assembly lines, it has written a bright new page in automotive history for the low-priced field.

What Buick engineers have done is come up with a brand-new high-style body—new in every contour and dimension.

They've designed a brand-new, weight-saving frame, exclusively for this SPECIAL.

Then they've added the power-packed F-263 Fireball engine—which was new in the 1950 SUPER—and just wait till you see what that does for this nimble performer.

There's a power-to-weight ratio that spells thrill and thrift in operation—at a first cost that's just a breath away from the lowest price level.

We'd like you to see and drive this newest Buick marvel—find out for yourself what a honey it is to handle, and what a cinch it is to buy. Why not drop in and see us the very first chance you get?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE*—saves strain on driver and car
FIREBALL POWER — high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE — steadies ride, improves driving control
4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES — hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
DREAMLINE STYLING — tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweep-spears on most models
Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, StepOn parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

BYPASS HIGHWAYS

Since the first highway bypasses were constructed, to carry itinerant through traffic around cities and towns instead of through them, there has been a controversy over their local effects. Travelers clamor for more of them, because a good bypass greatly reduces the strains and hazards of driving from one side of a city to the other. Locally there is generally a division of opinion when a bypass route is proposed.

The opposition comes chiefly from business and real estate people, who fear losses because of the diversion of traffic away from the business district. It seems a natural supposition that if the number of people passing through town drops there will be a corresponding drop in trade. Real estate values in a business district are based on trade and on the number of people passing a given location. The fear of loss from bypasses is readily understandable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, however, says that this reasoning is wrong. A bypass route to carry through traffic around a business district results in most cases, in more trade rather than less, according to a nationwide survey. The explanation is that when through traffic is taken off business streets, and off the main streets leading to business districts, people who are interested in trading find it easier to get into the business area. Apparently the amount of trade brought by itinerant traffic is less than the amount driven away by congestion.

Naturally this conclusion applies to trade as a whole, but not necessarily to a specific kind of business. Some kinds thrive on itinerant traffic; they of course must often move to the bypass. But the general conclusion indicated is that local business stands to gain more than it would lose by the building of bypass roads.

NEW ANTI-RED VOICE

Russian refugees in Western Germany are engaged in an attempt to reach the ears of Soviet troops in Austria and Germany, says a report from Frankfort. "Radio Free Russia," an unlicensed mobile broadcasting unit, has been operating since the middle of February.

An anti-Kremlin underground force known as the National Solidarists is said to be sponsoring the broadcasts, which are believed to have reached the westerly provinces of Russia under favorable atmospheric conditions. Attempts by the Soviet government to jam the broadcasts are defeated by the fact that the mechanism is flexible enough to change frequency when necessary. Naturally such changes also interfere with the building of an audience.

If, as has been suspected, Stalin is being plagued by internal dissension, such measures as these might increase it. Anything which might break down the morale of the Soviet armies and create further discontent among civilians would weaken the Russian internal structure, and would reduce the amount of attention and energy Moscow can devote to outside ambitions.

THE GREEN LIGHT

The confidence of pedestrians and motorists in the security of a green traffic signal is often misplaced. After a ten-month survey in Spokane, Washington, traffic engineers came to the conclusion that a pedestrian crossing the street with a green light is not necessarily safer than one going against a red light. The number struck on the green light, by motorists making turns, was almost equal to the number struck while crossing against the light or trying to beat the change.

The green light is not an "all clear" signal. It indicates the right of way; someone else may have the same light but a different direction in mind. Both walkers and drivers will improve their chances for old age by remembering this.

WORDS MADE MEANINGLESS

Another good word has gone wrong. This time "volunteer," which in the Communist dictionary has ceased to mean "act of one's own choice." Word comes from China that a group of teachers arrested as reactionaries have gone to Korea as volunteers. Under this meaning for the term, no doubt a robbery victim "voluntarily" hands over his wallet when a gun is stuck in his ribs.

"Democracy" and "liberty" are other good words which the Communists have transformed and defaced. Such alterations tend to make it as hard to communicate with a Communist as to talk to a person using an unknown language.

A second glance is said to be flattering. Or then again it may just be that the observer finds it difficult to believe his eyes the first time.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

WAR PREVENTION

Dean Acheson, in the course of his discussion before the Connally Committee, said:

"So our first purpose—and this is something we need to make absolutely clear to our friends in Europe—is to deter the aggressors from attacking Europe. Our primary concern is not how to win a war after it gets started, but how to prevent it, and how to help Europe stay free in the meantime."

This seems to me poor reasoning, because no nation can go to war without feeling confident that it can win, and when steps are taken to prevent a war, they must be such as would convince the party of the second part that war does not pay.

The learned secretary of state must have caught himself tripping, for he answers himself:

"There are three deterrent factors to be considered. One is the retaliatory power now in our possession—our capability of striking with air power against the centers of aggression. Another is the reserve power which helps to convince the Russians that they could not win in the end. And finally, there are the integrated forces in being of the North Atlantic treaty nations."

Then he goes on to talk about the third deterrent, which is the one he likes, but it is obviously a side issue if the first one is not fully achieved. That means that we must be armed to the hilt and have a huge army before we can convince the Russians that war will not pay. Therefore, it is necessary to assess our capacities and those of our allies and the will to fight of the entire group of 12 nations in the North Atlantic Alliance. Unless there is a keen will to fight among these countries, what is there to deter Soviet Russia?

Surely the United States, a nation of 153,000,000, cannot alone produce the strength to fight an empire of 800,000,000 even with our advantage of production. The problem then comes down to ratios: What is the share that each of the members of the North Atlantic Alliance will put up? Dean Acheson does not say.

But the secretary of state does say this:

"One reason why we cannot continue to rely on retaliatory air power as a sufficient deterrent is the effect of time. We have a substantial lead in air power and in atomic weapons. At the present moment, this may be the most powerful deterrent against aggression. But with the passage of time, even though we continue our advances in this field, the value of our lead diminishes."

Again, it is difficult to understand his reasoning. Why can we not maintain our "substantial lead in air power and in atomic weapons?" If, as he says, this has given us an advantage, why not keep the advantage?

The answer, of course, is that the more money we spend on ground forces, the less we shall have to spend on the airforce and atomic weapons. The supply of money is not unlimited. The 1951-1952 budget will probably run as high as $100,000,000,000. This comes during a period of distressing and frightening inflation.

The decision to use ground forces in Korea was an infantryman's error and has proved costly. Thus far, no evidence has been presented to Senator Connally's committee to prove that American ground forces are sufficient to deter Soviet Russia. Plenty of evidence has been prsented to establish that an American airforce is invaluable. I refer to General MacArthur's stalemate statement.

Dean Acheson's conclusion is:

"In other words, the best use we can make of our present advantage in retaliatory air power, is to move ahead under this protective shield to build the balanced collective forces in western Europe that will continue to deter aggression after our atomic advantage has been diminished."

If what he calls the "protective shield" is all that has deterred Russia thus far why does he not want to strengthen "the protective shield" but to substitute something else for it? This exercise in logic is hard to follow except that some men, having long lived with a good and faithful wife who helped to build the family fortune, discard the wife to spend her sacrifices upon some floozie. It is often done, but not with too much credit for the doer.

It is a serious matter for the country when the secretary of state speaks so casually about the expenditure of American lives.

That Body of Yours

DEALING WITH LIFE AND DEATH

A middle-aged man applied for more insurance in a company in which he already had a policy. The insurance agent gave him the rates for his age but he was afraid the insurance physician would not pass him because he was 25 to 30 pounds overweight. While many overweights are healthy and live to a good age, this is not usually the case.

Insurance companies, surgeons, anaesthetists and general physicians are all agreed that the overweight individuals die sooner, are poorer surgical risks for operation, take anaesthetic poorly, develop diabetes more readily, have more blood vessel and heart diseases and other illnesses than one of normal weight.

A distinguished research worker in nutrition states that his investigations bear out the fact "that corpulent or overweight persons owing to their greater suspectibility to harmful organisms and harmful wastes (bowel and kidneys) are more likely to contract disease than are lean persons.

Every man and woman needs some fat to act as reserve food in emergencies, insulate the nerves, and round out the form, the average amount needed being 15 to 25 pounds. But after this needed fat on and in the body (to hold the abdominal organs up in their proper places) has been acquired, every extra pound of fat added thereafter is a liability to health and to the life span. This does not mean that not to have this needed fat for the purposes noted above is an asset. What it means is that the extra or unneeded fat put on your body from eating more than you need, taking more sleep or rest than you need and not taking enough exercise to give a natural appetite, is a real danger.

Remember, we get the highest authoritative information on health and life span from life insurance companies. Insuring an overweight individual is such a risk that they have to refuse him a policy or make him pay a much higher rate for insurance than if he were of normal weight.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note: Drew Pearson is making a flying tour of the Middle East and Europe, surveying the world situation.)

Berlin—This is the extreme northern end of the iron curtain. I started this trip at the southern end where it begins, between Bulgaria and Turkey—a long line of barbed wire extending north—and have now reached the other end, where it isn't even barbed wire but fans out into the east zone of Berlin.

One of the most important conclusions I've reached on this trip is that Winston Churchill did the democratic world a disservice when he talked about the border between Russia and the western world as an iron curtain, because the border isn't as impervious as the word "iron" indicates. Not only is Stalin's curtain between the east and the west not even marked by barbed wire in many places, but it can be crossed fairly easily.

The border between Czechoslovakia and the American zone in Germany, for instance, can be crossed almost any night. In fact, it is crossed constantly by Germans who make their living smuggling goods back and forth.

The border bewteen east and west Germany is like a sieve while, in Berlin, thousands of people walk or ride back and forth daily between the Russian and American zones. I entered the Russian zone without even knowing I was in it and drove through several miles of its battered streets The only way you have of knowing you are in the Russian zone is through the signs on the streets which say: "You are now entering the democratic section of Berlin."

This fairly easy access into restricted areas behind the iron curtain raises one of the most important omissions on the part of the United States government—namely, why are we not doing more to influence the people on the other side of the curtain? Obviously the curtain was rung down by Stalin for only one reason: Because he fears intercourse between east and west—he knew contact with the modern marvels of capitalism would make it difficult to keep the Russian people happy under communism.

Therefore our best bet to head off war obviously is to go over the Kremlin's head and reach the Russian people and the satellite millions also forced to remain behind the curtain.

Eager for U. S. Information

How effectively this can be done and how eager the satellites are for information about the U.S.A. is shown right here in Berlin, where our State Department is doing its most effective job of propaganda through radio station RIAS. This station, which gets its abbreviated name from "radio in American sector," was originally started by the army but is now operated by three State Department radio men plus 600 Germans.

RIAS carries a regular schedule of radio entertainment not unlike the average American station with quiz programs having the highest hooper rating and musical cabaret shows second. Interspersed through all these programs, however, are telling wisecracks and political comment which nickle-nursing Congress John Taber of New York probably couldn't understand and wouldn't approve of but which have east Germans roaring with laughter—at the expense of Joe Stalin.

RIAS is so popular in eastern Germany that when the Soviet held its big youth meeting in Berlin last December several thousand supposedly Communist youngsters called at the station out of friendly curiosity, while streams of letters pour into the RIAS offices each month from all parts of Soviet Germany.

One of the most popular features on RIAS is the evening news show at which the commentator uncovers a Communist agent in east Germany

"You may know Hans Goering, the butcher on the corner of Wilhelmstrasse and Luxemburgplatz," says the commentator. "He may prtend to be your friend but he isn't. He's a Communist agent and is reporting what you do and say to the Soviet police."

East Germans eat this up and the east bureau of the Social Democratic Party has kept RIAS well supplied with the names and details of Communist agents.

Lack of Funds Hampers 'Voice'

The State Department operates another Voice of America radio station in Salonika, near the southern end of the Iron Curtain but, because of insufficient funds, it hasn't really begun to scratch the surface of the Iron Curtain with effective propaganda.

One trouble with the Voice of America is that it operates via short wave. RIAS, on the other hand, operates on a standard wave and fits its programs right in on regular east German programs. And, being close to the scene, it covers local news, uses local wisecracks, and disseminates local political gossip. Making the Voice of America effective from 4,000 miles away is like publishing a newspaper in Chicago from a news desk located in London.

If, therefore, we are to puncture the easily punctured Iron Curtain, what we need is a series of local radio stations extending from Berlin to Turkey—one along the Czechoslovak border in the American zone of Germany broadcasting in Czech and Slovak languages, one in the American zone in Austria, one in Yugoslavia to reach nearby Hungary and Albania, and one in Turkey to reach southern Russia.

Such a radio network would pay 100 per cent dividends in getting our ideas beyond and behind the Iron Curtain.

However, radio propaganda alone, while important, won't do the job. My examination of the Iron Curtain convinces me that, in addition, we could get all sorts of propaganda into satellite countries. Thousands of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland are eager for information about the outside world and are even willing to risk their lives to get it and help disseminate it.

During the war we devised all sorts of schemes to get our propaganda behind the enemy lines. We devised waterproof propaganda leaflets, which could not be destroyed by rain. We devised small printing presses, which one man could carry and operate. We printed messages in Bibles and got them distributed in churches.

But we are neglecting much of this today. We are spending billions to rearm a reluctant Europe, many parts of which don't particularly want to be rearmed. Meanwhile, only a few millions spent on getting our propaganda behind the Iron Curtain might pay a bonanza of dividends for peace.

Red China and Soviet Russia Have Chance to End War as U.N. Decides on Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 21—Important decisions of policy are in the making with reference to Korea. They will afford an opportunity for Red Cina and Soviet Russia to end the Korean war if they really are sincere about it and can give proof of their good faith.

A decision is being forced one way or the other by the way the military factors are developing.

The British, for example, do not want to see the 38th Parallel crossed except for maneuver purposes, and the Americans do not want to fix a defense line on the 38th Parallel and thus take the risk of being attacked suddenly.

The problem is not much different from a military viewpoint than it was last autumn when General MacArthur risked an offensive in order to probe the enemy intentions—something that resulted in throwing off balance an enemy offensive.

But the over-all question is whether the Communists want to make peace. The sentiment among various U.N. members is that another opportunity should be given the Communists to discuss peace.

Thus, what cannot be accomplished by a "cease fire" is being sought through a negotiation in the middle of the fighting.

The American viewpoint is that there is nothing sacred about the 38th Parallel or about any defense line at what is known as the "waist" of Korea. A temporary halt would be undertaken only with considerable risk. For, if the U.N. forces didn't move and just waited for the parleying to begin, they might be attacked overnight by an offensive with terrific momentum. An advancing army has a better chance of resisting such an attack than an army stagnated at a certain line. The terrain of Korea doesn't lend itself to stiff defense lines such as might be encountered in other types of battlefields.

The United States is not averse to a peace move if the Communists will recognize the realities of the situation — namely, that the United Nations entered the situation last June to liberate all of Korea and not just to revert to the status quo that existed before the North Korean Army began its aggression.

So a peace plan would have to include a formula whereby the Red Chinese would withdraw far into the north of Korea and thereby give assurance that there was no intention of resuming the fighting. The military requirements thus would be satisfied and peace talks could begin once the Communists had taken their armies far enough away from the U.N. lines to give assurances that hostilities would not be suddenly resumed.

When there was a termination of the fighting, the discussions would start. It is quite probable that if the fighting did end it never would be resumed. This impression will be derived naturally from the willingness of the Red Chinese at this time to withdraw into northern Korea. They haven't yet said they will.

What is happening at the moment is merely an exchange of views between the U.N. countries whose forces are in Korea. It amounts, in effect, to a proposal that some sort of "buffer zone" be created somewhere north of the 38th parallel into which neither side would move its forces. It does not involve any retreat by the U.N. forces but it does involve a withdrawal by the Red Chinese.

There is no word here that anything will come of the parleys about a "buffer zone," though the British seem to favor the plan on the theory that the Red Chinese might avail themselves of the opportunity to talk peace.

So the American position is that no obstacle should be placed in the way of at least reopening the discussions with the enemy forces first, on a military basis so as to permit each side to hold its lines and, then, on a diplomatic basis, where the real settlement will have to be reached. It could conceivably happen that the two armies would agree to stand still and that the debate might go on for months in diplomatic channels. Again, it is quite possible that the Russians may use the Korean situation as a trading point in any over-all settlement that might be negotiated in the forthcoming conference of foreign ministers at Paris.

Whether anything comes of it or not, the American attitude is that there is no objection to halting in Korea long enough to see whether the Communists really want peace.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the bidding and the opening lead were identical in the two rooms. As a matter of fact, the play continued to be similar until the fourth trick—but then there was a great difference.

In both rooms dummy won the first trick with the ace of diamonds. Both declarers then made an attempt to get rid of the losing diamond on a high club. They cashed the king and ace of clubs, and then led the queen of clubs from dummy.

In the second room East ruffed the queen of clubs with the nine of hearts. South over-ruffed with the ten of hearts and led a trump. Dummy played the king of hearts, and East won with the ace. East thereupon cashed the king of diamonds, thus getting a diamond trick back for the trump trick he had apparently sacrificed. But the story was far from finished.

When South ruffed the third round of diamonds, he naturally led another trump towards dummy. West played the five of hearts, and declarer went into a huddle. Who had the missing jack of trumps?

If West had it, a finesse of dummy's eight would assure the contract. If East had it, no finesse should be taken. But how could East have the jack of hearts, South reasoned, and give up a sure trump trick by ruffing the queen of clubs with the nine?

Therefore South finessed the eight of hearts, and East got his trump trick anyway. West eventually got the queen of spades as the setting trick.

Real estate values in a business district are based on trade and on the number of people passing a given location. The fear of loss from bypasses is readily understandable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, however, says that this reasoning is wrong. A bypass route to carry through traffic around a business district results in most cases, in more trade rather than less, according to a nationwide survey. The explanation is that when through traffic is taken off business streets, and off the main streets leading to business districts, people who are interested in trading find it easier to get into the business area. Apparently the amount of trade brought by itinerant traffic is less than the amount driven away by congestion.

Naturally this conclusion applies to trade as a whole, but not necessarily to a specific kind of business. Some kinds thrive on itinerant traffic; they of course must often move to the bypass. But the general conclusion indicated is that local business stands to gain more than it would lose by the building of bypass roads.

THE GREEN LIGHT

The confidence of pedestrians and motorists in the security of a green traffic signal is often misplaced. After a ten-month survey in Spokane, Washington, traffic engineers came to the conclusion that a pedestrian crossing the street with a green light is not necessarily safer than one going against a red light. The number struck on the green light, by motorists making turns, was almost equal to the number struck while crossing against the light or trying to beat the change.

The green light is not an "all clear" signal. It indicates the right of way; someone else may have the same light but a different direction in mind. Both walkers and drivers will improve their chances for old age by remembering this.

WORDS MADE MEANINGLESS

Another good word has gone wrong. This is "volunteer," which in the Communist vocabulary has ceased to mean "act of one's own choice." Word comes from China that a group of teachers arrested as reactionaries have gone to Korea as volunteers. Under this meaning for the term, no doubt a robbery victim "voluntarily" hands over his wallet when a gun is stuck in his ribs.

"Democracy" and "liberty" are other good words which the Communists have transformed and defaced. Such alterations tend to make it as hard to communicate with a Communist as to talk to a person using an unknown language.

A second glance is said to be flattering. Or then again it may just be that the observer finds it difficult to believe his eyes the first time.

WAR PREVENTION

Dean Acheson, in the course of his discussion before the Connally Committee, said:

"So our first purpose—and this is something we need to make absolutely clear to our friends in Europe—is to deter the aggressors from attacking Europe. Our primary concern is not how to win a war after it gets started, but how to prevent it, and how to help Europe stay free in the meantime."

This seems to me poor reasoning, because no nation can go to war without feeling confident that it can win, and when steps are taken to prevent a war, they must be such as would convince the party of the second part that war does not pay.

The learned secretary of state must have caught himself tripping, for he answers himself:

"There are three deterrent factors to be considered. One is the retaliatory power now in our possession—our capability of striking with air power against the centers of aggression. Another is the reserve power which helps to convince the Russians that they could not win in the end. And finally, there are the integrated forces in being of the North Atlantic treaty nations."

Then he goes on to talk about the third deterrent, which is the one he likes, but it is obviously a side issue if the first one is not fully achieved. That means that we must be armed to the hilt and have a huge army before we can convince the Russians that war will not pay. Therefore, it is necessary to assess our capacities and those of our allies and the will to fight of the entire group of 12 nations in the North Atlantic Alliance. Unless there is a keen will to fight among these countries, what is there to deter Soviet Russia?

Surely the United States, a nation of 153,000,000, cannot alone produce the strength to fight an empire of 800,000,000 even with our advantage of production. The problem then comes down to ratios: What is the share that each of the members of the North Atlantic Alliance will put up? Dean Acheson does not say.

But the secretary of state does say this:

"One reason why we cannot continue to rely on retaliatory air power as a sufficient deterrent is the effect of time. We have a substantial lead in air power and in atomic weapons. At the present moment, this may be the most powerful deterrent against aggression. But with the passage of time, even though we continue our advances in this field, the value of our lead diminishes."

Again, it is difficult to understand his reasoning. Why can we not maintain our "substantial lead in air power and in atomic weapons?" If, as he says, this has given us an advantage, why not keep the advantage?

The answer, of course, is that the more money we spend on ground forces, the less we shall have to spend on the airforce and atomic weapons. The supply of money is not unlimited. The 1951-1952 budget will probably run as high as $100,000,000,000. This comes during a period of distressing and frightening inflation.

The decision to use ground forces in Korea was an infantryman's error and has proved costly. Thus far, no evidence has been presented to Senator Connally's committee to prove that American ground forces are sufficient to deter Soviet Russia. Plenty of evidence has been prsented to establish that an American airforce is invaluable. I refer to General MacArthur's stalemate statement.

Dean Acheson's conclusion is:

"In other words, the best use we can make of our present advantage in retaliatory air power, is to move ahead under this protective shield to build the balanced collective forces in western Europe that will continue to deter aggression after our atomic advantage has been diminished."

If what he calls the "protective shield" is all that has deterred Russia thus far why does he not want to strengthen "the protective shield" but to substitute something else for it? This exercise in logic is hard to follow except that some men, having long lived with a good and faithful wife who helped to build the family fortune, discard the wife to spend her sacrifices upon some floozie. It is often done, but not with too much credit for the doer.

It is a serious matter for the country when the secretary of state speaks so casually about the expenditure of American lives.

DEALING WITH LIFE AND DEATH

A middle-aged man applied for more insurance in a company in which he already had a policy. The insurance agent gave him the rates for his age but he was afraid the insurance physician would not pass him because he was 25 to 30 pounds overweight. While many overweights are healthy and live to a good age, this is not usually the case.

Insurance companies, surgeons, anaesthetists and general physicians are all agreed that the overweight individuals die sooner, are poorer surgical risks for operation, take anaesthetic poorly, develop diabetes more readily, have more blood vessel and heart diseases and other illnesses than one of normal weight.

A distinguished research worker in nutrition states that his investigations bear out the fact "that corpulent or overweight persons owing to their greater suspectibility to harmful organisms and harmful wastes (bowel and kidneys) are more likely to contract disease than are lean persons.

Every man and woman needs some fat to act as reserve food in emergencies, insulate the nerves, and round out the form, the average amount needed being 15 to 25 pounds. But after this needed fat on and in the body (to hold the abdominal organs up in their proper places) has been acquired, every extra pound of fat added thereafter is a liability to health and to the life span. This does not mean that not to have this needed fat for the purposes noted above is an asset. What it means is that the extra or unneeded fat put on your body from eating more than you need, taking more sleep or rest than you need and not taking enough exercise to give a natural appetite, is a real danger.

Remember, we get the highest authoritative information on health and life span from life insurance companies. Insuring an overweight individual is such a risk that they have to refuse him a policy or make him pay a much higher rate for insurance than if he were of normal weight.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note: Drew Pearson is making a flying tour of the Middle East and Europe, surveying the world situation.)

Berlin—This is the extreme northern end of the iron curtain. I started this trip at the southern end where it begins, between Bulgaria and Turkey—a long line of barbed wire extending north—and have now reached the other end, where it isn't even barbed wire but fans out into the east zone of Berlin.

One of the most important conclusions I've reached on this trip is that Winston Churchill did the democratic world a disservice when he talked about the border between Russia and the western world as an iron curtain, because the border isn't as impervious as the word "iron" indicates. Not only is Stalin's curtain between the east and the west not even marked by barbed wire in many places, but it can be crossed fairly easily.

The border between Czechoslovakia and the American zone in Germany, for instance, can be crossed almost any night. In fact, it is crossed constantly by Germans who make their living smuggling goods back and forth.

The border bewteen east and west Germany is like a sieve while, in Berlin, thousands of people walk or ride back and forth daily between the Russian and American zones. I entered the Russian zone without even knowing I was in it and drove through several miles of its battered streets. The only way you have of knowing you are in the Russian zone is through the signs on the streets which say: "You are now entering the democratic section of Berlin."

This fairly easy access into restricted areas behind the iron curtain raises one of the most important omissions on the part of the United States government—namely, why are we not doing more to influence the people on the other side of the curtain? Obviously the curtain was rung down by Stalin for only one reason: Because he fears intercourse between east and west—he knew contact with the modern marvels of capitalism would make it difficult to keep the Russian people happy under communism.

Therefore our best bet to head off war obviously is to go over the Kremlin's head and reach the Russian people and the satellite millions also forced to remain behind the curtain.

Eager for U. S. Information

How effectively this can be done and how eager the satellites are for information about the U.S.A. is shown right here in Berlin, where our State Department is doing its most effective job of propaganda through radio station RIAS. This station, which gets its abbreviated name from "radio in American sector," was originally started by the army but is now operated by three State Department radio men plus 600 Germans.

RIAS carries a regular schedule of radio entertainment not unlike the average American station with quiz programs having the highest hooper rating and musical cabaret shows second. Interspersed through all these programs, however, are telling wisecracks and political comment which nickle-nursing Congress John Taber of New York probably couldn't understand and wouldn't approve of but which have east Germans roaring with laughter—at the expense of Joe Stalin.

RIAS is so popular in eastern Germany that when the Soviet held its big youth meeting in Berlin last December several thousand supposedly Communist youngsters called at the station out of friendly curiosity, while streams of letters pour into the RIAS offices each month from all parts of Soviet Germany.

One of the most popular features on RIAS is the evening news show at which the commentator uncovers a Communist agent in east Germany.

"You may know Hans Goering, the butcher on the corner of Wilhelmstrasse and Luxemburgplatz," says the commentator. "He may prtend to be your friend but he isn't. He's a Communist agent and is reporting what you do and say to the Soviet police."

East Germans eat this up and the east bureau of the Social Democratic Party has kept RIAS well supplied with the names and details of Communist agents.

Lack of Funds Hampers 'Voice'

The State Department operates another Voice of America radio station in Salonika, near the southern end of the Iron Curtain but, because of insufficient funds, it hasn't really begun to scratch the surface of the Iron Curtain with effective propaganda.

One trouble with the Voice of America is that it operates via short wave. RIAS, on the other hand, operates on a standard wave and fits its programs right in on regular east German programs. And, being close to the scene, it covers local news, uses local wisecracks, and disseminates local political gossip. Making the Voice of America effective from 4,000 miles away is like publishing a newspaper in Chicago from a news desk located in London.

If, therefore, we are to puncture the easily punctured Iron Curtain, what we need is a series of local radio stations extending from Berlin to Turkey—one along the Czechoslovak border in the American zone of Germany broadcasting in Czech and Slovak languages, one in the American zone in Austria, one in Yugoslavia to reach nearby Hungary and Albania, and one in Turkey to reach southern Russia.

Such a radio network would pay 100 per cent dividends in getting our ideas beyond and behind the Iron Curtain.

However, radio propaganda alone, while important, won't do the job. My examination of the Iron Curtain convinces me that, in addition, we could get all sorts of propaganda into satellite countries. Thousands of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland are eager for information about the outside world and are even willing to risk their lives to get it and help disseminate it.

During the war we devised all sorts of schemes to get our propaganda behind the enemy lines. We devised waterproof propaganda leaflets, which could not be destroyed by rain. We devised small printing presses, which one man could carry and operate. We printed messages in Bibles and got them distributed in churches.

But we are neglecting much of this today. We are spending billions to rearm a reluctant Europe, many parts of which don't particularly want to be rearmed. Meanwhile, only a few millions spent on getting our propaganda behind the Iron Curtain might pay a bonanza of dividends for peace.

Red China and Soviet Russia Have Chance to End War as U.N. Decides on Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 21—Important decisions of policy are in the making with reference to Korea. They will afford an opportunity for Red Cina and Soviet Russia to end the Korean war if they really are sincere about it and can give proof of their good faith.

A decision is being forced one way or the other by the way the military factors are developing.

The British, for example, do not want to see the 38th Parallel crossed except for maneuver purposes, and the Americans do not want to fix a defense line on the 38th Parallel and thus take the risk of being attacked suddenly.

The problem is not much different from a military viewpoint than it was last autumn when General MacArthur risked an offensive in order to probe the enemy intentions—something that resulted in throwing off balance an enemy offensive.

But the over-all question is whether the Communists want to make peace. The sentiment among various U.N. members is that another opportunity should be given the Communists to discuss peace.

Thus, what cannot be accomplished by a "cease fire" is being sought through a negotiation in the middle of the fighting.

The American viewpoint is that there is nothing sacred about the 38th Parallel or about any defense line at what is known as the "waist" of Korea. A temporary halt would be undertaken only with considerable risk. For, if the U.N. forces didn't move and just waited for the parleying to begin, they might be attacked overnight by an offensive with terrific momentum. An advancing army has a better chance of resisting such an attack than an army stagnated at a certain line. The terrain of Korea doesn't lend itself to stiff defense lines such as might be encountered in other types of battlefields.

The United States is not averse to a peace move if the Communists will recognize the realities of the situation — namely, that the United Nations entered the situation last June to liberate all of Korea and not just to revert to the status quo that existed before the North Korean Army began its aggression.

So a peace plan would have to include a formula whereby the Red Chinese would withdraw far into the north of Korea and thereby give assurance that there was no intention of resuming the fighting. The military requirements thus would be satisfied and peace talks could begin once the Communists had taken their armies far enough away from the U.N. lines to give assurances that hostilities would not be suddenly resumed.

When there was a termination of the fighting, the discussions would start. It is quite probable that if the fighting did end it never would be resumed. This impression will be derived naturally from the willingness of the Red Chinese at this time to withdraw into northern Korea. They haven't yet said they will.

What is happening at the moment is merely an exchange of views between the U.N. countries whose forces are in Korea. It amounts, in effect, to a proposal that some sort of "buffer zone" be created somewhere north of the 38th parallel into which neither side would move its forces. It does not involve any retreat by the U.N. forces but it does involve a withdrawal by the Red Chinese.

There is no word here that anything will come of the parleys about a "buffer zone," though the British seem to favor the plan on the theory that the Red Chinese might avail themselves of the opportunity to talk peace.

So the American position is that no obstacle should be placed in the way of at least reopening the discussions with the enemy forces first, on a military basis so as to permit each side to hold its lines and, then, on a diplomatic basis, where the real settlement will have to be reached. It could conceivably happen that the two armies would agree to stand still and that the debate might go on for months in diplomatic channels. Again, it is quite possible that the Russians may use the Korean situation as a trading point in any over-all settlement that might be negotiated in the forthcoming conference of foreign ministers at Paris.

Whether anything comes of it or not, the American attitude is that there is no objection to halting in Korea long enough to see whether the Communists really want peace.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the bidding and the opening lead were identical in the two rooms. As a matter of fact, the play continued to be similar until the fourth trick—but then there was a great difference.

In both rooms dummy won the first trick with the ace of diamonds. Both declarers then made an attempt to get rid of the losing diamond on a high club. They cashed the king and ace of clubs, and then led the queen of clubs from dummy.

In the second room East ruffed the queen of clubs with the nine of hearts. South over-ruffed with the ten of hearts and led a trump. Dummy played the king of hearts, and East won with the ace. East thereupon cashed the king of diamonds, thus getting a diamond trick back for the trump trick he had apparently sacrificed. But the story was far from finished.

When South ruffed the third round of diamonds, he naturally led another trump towards dummy. West played the five of hearts, and declarer went into a huddle. Who had the missing jack of trumps?

If West had it, a finesse of dummy's eight would assure the contract. If East had it, no finesse should be taken. But how could East have the jack of hearts, South reasoned, and give up a sure trump trick by ruffing the queen of clubs with the nine?

Therefore South finessed the eight of hearts, and East got his trump trick anyway. West eventually got the queen of spades as the setting trick.

BYPASS HIGHWAYS

Since the first highway bypasses were constructed, to carry itinerant through traffic around cities and towns instead of through them, there has been a controversy over their local effects. Travelers clamor for more of them, because a good bypass greatly reduces the strains and hazards of driving from one side of a city to the other. Locally there is generally a division of opinion when a bypass route is proposed.

The opposition comes chiefly from business and real estate people, who fear losses because of the diversion of traffic away from the business district. It seems a natural supposition that if the number of people passing through town drops there will be a corresponding drop in trade. Real estate values in a business district are based on trade and on the number of people passing a given location. The fear of loss from bypasses is readily understandable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, however, says that this reasoning is wrong. A bypass route to carry through traffic around a business district results in most cases, in more trade rather than less, according to a nationwide survey. The explanation is that when through traffic is taken off business streets, and off the main streets leading to business districts, people who are interested in trading find it easier to get into the business area. Apparently the amount of trade brought by itinerant traffic is less than the amount driven away by congestion.

Naturally this conclusion applies to trade as a whole, but not necessarily to a specific kind of business. Some kinds thrive on itinerant traffic; they of course must often move to the bypass. But the general conclusion indicated is that local business stands to gain more than it would lose by the building of bypass roads.

NEW ANTI-RED VOICE

Russian refugees in Western Germany are engaged in an attempt to reach the ears of Soviet troops in Austria and Germany, says a report from Frankfort. "Radio Free Russia," an unlicensed mobile broadcasting unit, has been operating since the middle of February.

An anti-Kremlin underground force known as the National Solidarists is said to be sponsoring the broadcasts, which are believed to have reached the westerly provinces of Russia under favorable atmospheric conditions. Attempts by the Soviet government to jam the broadcasts are defeated by the fact that the mechanism is flexible enough to change frequency when necessary. Naturally such changes also interfere with the building of an audience.

If, as has been suspected, Stalin is being plagued by internal dissension, such measures as these might increase it. Anything which might break down the morale of the Soviet armies and create further discontent among civilians would weaken the Russian internal structure, and would reduce the amount of attention and energy Moscow can devote to outside ambitions.

THE GREEN LIGHT

The confidence of pedestrians and motorists in the security of a green traffic signal is often misplaced. After a ten-month survey in Spokane, Washington, traffic engineers came to the conclusion that a pedestrian crossing the street with a green light is not necessarily safer than one going against a red light. The number struck on the green light, by motorists making turns, was almost equal to the number struck while crossing against the light or trying to beat the change.

The green light is not an "all clear" signal. It indicates the right of way; someone else may have the same light but a different intention in mind. Both walkers and drivers will improve their chances for old age by remembering this.

WORDS MADE MEANINGLESS

Another good word has gone wrong. This is "volunteer," which in the Communist dictionary has ceased to mean "act of one's own choice." Word comes from China that a group of teachers arrested as reactionaries have gone to Korea as volunteers. Under this meaning for the term, no doubt a robbery victim "voluntarily" hands over his wallet when a gun is stuck in his ribs.

"Democracy" and "liberty" are other good words which the Communists have transformed and defaced. Such alterations tend to make it as hard to communicate with a Communist as to talk to a person using an unknown language.

But after this needed fat on and in the body (to hold the abdominal organs up in their proper places) has been acquired, every extra pound of fat added thereafter is a liability to health and to the life span. This does not mean that not to have this needed fat for the purposes noted above is an asset. What it means is that the extra or unneeded fat put on your body from eating more than you need, taking more sleep or rest than you need and not taking enough exercise to give a natural appetite, is a real danger.

Remember, we get the highest authoritative information on health and life span from life insurance companies. Insuring an overweight individual is such a risk that they have to refuse him a policy or make him pay a much higher rate for insurance than if he were of normal weight.

Obesity Diet

Do not let yourself become overweight and remain that way, as overweight is actually a disease which threatens health and life. Send today for Dr. Barton's leaflet entitled "Obesity Diet," enclosing 10 cents, coin preferred, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note: Drew Pearson is making a flying tour of the Middle East and Europe, surveying the world situation.)

Berlin—This is the extreme northern end of the iron curtain. I started this trip at the southern end where it begins, between Bulgaria and Turkey—a long line of barbed wire extending north—and have now reached the other end, where it isn't even barbed wire but fans out into the east zone of Berlin.

One of the most important conclusions I've reached on this trip is that Winston Churchill did the democratic world a disservice when he talked about the border between Russia and the western world as an iron curtain, because the border isn't as impervious as the word "iron" indicates. Not only is Stalin's curtain between the east and the west not even marked by barbed wire in many places, but it can be crossed fairly easily.

The border between Czechoslovakia and the American zone in Germany, for instance, can be crossed almost any night. In fact, it is crossed constantly by Germans who make their living smuggling goods back and forth.

The border bewteen east and west Germany is like a sieve while, in Berlin, thousands of people walk or ride back and forth daily between the Russian and American zones. I entered the Russian zone without even knowing I was in it and drove through several miles of its battered streets. The only way you have of knowing you are in the Russian zone is through the signs on the streets which say: "You are now entering the democratic section of Berlin."

This fairly easy access into restricted areas behind the iron curtain raises one of the most important omissions on the part of the United States government—namely, why are we not doing more to influence the people on the other side of the curtain? Obviously the curtain was rung down by Stalin for only one reason: Because he fears intercourse between east and west—he knew contact with the modern marvels of capitalism would make it difficult to keep the Russian people happy under communism.

Therefore our best bet to head off war obviously is to go over the Kremlin's head and reach the Russian people and the satellite millions also forced to remain behind the curtain.

Eager for U. S. Information

How effectively this can be done and how eager the satellites are for information about the U.S.A. is shown right here in Berlin, where our State Department is doing its most effective job of propaganda through radio station RIAS. This station, which gets its abbreviated name from "radio in American sector," was originally started by the army but is now operated by three State Department radio men plus 600 Germans.

RIAS carries a regular schedule of radio entertainment not unlike the average American station with quiz programs having the highest hooper rating and musical cabaret shows second. Interspersed through all these programs, however, are telling wisecracks and political comment which nickle-nursing Congress John Taber of New York probably couldn't understand and wouldn't approve of but which have east Germans roaring with laughter—at the expense of Joe Stalin.

RIAS is so popular in eastern Germany that when the Soviet held its big youth meeting in Berlin last December several thousand supposedly Communist youngsters called at the station out of friendly curiosity, while streams of letters pour into the RIAS offices each month from all parts of Soviet Germany.

One of the most popular features on RIAS is the evening news show at which the commentator uncovers a Communist agent in east Germany

"You may know Hans Goering, the butcher on the corner of Wilhelmstrasse and Luxemburgplatz," says the commentator. "He may prtend to be your friend but he isn't. He's a Communist agent and is reporting what you do and say to the Soviet police."

East Germans eat this up and the east bureau of the Social Democratic Party has kept RIAS well supplied with the names and details of Communist agents.

Lack of Funds Hampers 'Voice'

The State Department operates another Voice of America radio station in Salonika, near the southern end of the Iron Curtain but, because of insufficient funds, it hasn't really begun to scratch the surface of the Iron Curtain with effective propaganda.

One trouble with the Voice of America is that it operates via short wave. RIAS, on the other hand, operates on a standard wave and fits its programs right in on regular east German programs. And, being close to the scene, it covers local news, uses local wisecracks, and disseminates local political gossip. Making the Voice of America effective from 4,000 miles away is like publishing a newspaper in Chicago from a news desk located in London.

If, therefore, we are to puncture the easily punctured Iron Curtain, what we need is a series of local radio stations extending from Berlin to Turkey—one along the Czechoslovak border in the American zone of Germany broadcasting in Czech and Slovak languages, one in the American zone in Austria, one in Yugoslavia to reach nearby Hungary and Albania, and one in Turkey to reach southern Russia.

Such a radio network would pay 100 per cent dividends in getting our ideas beyond and behind the Iron Curtain.

However, radio propaganda alone, while important, won't do the job. My examination of the Iron Curtain convinces me that, in addition, we could get all sorts of propaganda into satellite countries. Thousands of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland are eager for information about the outside world and are even willing to risk their lives to get it and help disseminate it.

During the war we devised all sorts of schemes to get our propaganda behind the enemy lines. We devised waterproof propaganda leaflets, which could not be destroyed by rain. We devised small printing presses, which one man could carry and operate. We printed messages in Bibles and got them distributed in churches.

But we are neglecting much of this today. We are spending billions to rearm a reluctant Europe, many parts of which don't particularly want to be rearmed. Meanwhile, only a few millions spent on getting our propaganda behind the Iron Curtain might pay a bonanza of dividends for peace.

Red China and Soviet Russia Have Chance to End War as U.N. Decides on Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 21—Important decisions of policy are in the making with reference to Korea. They will afford an opportunity for Red Cina and Soviet Russia to end the Korean war if they really are sincere about it and can give proof of their good faith.

A decision is being forced one way or the other by the way the military factors are developing.

The British, for example, do not want to see the 38th Parallel crossed except for maneuver purposes, and the Americans do not want to fix a defense line on the 38th Parallel and thus take the risk of being attacked suddenly.

The problem is not much different from a military viewpoint than it was last autumn when General MacArthur risked an offensive in order to probe the enemy intentions—something that resulted in throwing off balance an enemy offensive.

But the over-all question is whether the Communists want to make peace. The sentiment among various U.N. members is that another opportunity should be given the Communists to discuss peace.

Thus, what cannot be accomplished by a "cease fire" is being sought through a negotiation in the middle of the fighting.

The American viewpoint is that there is nothing sacred about the 38th Parallel or about any defense line at what is known as the "waist" of Korea. A temporary halt would be undertaken only with considerable risk. For, if the U.N. forces didn't move and just waited for the parleying to begin, they might be attacked overnight by an offensive with terrific momentum. An advancing army has a better chance of resisting such an attack than an army stagnated at a certain line. The terrain of Korea doesn't lend itself to stiff defense lines such as might be encountered in other types of battlefields.

The United States is not averse to a peace move if the Communists will recognize the realities of the situation — namely, that the United Nations entered the situation last June to liberate all of Korea and not just to revert to the status quo that existed before the North Korean Army began its aggression.

So a peace plan would have to include a formula whereby the Red Chinese would withdraw far into the north of Korea and thereby give assurance that there was no intention of resuming the fighting. The military requirements thus would be satisfied and peace talks could begin once the Communists had taken their armies far enough away from the U.N. lines to give assurances that hostilities would not be suddenly resumed.

When there was a termination of the fighting, the discussions would start. It is quite probable that if the fighting did end it never would be resumed. This impression will be derived naturally from the willingness of the Red Chinese at this time to withdraw into northern Korea. They haven't yet said they will.

What is happening at the moment is merely an exchange of views between the U.N. countries whose forces are in Korea. It amounts, in effect, to a proposal that some sort of "buffer zone" be created somewhere north of the 38th parallel into which neither side would move its forces. It does not involve any retreat by the U.N. forces but it does involve a withdrawal by the Red Chinese.

There is no word here that anything will come of the parleys about a "buffer zone," though the British seem to favor the plan on the theory that the Red Chinese might avail themselves of the opportunity to talk peace.

So the American position is that no obstacle should be placed in the way of at least reopening the discussions with the enemy forces first, on a military basis so as to permit each side to hold its lines and, then, on a diplomatic basis, where the real settlement will have to be reached. It could conceivably happen that the two armies would agree to stand still and that the debate might go on for months in diplomatic channels. Again, it is quite possible that the Russians may use the Korean situation as a trading point in any over-all settlement that might be negotiated in the forthcoming conference of foreign ministers at Paris.

Whether anything comes of it or not, the American attitude is that there is no objection to halting in Korea long enough to see whether the Communists really want peace.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the bidding and the opening lead were identical in the two rooms. As a matter of fact, the play continued to be similar until the fourth trick—but then there was a great difference.

In both rooms dummy won the first trick with the ace of diamonds. Both declarers then made an attempt to get rid of the losing diamond on a high club. They cashed the king and ace of clubs, and then led the queen of clubs from dummy.

In the second room East ruffed the queen of clubs with the nine of hearts. South over-ruffed with the ten of hearts and led a trump. Dummy played the king of hearts, and East won with the ace. East thereupon cashed the king of diamonds, thus getting a diamond trick back for the trump trick he had apparently sacrificed. But the story was far from finished.

When South ruffed the third round of diamonds, he naturally led another trump towards dummy. West played the five of hearts, and declarer went into a huddle. Who had the missing jack of trumps?

If West had it, a finesse of dummy's eight would assure the contract. If East had it, no finesse should be taken. But how could East have the jack of hearts, South reasoned, and give up a sure trump trick by ruffing the queen of clubs with the nine?

Therefore South finessed the eight of hearts, and East got his trump trick anyway. West eventually got the queen of spades as the setting trick.

Eight Courses Are Open for Veterans

The New York Veterans Vocational School, Troy, is now accepting applications for eight different full-time day school courses scheduled to start May 3 according to an announcement made today by Howard Shurter, director of the County Veterans Service Agency.

The industrial-technical courses which will begin on that date are body and fender repair, Diesel engine maintenance and repair, carpentry and woodworking, machine tool operator, radio and communications, refrigeration and air conditioning, mechanical drafting, and air conditioning metal work.

The Veterans Vocational School, owned and operated by the State of New York, is approved by the Veterans Administration for training under Public Law 346 and Public Law 16. Classes which are conducted from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday, consist of half time in the shop doing practical jobs and half time in the classroom learning the necessary related information in theory, drawing, and mathematics.

Director Shurter reminded veterans that the cut off date for the G.I. Bill in most instances is July 25, 1951. Veterans must be in training before that date. Otherwise, their training benefits are voided. There are exceptions and veterans are urged to consult with their local Veterans' Service Agency loated at 32 Main street or the branch offices at Saugerties, Ellenville, Kerhonkson and Highland.

Telephone service is faster, clearer, more dependable than ever. Yet the price you pay for your telephone has gone up far less than most other things you buy.

It has taken a tremendous amount of telephone construction to bring you this added value. In the past five years the new buildings, lines and switchboards we've built into the State's existing telephone system have made it possible to serve two million more telephones. This huge program has totaled $780,000,000.

In Field Artillery

Pvt. Robert B. Van Demark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Demark, 80 Hurley avenue is training with the 449th Field Artillery Observation Battalion at Fort Bragg, N. C. Prior to induction on November 15, 1950, he was employed by the Fuller Shirt Company.

Eight Courses Are Open for Veterans

The New York Veterans Vocational School, Troy, is now accepting applications for eight different full-time day school courses scheduled to start May 3 according to an announcement made today by Howard Shurter, director of the County Veterans Service Agency.

The industrial-technical courses which will begin on that date are body and fender repair, Diesel engine maintenance and repair, carpentry and woodworking, machine tool operator, radio and communications, refrigeration and air conditioning, mechanical drafting, and air conditioning metal work.

The Veterans Vocational School, owned and operated by the State of New York, is approved by the Veterans Administration for training under Public Law 346 and Public Law 16. Classes which are conducted from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday, consist of half time in the shop doing practical jobs and half time in the classroom learning the necessary related information in theory, drawing, and mathematics.

Director Shurter reminded veterans that the cut off date for the G.I. Bill in most instances is July 25, 1951. Veterans must be in training before that date. Otherwise, their training benefits are voided. There are exceptions and veterans are urged to consult with their local Veterans' Service Agency loated at 32 Main street or the branch offices at Saugerties, Ellenville, Kerhonkson and Highland.

Cost of Planting $4 an Acre

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management says an acre of forest can be planted with a helicopter at a cost of $4 for seedlings, rodent control and flying time compared to $20 for hand-planting.

The best value on your shopping list

It's your telephone. And here's why:

You can call—and be called by—many more people than ever before at local rates.

Telephone service is faster, clearer, more dependable than ever. Yet the price you pay for your telephone has gone up far less than most other things you buy.

It has taken a tremendous amount of telephone construction to bring you this added value. In the past five years the new buildings, lines and switchboards we've built into the State's existing telephone system have made it possible to serve two million more telephones. This huge program has totaled $780,000,000.

The big job is not yet completed. Some people are still waiting for telephones, and defense needs—which must always come first—are demanding an increasing amount of telephone equipment and service.

In these critical times, particularly, it is reassuring that the telephone system is not only bigger, but better and more flexible than ever before.

Looking over the fashion forecasts for 1951 one figures that the bathing suits will be just big enough to prevent tanning where the wearer ought to be tanned.

A census-taker asked the woman at the door: "How many in your family?"

Woman—Five. Me, the old man, kid, cow and cat.

Census Taker—And the politics of your family?

Woman—Mixed. I'm a Republican, the old man's a Democrat, the kid's wet, the cow's dry and the cat's a Populist.

Henry—My watch is very accurate in measuring time.

Freddy—Yes? Then ask it how many feet in an hour.

Life is just one fool thing after another. Love is just two things after each other.

While driving in northern Oklahoma I approached an extremely narrow pass on a rocky mountain road. Then I noticed this reassuring sign: "Oh, yes you can. Millions have!" — Mrs. Geraldine Washburn, Shawnee, Okla.

A Scotch farmer, being elected to the school board, visited the village school and tested the intelligence of the class by the question: "Now, boys, can any of you tell me what naething is?" After a moment's silence a small boy in a back seat rose. "It's what ye gi'ed me the other day for holding your horse."

Man—Why do you say your wife is an old hen?

Friend—Because she's always crowing.

If your boy friend criticizes your figure—don't hold it against him.

She—I wonder how many fellows I'll disappoint when I marry?

He—That depends upon how many times you marry.

RosenblattReports Testimony Gave False Impression

Washington, March 21 (AP)—An official of a committee which contributed to the re-election campaign of Senator Tobey (R.-N.H.) said last night that testimony at the crime hearings in New York created a false impression about the source of these funds.

He was Maurice Rosenblatt, of Washington. Rosenblatt said testimony by Ambassador William O'Dwyer "might leave a false impression that Senator Tobey was playing back fence politics with criminals."

Rosenblatt said he is campaign director for the National Committee for An Effective Congress. He called it a non-partisan group, now headed by playwright Robert E. Sherwood, which "believes in maintaining a Congress which is concerned with preserving competitive free American enterprise."

Rosenblatt said the committee has received contributions ranging from $2 to $1,000 and has filed reports with the House of Representatives and the secretary of state of New York state.

Gave About $1,000

He told a reporter the committee contributed about $1,000 to Tobey's 1950 campaign as part of its program to aid "congressional candidates who measure up to the highest standards of public service."

Rosenblatt referred to a heated exchange between Tobey and O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York city who has been testifying in the Senate Crime Committee's current hearings in New York.

O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, on Monday told Tobey "you don't know who supports you, because you sent here (New York) for money and you got it and you don't know where it came from."

Tobey challenged O'Dwyer to prove his assertion.

O'Dwyer read yesterday a letter of thanks Tobey had written Rosenblatt.

Rosenblatt, saying his committee did contribute to Tobey's campaign, added in a statement:

"It is unfortunate that the implication has been created that funds received by Senator Charles Tobey for his 1950 campaign might have been from dubious or sinister sources of the underworld.

"The implication was left * * * that Senator Tobey received gambling money from New York. Unless there is further clarification, this might leave a false impression. * * *"

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

A safe prediction to make is that this spring is going to be as full of economic cross-currents as the weather will be varied by squalls and fair weather.

First on the agenda of upsets will be an "organized rebellion" against the price-control edicts—if a Washington report may be taken at face value. Apparently all groups are getting worked up over wage-and-price controls, because of the very great confusion that has arisen.

We cannot comment here on the furor and name-calling that marked the labor meetings in Washington on Tuesday and Wednesday (because this piece was written before the meetings took place) but from your newspapers you have read what took place.

It is important to note that these conferences—this convention—included all labor leaders and groups (except John L. Lewis). It was a unified indignation meeting, you might say. Accordingly, it lays claim to the fact that millions of consumers are represented.

It could be most significant, so you had better review it if you were busy and passed it by.

You see, we are in the midst of the "Spring lull" the Ruminator has talked about. Therefore, it is easier to stir up arguments and bad feelings against the defense program than it would be if the war situation were critical. With the war in Korea temporarily at a stalemate and "peace" rumors flying about the world, it is a simple matter to stir up dissatisfaction at home.

Nevertheless, it is well for us to keep in mind the contrary thought that the current stalemate in Korea may simply be a prelude to a spring offensive on the part of the Red Chinese and North Koreans. Obviously, we don't know—and shan't know until more time elapses. We may "hope" that a settlement of the Korean war will be arranged before long—that the stalemate will be recognized and a cease-fire order accepted by both sides—but for the present this is nothing more than a hope. Thus, it is no time to let up.

Complacency and indifference on the home front could be dangerous just now.

Turning to the financial field, there seems to be a thought that a pleasant stalemate has also been reached in the battle between the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

Much is made of the special 2¾ per cent bond announced by the Treasury Department and the appointment of William McChesney Martin as the new chairman of the Federal Reserve Board to succeed Mr. McCabe.

The Ruminator cannot enthuse over either of these events.

The 2¾ per cent bond is encouraging from the standpoint that it does indicate a willingness to allow interest rates to rise a little. On the other hand, a non-marketable bond of the type announced is a "tricky" stunt. It is evidence of further manipulation on the part of the government. The new bond is not a regular security, but one that is tied with strings.

As for Mr. Martin this writer is not overly impressed with the appointment. It happened that I was in and out of the New York Stock Exchange frequently in the days when Mr. Martin was elected the first paid president of the Exchange and touted as the boy wonder of finance (he was only 31 at the time). However, my impression of him, from conversations in Wall Street, was that he had strong New Deal leanings. We should give Mr. Martin the benefit of the doubt, of course, until he has shown his colors, but it would not surprise me to learn that he is a "soft-money" man and not an advocate of sound money. He favors the cheap-money policy of the Treasury, I think, but here again we may find that Mr. Martin has swung around whole-heartedly to the sound policy of tightening interest rates and prohibiting the Federal Reserve System from the inflationary buying of government bonds. Time will tell, but the Ruminator for one wishes to see proof that the new Federal Reserve chairman is not a "Keynesian" money-man before being satisfied with the appointment.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will look into Mr. Martin's monetary theories very thoughtfully before confirming his appointment. Any appointment of Mr. Truman's that has to do with monetary affairs certainly requires the most searching inquiry, for the President is committed to the easy-money school. His interference wtih the Federal Reserve recently was an unprecedented act and in consequence I for one wish to know if Mr. Martin sides with the President's belief in inflationary policies.

Rosenblatt said the committee has received contributions ranging from $2 to $1,000 and has filed reports with the House of Representatives and the secretary of state of New York state.

Gave About $1,000

He told a reporter the committee contributed about $1,000 to Tobey's 1950 campaign as part of its program to aid "congressional candidates who measure up to the highest standards of public service."

Rosenblatt referred to a heated exchange between Tobey and O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York city who has been testifying in the Senate Crime Committee's current hearings in New York.

O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, on Monday told Tobey "you don't know who supports you, because you sent here (New York) for money and you got it and you don't know where it came from."

Tobey challenged O'Dwyer to prove his assertion.

O'Dwyer read yesterday a letter of thanks Tobey had written Rosenblatt.

Rosenblatt, saying his committee did contribute to Tobey's campaign, added in a statement:

"It is unfortunate that the implication has been created that funds received by Senator Charles Tobey for his 1950 campaign might have been from dubious or sinister sources of the underworld.

"The implication was left * * * that Senator Tobey received gambling money from New York. Unless there is further clarification, this might leave a false impression. * * *"

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

A safe prediction to make is that this spring is going to be as full of economic cross-currents as the weather will be varied by squalls and fair weather.

First on the agenda of upsets will be an "organized rebellion" against the price-control edicts—if a Washington report may be taken at face value. Apparently all groups are getting worked up over wage-and-price controls, because of the very great confusion that has arisen.

We cannot comment here on the furor and name-calling that marked the labor meetings in Washington on Tuesday and Wednesday (because this piece was written before the meetings took place) but from your newspapers you have read what took place.

It is important to note that these conferences—this convention—included all labor leaders and groups (except John L. Lewis). It was a unified indignation meeting, you might say. Accordingly, it lays claim to the fact that millions of consumers are represented.

It could be most significant, so you had better review it if you were busy and passed it by.

You see, we are in the midst of the "Spring lull" the Ruminator has talked about. Therefore, it is easier to stir up arguments and bad feelings against the defense program than it would be if the war situation were critical. With the war in Korea temporarily at a stalemate and "peace" rumors flying about the world, it is a simple matter to stir up dissatisfaction at home.

Nevertheless, it is well for us to keep in mind the contrary thought that the current stalemate in Korea may simply be a prelude to a spring offensive on the part of the Red Chinese and North Koreans. Obviously, we don't know—and shan't know until more time elapses. We may "hope" that a settlement of the Korean war will be arranged before long—that the stalemate will be recognized and a cease-fire order accepted by both sides—but for the present this is nothing more than a hope. Thus, it is no time to let up.

Complacency and indifference on the home front could be dangerous just now.

Turning to the financial field, there seems to be a thought that a pleasant stalemate has also been reached in the battle between the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

Much is made of the special 2¾ per cent bond announced by the Treasury Department and the appointment of William McChesney Martin as the new chairman of the Federal Reserve Board to succeed Mr. McCabe.

The Ruminator cannot enthuse over either of these events.

The 2¾ per cent bond is encouraging from the standpoint that it does indicate a willingness to allow interest rates to rise a little. On the other hand, a non-marketable bond of the type announced is a "tricky" stunt. It is evidence of further manipulation on the part of the government. The new bond is not a regular security, but one that is tied with strings.

As for Mr. Martin this writer is not overly impressed with the appointment. It happened that I was in and out of the New York Stock Exchange frequently in the days when Mr. Martin was elected the first paid president of the Exchange and touted as the boy wonder of finance (he was only 31 at the time). However, my impression of him, from conversations in Wall Street, was that he had strong New Deal leanings. We should give Mr. Martin the benefit of the doubt, of course, until he has shown his colors, but it would not surprise me to learn that he is a "soft-money" man and not an advocate of sound money. He favors the cheap-money policy of the Treasury, I think, but here again we may find that Mr. Martin has swung around whole-heartedly to the sound policy of tightening interest rates and prohibiting the Federal Reserve System from the inflationary buying of government bonds. Time will tell, but the Ruminator for one wishes to see proof that the new Federal Reserve chairman is not a "Keynesian" money-man before being satisfied with the appointment.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will look into Mr. Martin's monetary theories very thoughtfully before confirming his appointment. Any appointment of Mr. Truman's that has to do with monetary affairs certainly requires the most searching inquiry, for the President is committed to the easy-money school. His interference wtih the Federal Reserve recently was an unprecedented act and in consequence I for one wish to know if Mr. Martin sides with the President's belief in inflationary policies.

Rosenblatt Reports Testimony Gave False Impression

Washington, March 21 (AP)—An official of a committee which contributed to the re-election campaign of Senator Tobey (R.-N.H.) said last night that testimony at the crime hearings in New York created a false impression about the source of these funds.

He was Maurice Rosenblatt, of Washington. Rosenblatt said testimony by Ambassador William O'Dwyer "might leave a false impression that Senator Tobey was playing back fence politics with criminals."

Rosenblatt said he is campaign director for the National Committee for An Effective Congress. He called it a non-partisan group, now headed by playwright Robert E. Sherwood, which "believes in maintaining a Congress which is concerned with preserving competitive free American enterprise."

Rosenblatt said the committee has received contributions ranging from $2 to $1,000 and has filed reports with the House of Representatives and the secretary of state of New York state.

Gave About $1,000

He told a reporter the committee contributed about $1,000 to Tobey's 1950 campaign as part of its program to aid "congressional candidates who measure up to the highest standards of public service."

Soloists will include Mrs. Charles Benton, Miss Eileen Elsworth and Mrs. Edith Smith, sopranos; Miss Mary Polhemus and Mrs. Alexander Maines, contraltos. The cantata tells in music the story of Christ's passion, death and resurrection. It brings to all Christians the wonderful Easter message of love, hope and promise. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Webster Pewter is ill at his home on Salem street.

The quarterly meeting of the officers, commissioners, Council of the Town of Esopus, firemen or others interested in the work of the fire department will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Port Ewen Fire House. All are invited.

OPS Charges Filed

Los Angeles, March 21 (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has cracked down on a Los Angeles used car dealer and his sales manager, making them the first defendants in a criminal action for violating price laws. James E. Harrington, OPS attorney here, filed charges yesterday against Norman Frank, Inc., doing business as Jack Farmer's Auto, and Albert Rontell, sales manager. They are accused of selling a Cadillac automobile to Burt E. Taylor for $4,597.92 instead of the ceiling $3,660.25. Rontell denied the charge. In Washington, OPS Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said that in criminal violation, conviction may carry up to a $10,000 fine or up to a year in jail, or both.

The Easter Cantata, "Redemptions Song" by Fred B. Holton, under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Maines, will be presented Easter Sunday at 8 p. m. by the senior choir of the Port Ewen Reformed Church. Soloists will include Mrs. Charles Benton, Miss Eileen Elsworth and Mrs. Edith Smith, sopranos; Miss Mary Polhemus and Mrs. Alexander Maines, contraltos. The cantata tells in music the story of Christ's passion, death and resurrection. It brings to all Christians the wonderful Easter message of love, hope and promise. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Webster Pewter is ill at his home on Salem street.

The quarterly meeting of the officers, commissioners, Council of the Town of Esopus, firemen or others interested in the work of the fire department will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Port Ewen Fire House. All are invited.

OPS Charges Filed

Los Angeles, March 21 (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has cracked down on a Los Angeles used car dealer and his sales manager, making them the first defendants in a criminal action for violating price laws. James E. Harrington, OPS attorney here, filed charges yesterday against Norman Frank, Inc., doing business as Jack Farmer's Auto, and Albert Rontell, sales manager. They are accused of selling a Cadillac automobile to Burt E. Taylor for $4,597.92 instead of the ceiling $3,660.25. Rontell denied the charge. In Washington, OPS Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said that in criminal violation, conviction may carry up to a $10,000 fine or up to a year in jail, or both.

McCAUSLAND'S SHIP YARD, DRY DOCK & SAW MILL, RONDOUT, ULSTER CO. N.Y.

In the "County Atlas of Ulster," published in 1875 by Walker & Jewett of Vesey street, New York city, are a number of lithographic sketches of industries and residences in Kingston and other sections of Ulster county. The Freeman has in its possession a number of these sketches, which it will reproduce with brief descriptive cutlines.

Depicting these scenes of 76 years ago, we have been informed, has brought back memories to readers who recall the many changes made here down through the years.

This sketch is of McCausland's Shipyard, Dry Dock and Sawmill, Rondout. This shipyard was located on the present site of the Kingston Power Boat Association on Abeel street. Also in this section an old chain ferry plied across the Rondout Creek.

The sloops and schooners built at this and other shipyards along the creek, both in the Wilbur and Eddyville sections and at St. Remy and South Rondout were planned and adapted to navigate smooth inland waters, with broad full bows shaped somewhat like the head of huge fish, and greath breadth of beam for their length. With masts 90 to 110 feet long, a main boom 75 to 85 feet, a top mast 60 to 85 feet and jib, they could spread from 3,000 to 5,000 yards of canvas, and sail closer to the wind than vessels of any other rig or model.

The boat building industry flourished along with the shipping industry at this time. The Delaware and Hudson Canal, which operated from Rondout to Honesdale and which was opened in 1828, was in full swing. After 70 years of operation the canal was sold and abandoned. It had outlived its usefulness and had been superseded by railways, which carried the coal cheaper.

Although the closing of the canal was a sad blow to Kingston, the large shipping interest continued with heavy freight and passenger traffic.

The building of sloops and schooners gave way to the construction of tug boats for the fast growing steam-towing lines and the canal boats were replaced by the larger barges for work on the river, harbor and western canal.

The boat-building industry continues today in the Rondout Creek with the operation of R. Lenahan & Co., Reliance Marine Transportation & Construction Company, Hiltebrant Dry Dock Company, Christie Scow Corp., and the Island Dock Shipyard. In addition to these yards many others operated along the creek from the days of the two-masters down to the present time. In comparatively recent years there were also the yards of Turck, Rafferty and Feeney and Donovan in the Ponckhockie section, Rice's, Murphy's and McCausland's in the Wilbur section and Baisden's in Sleightsburg.

The local boatyards also have been active in turning out boats for the war effort. During World War 1 on the Island Dock, transports were built. In World War 2, Hiltebrant's built mine-sweepers and sub chasers and break-down barges for landings on beachheads also were turned out in the Rondout Creek by Island Dock. Today when we are engaged in another war and preparing for the defense of our country, Hiltebrant's will again construct mine-sweepers and the Island Dock will turn out steel deck barges.

The sound of the calking mallet has a familiar ring for the many men who at one time or another have worked on the shipyards along the Rondout Creek.

Must Teach Democracy

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—High schools must teach the principles of democracy as part of American history courses, under terms of a bill signed today by Governor Dewey. The law, effective Sept. 1, requires instruction in "the principles of government proclaimed in the declaration of independence and established by the Constitution of the United States." An Education Department spokesman said department rules already required such instruction. The new law makes it mandatory. Republican Senator Pliny Williamson of Westchester introduced the bill.

Controversy Is Settled

The controversy between Marian Lanctot and Harold Rankin Towse and wife over title to a parcel of land in the town of Hardenbergh, was settled Tuesday afternoon by stipulation between the parties. Both parties claimed ownership to a parcel of land along the Beaver Kill. August J. Botta and Bernard A. Culloton appeared for the plaintiff and Joseph Heller for the defendants.

Mother Arrested For Abandonment

New York, March 21 (AP)—A 26-year-old Bronx mother, weary of "things in general," has been arrested on charges that she abandoned three of her four small sons.

The woman, Mrs. Lillian Pierce, was arrested last night when she called police on the telephone to ask whether they had found the boys "all right" at home.

She had gone off to the movies with the eldest of the four.

Patrol car policemen arrested her in a midtown phone booth while other police engaged her in conversation.

At her Bronx home, consisting of two furnished rooms at 971 Woodycrest avenue, police found 1½-year-old George and the nine-month-old twins, Michael, and Charles. Near their beds was a note.

"Will you take care of them?" the message asked. "I can't put up any longer with things in general * * *."

These three were taken to the New York Foundling Home, John, 4, was sheltered in a temporary foster home by arrangements with the Welfare Department.

Mrs. Pierce told police she had obtained a warrant for the arrest of her husband, Charles, 32, who left home about a month ago.

She said she received $62 every two weeks in home relief and paid $32.50 a month rent.

"I didn't have the heart to give up my kids," she said. "Now I have made up my mind."

The building of sloops and schooners gave way to the construction of tug boats for the fast growing steam-towing lines and the canal boats were replaced by the larger barges for work on the river, harbor and western canal.

The boat-building industry continues today in the Rondout Creek with the operation of R. Lenahan & Co., Reliance Marine Transportation & Construction Company, Hiltebrant Dry Dock Company, Christie Scow Corp., and the Island Dock Shipyard. In addition to these yards many others operated along the creek from the days of the two-masters down to the present time. In comparatively recent years there were also the yards of Turck, Rafferty and Feeney and Donovan in the Ponckhockie section, Rice's, Murphy's and McCausland's in the Wilbur section and Baisden's in Sleightsburg.

The local boatyards also have been active in turning out boats for the war effort. During World War 1 on the Island Dock, transports were built. In World War 2, Hiltebrant's built mine-sweepers and sub chasers and break-down barges for landings on beachheads also were turned out in the Rondout Creek by Island Dock. Today when we are engaged in another war and preparing for the defense of our country, Hiltebrant's will again construct mine-sweepers and the Island Dock will turn out steel deck barges.

The sound of the calking mallet has a familiar ring for the many men who at one time or another have worked on the shipyards along the Rondout Creek.

Mother Arrested For Abandonment

New York, March 21 (AP)—A 26-year-old Bronx mother, weary of "things in general," has been arrested on charges that she abandoned three of her four small sons.

The woman, Mrs. Lillian Pierce, was arrested last night when she called police on the telephone to ask whether they had found the boys "all right" at home.

She had gone off to the movies with the eldest of the four.

Patrol car policemen arrested her in a midtown phone booth while other police engaged her in conversation.

At her Bronx home, consisting of two furnished rooms at 971 Woodycrest avenue, police found 1½-year-old George and the nine-month-old twins, Michael and Charles. Near their beds was a note.

"Will you take care of them?" the message asked. "I can't put up any longer with things in general * * *."

These three were taken to the New York Foundling Home. John, 4, was sheltered in a temporary foster home by arrangements with the Welfare Department.

Mrs. Pierce told police she had obtained a warrant for the arrest of her husband, Charles, 32, who left home about a month ago.

She said she received $62 every two weeks in home relief and paid $32.50 a month rent.

"I didn't have the heart to give up my kids," she said. "Now I have made up my mind."

Piratic Tribute

From 1796 to 1801, the United States government paid $83,000 a year in tribute to protect American ships from Tripoli pirates, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Must Teach Democracy

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—High schools must teach the principles of democracy as part of American history courses, under terms of a bill signed today by Governor Dewey. The law, effective Sept. 1, requires instruction in "the principles of government proclaimed in the declaration of independence and established by the Constitution of the United States." An Education Department spokesman said department rules already required such instruction. The new law makes it mandatory. Republican Senator Pliny Williamson of Westchester introduced the bill.

Controversy Is Settled

The controversy between Marian Lanctot and Harold Rankin Towse and wife over title to a parcel of land in the town of Hardenbergh, was settled Tuesday afternoon by stipulation between the parties. Both parties claimed ownership to a parcel of land along the Beaver Kill. August J. Botta and Bernard A. Culloton appeared for the plaintiff and Joseph Heller for the defendants.

McCAUSLAND'S SHIP YARD, DRY DOCK & SAW MILL, RONDOUT, ULSTER CO. N.Y.

In the "County Atlas of Ulster," published in 1875 by Walker & Jewett of Vesey street, New York city, are a number of lithographic sketches of industries and residences in Kingston and other sections of Ulster county. The Freeman has in its possession a number of these sketches, which it will reproduce with brief descriptive cutlines.

Depicting these scenes of 76 years ago, we have been informed, has brought back memories to readers who recall the many changes made here down through the years.

This sketch is of McCausland's Shipyard, Dry Dock and Sawmill, Rondout. This shipyard was located on the present site of the Kingston Power Boat Association on Abeel street. Also in this section an old chain ferry plied across the Rondout Creek.

The sloops and schooners built at this and other shipyards along the creek, both in the Wilbur and Eddyville sections and at St. Remy and South Rondout were planned and adapted to navigate smooth inland waters, with broad full bows shaped somewhat like the head of huge fish, and greath breadth of beam for their length. With masts 90 to 110 feet long, a main boom 75 to 85 feet, a top mast 60 to 85 feet and jib, they could spread from 3,000 to 5,000 yards of canvas, and sail closer to the wind than vessels of any other rig or model.

The boat building industry flourished along with the shipping industry at this time. The Delaware and Hudson Canal, which operated from Rondout to Honesdale and which was opened in 1828, was in full swing. After 70 years of operation the canal was sold and abandoned. It had outlived its usefulness and had been superseded by railways, which carried the coal cheaper.

Although the closing of the canal was a sad blow to Kingston, the large shipping interest continued with heavy freight and passenger traffic.

The building of sloops and schooners gave way to the construction of tug boats for the fast growing steam-towing lines and the canal boats were replaced by the larger barges for work on the river, harbor and western canal.

The boat-building industry continues today in the Rondout Creek with the operation of R. Lenahan & Co., Reliance Marine Transportation & Construction Company, Hiltebrant Dry Dock Company, Christie Scow Corp., and the Island Dock Shipyard. In addition to these yards many others operated along the creek from the days of the two-masters down to the present time. In comparatively recent years there were also the yards of Turck, Rafferty and Feeney and Donovan in the Ponckhockie section, Rice's, Murphy's and McCausland's in the Wilbur section and Baisden's in Sleightsburg.

Action Is Defined

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey says he will consider any data showing that New York city can carry its financial load without boosting its sales tax from two to three per cent. But, the governor suggests that such information be submitted for study before Saturday. Dewey described the proposed tax as "onerous" in a telegram sent yesterday to Walter Hoving, a New York department store executive and leader of an anti-sales tax movement.

Local Death Record

Henry Wallace Felts, husband of Julia Felts, died Tuesday in New York. Private funeral services will be held at the Francis J. McCardle Funeral Home, 99 Henry street, at the convenience of the family. Cremation will take place at the Ferncliff Crematory.

Joseph Young, 41, proprietor of Young's Tavern, Mt. Tremper, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. His body was removed by car from the Gormley Funeral Home, Phoenicia, to Glendale, L. I., for funeral services Saturday morning. Besides his wife, Bertha, survivors are several brothers and sisters and his father. He was popular in that area, having been a member of the Phoenicia Fire Department, the Chamber of Commerce there and several fish and game clubs.

Funeral services for Leo F. Herbert, Sr. were held at 9 a. m. today from the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street; and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church where the Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, celebrated the Mass. On Tuesday evening, the Rev. Joseph V. Keating, second assistant pastor of the church, conducted a prayer service at the funeral home and gave the final absolution at the grave. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral services for Elizabeth Secor Monroe, widow of John R. Monroe, of 290 Pearl street, were held at 2 p. m. on Tuesday at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street. The services which were largely attended were conducted by the Rev. William Cain, pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian and Wurts St. Baptist Church; and the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. There were many beautiful floral pieces. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Stone Ridge.

Clarence Van Der Zee of 65 East Pierpont street died Tuesday night in this city following a protracted illness. He is survived by a son, Henry S.; a daughter, Miss June E. Van Der Zee; a brother, Thomas, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Walker and Miss Anna S. Van Der Zee. A granddaughter, April S., and several nieces and nephews also survive. The body is reposing at the Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church where funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. Friends may view the body at the church tonight. Burial will take place in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emilie Marks were held from the late residence Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick of Trinity Lutheran Church officiated, and spoke of the christian character of the deceased. Services were largely attended by the relatives and many friends. The casket lay in a bank of beautiful floral bouquets which were a silent token of the esteem in which Mrs. Marks was held by her many friends. Burial was in the family plot in Montrepose Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Gollnick gave the final blessing. Bearers were William Marks, Albert Marks, Harry Marks, Gordon Marks, Charles Marks and Lee Gregory.

Ex-Convict Killed

New Haven, Conn., March 21 (AP)—Ralph Mele, 46, a New Haven ex-convict was found shot to death early today in East Rock Park. Police theorized he had been "taken for a ride." Mele had been shot in the face several times. The body was warm when it was discovered. Mele was the brother of Alphonse "Zip" Mele, New Haven fight manager and restaurant owner, and Robert Mele, gymnasium owner and fight manager and trainer.

Need Air

Plants get their main nourishment from the air, not the soil. Carbonic acid gas, of which the atmosphere contains only three parts in ten thousand, is the most important part of air to them. The gas is useless to the plants, however, unless light and moisture are present.

About the Folks

Mrs. Joseph Koenig of 116 Andrew street is in the Benedictine Hospital, recuperating from an operation.

Committee Calls For Investigation

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—The legislative committee of the State Council of Churches called today for a state investigation and overhauling of New York's racing and gambling laws.

"We believe that Governor Dewey and the political leaders of this state owe it to themselves to demonstrate that the New York state government is clean government," the committee said in a statement.

A resolution providing for an investigation of all phases of thoroughbred and harness racing in the state was approved by the Legislature last week.

The resolution was offered by Arthur H. Wicks, Senate Republican majority leader.

The council's executive committee said that the complete tie-up between organized crime and political and law enforcement figures had not yet been brought out by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee hearings in New York city.

"We believe the public should know who does the lobbying for the parimutuel interests," the committee said.

The council is composed of representatives of Protestant churches. It's committee watches legislative matters.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, March 21—Miss Lois Arnold, Skidmore College student taking her nursing affiliation at Memorial Hospital in New York, was a recent visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ellen Mahon. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braithwaite, the former Miss Ida Dunnigan of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ammicell of New Rochelle are expected to spend the Easter holidays at the home of Mrs. Ammicell's sister, Mrs. Ellen McMahon.

Fifty members and eight guests attended the second annual dinner of the Chichester Social Club at Al's Restaurant in Phoenicia. Charles Smith, vice-president, acted as toastmaster in the absence of Frank Carle, president. Entertainment was provided by Louis Pavic. Speakers included Herb Epstein, Mrs. Vin Summerville, Mrs. Robert Ostrander, Mrs. Roy Erickson, Mrs. H. Epstein, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Tony Kirk, John Degnon and Mrs. Reginald Bennett.

SHOW MUST GO ON—Blood from a head wound streams down his face, but Hisaya Matsumoto, Japanese newsreel cameraman, keeps grinding away to record a riot between anti-American Korean demonstrators and Tokyo police. Twenty-seven police and 15 of the rioters were injured.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 21 (AP)—Air lines paced a higher stock market today in restricted trading.

Shortly after the opening the air lines started higher with gains ranging upward to a dollar a share.

It was the air line group that had a sudden run of popularity in the final hour of yesterday's market and firmed the entire list as a result.

Commentators point to the currently good earnings position of the whole air lines industry and contend 1951 results should be good.

In addition to the air lines, the steels, rails and motors also were higher and more active than the rest of the list.

A few of the oils were actively higher. It is reported that the Office of Price Stabilization intends to ease the cost-price squeeze on the oil industry all the way through the retailers, refiners and producers.

The air line activity brought on the higher price trend for the first time this week with the gains going beyond a dollar a share.

Sign My Petition?

Grand Island, Nebr. (AP)—Just to prove that some people will sign anything, the Grand Island Daily Independent circulated a petition in Grand Island ostensibly asking the city council for better recreational facilities. But buried in the text of the petition was a request "that I be hanged by the neck until dead." Thirty-five persons signed the petition.

HERE'S THAT MAN AGAIN!—Wouldn't you know that when they started building General Eisenhower's SHAPE headquarters near Paris, that famous wandering G.I., Kilroy, would turn up again? The legendary Yank, whose scrawled "Kilroy Was Here" appeared from Aachen to the Zyul River in World War II, still gets around. The perplexed Frenchman is Capt. Pierre Brunelle, chief of engineers in charge of the construction. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Max Winter.)

Demonstration Backfires

Newport Beach, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. I. G. Peter Beall dropped a $10,000 diamond ring into a restaurant coffee cup to demonstrate to a friend "the cleansing properties of coffee." She forgot about the ring temporarily and a waitress cleared the table. Then Mrs. Beall suddenly remembered. There was a frantic search. Mrs. Beall was heartbroken when the management informed her it was customary to empty cups into a garbage pulverizer before washing them. She'd given up hope when in walked the dishwasher, ring in hand. He'd found it in the suds. How it got there, nobody knows.

What of the Night?

Richmond, Ind. (AP)—The faith of two Richmond families in their watchdogs has been shattered by burglars. Sam Graf told police he and his family returned home to find the house entered, $182 taken, and their "vicious" dog locked in the kitchen. And Ed Bratton came home the same night to find his house ransacked and his watch dog—which he hal felt inside—sitting outside, shivering on the front porch.

Firemen Delay Action on State Mutual Aid Plan

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, meeting in Ellenville last night, left open for further consideration a proposal that would temporarily substitute a state mutual aid plan for that of the present county system during an emergency.

The firemen were guests of the three Ellenville fire companies and met at the Kimble Hose station.

Under a state emergency mutual aid plan an advisory board named by the County Board of Supervisors would be in control locally of an inter-county system during an emergency of any kind.

Members of the association questioned possible overlapping or interference with the county mutual aid system as it now stands and delayed action pending further study and consideration of the plan. It is contended, however, that the state plan will not interfere with the county mutual aid system as it now functions.

Arthur Chipp, of Kerhonkson, is the co-ordinator for the plan as it would be worked under the state mutual aid system for emergencies when the interchange of aid might extend beyond county lines.

The firemen saw a demonstration by William Eckman, factory representative, for the Scott Air-Pak inhalator.

The firemen adjourned in respect to the memory of Frank Oscar, a member of the R. A. Snyder Hose Company, of Saugerties, who died March 19.

The firemen will be guests of the Modena, Clintondale and Plattekill fire companies at Modena for the next session on April 17.

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey says he will consider any data showing that New York city can carry its financial load without boosting its sales tax from two to three per cent. But, the governor suggests that such information be submitted for study before Saturday. Dewey described the proposed tax as "onerous" in a telegram sent yesterday to Walter Hoving, a New York department store executive and leader of an anti-sales tax movement.

Local Death Record

Henry Wallace Felts, husband of Julia Felts, died Tuesday in New York. Private funeral services will be held at the Francis J. McCardle Funeral Home, 99 Henry street, at the convenience of the family. Cremation will take place at the Ferncliff Crematory.

Joseph Young, 41, proprietor of Young's Tavern, Mt. Tremper, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. His body was removed by car from the Gormley Funeral Home, Phoenicia, to Glendale, L. I., for funeral services Saturday morning. Besides his wife, Bertha, survivors are several brothers and sisters and his father. He was popular in that area, having been a member of the Phoenicia Fire Department, the Chamber of Commerce there and several fish and game clubs.

Funeral services for Leo F. Herbert, Sr. were held at 9 a. m. today from the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street; and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church where the Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, celebrated the Mass. On Tuesday evening, the Rev. Joseph V. Keating, second assistant pastor of the church, conducted a prayer service at the funeral home and gave the final absolution at the grave. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral services for Elizabeth Secor Monroe, widow of John R. Monroe, of 290 Pearl street, were held at 2 p. m. on Tuesday at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street. The services which were largely attended were conducted by the Rev. William Cain, pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian and Wurts St. Baptist Church; and the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. There were many beautiful floral pieces. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Stone Ridge.

Clarence Van Der Zee of 65 East Pierpont street died Tuesday night in this city following a protracted illness. He is survived by a son, Henry S.; a daughter, Miss June E. Van Der Zee; a brother, Thomas, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Walker and Miss Anna S. Van Der Zee. A granddaughter, April S., and several nieces and nephews also survive. The body is reposing at the Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church where funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. Friends may view the body at the church tonight. Burial will take place in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emilie Marks were held from the late residence Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick of Trinity Lutheran Church officiated, and spoke of the christian character of the deceased. Services were largely attended by the relatives and many friends. The casket lay in a bank of beautiful floral bouquets which were a silent token of the esteem in which Mrs. Marks was held by her many friends. Burial was in the family plot in Montrepose Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Gollnick gave the final blessing. Bearers were William Marks, Albert Marks, Harry Marks, Gordon Marks, Charles Marks and Lee Gregory.

Ex-Convict Killed

New Haven, Conn., March 21 (AP)—Ralph Mele, 46, a New Haven ex-convict was found shot to death early today in East Rock Park. Police theorized he had been "taken for a ride." Mele had been shot in the face several times. The body was warm when it was discovered. Mele was the brother of Alphonse "Zip" Mele, New Haven fight manager and restaurant owner, and Robert Mele, gymnasium owner and fight manager and trainer.

Need Air

Plants get their main nourishment from the air, not the soil. Carbonic acid gas, of which the atmosphere contains only three parts in ten thousand, is the most important part of air to them. The gas is useless to the plants, however, unless light and moisture are present.

Committee Calls For Investigation

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—The legislative committee of the State Council of Churches called today for a state investigation and overhauling of New York's racing and gambling laws.

"We believe that Governor Dewey and the political leaders of this state owe it to themselves to demonstrate that the New York state government is clean government," the committee said in a statement.

A resolution providing for an investigation of all phases of thoroughbred and harness racing in the state was approved by the Legislature last week.

The resolution was offered by Arthur H. Wicks, Senate Republican majority leader.

The council's executive committee said that the complete tie-up between organized crime and political and law enforcement figures had not yet been brought out by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee hearings in New York city.

"We believe the public should know who does the lobbying for the parimutuel interests," the committee said.

The council is composed of representatives of Protestant churches. It's committee watches legislative matters.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, March 21—Miss Lois Arnold, Skidmore College student taking her nursing affiliation at Memorial Hospital in New York, was a recent visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ellen Mahon. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braithwaite, the former Miss Ida Dunnigan of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ammicell of New Rochelle are expected to spend the Easter holidays at the home of Mrs. Ammicell's sister, Mrs. Ellen McMahon.

Fifty members and eight guests attended the second annual dinner of the Chichester Social Club at Al's Restaurant in Phoenicia. Charles Smith, vice-president, acted as toastmaster in the absence of Frank Carle, president. Entertainment was provided by Louis Pavic. Speakers included Herb Epstein, Mrs. Vin Summerville, Mrs. Robert Ostrander, Mrs. Roy Erickson, Mrs. H. Epstein, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Tony Kirk, John Degnon and Mrs. Reginald Bennett.

SHOW MUST GO ON—Blood from a head wound streams down his face, but Hisaya Matsumoto, Japanese newsreel cameraman, keeps grinding away to record a riot between anti-American Korean demonstrators and Tokyo police. Twenty-seven police and 15 of the rioters were injured.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 21 (AP)—Air lines paced a higher stock market today in restricted trading.

Shortly after the opening the air lines started higher with gains ranging upward to a dollar a share.

It was the air line group that had a sudden run of popularity in the final hour of yesterday's market and firmed the entire list as a result.

Commentators point to the currently good earnings position of the whole air lines industry and contend 1951 results should be good.

In addition to the air lines, the steels, rails and motors also were higher and more active than the rest of the list.

A few of the oils were actively higher. It is reported that the Office of Price Stabilization intends to ease the cost-price squeeze on the oil industry all the way through the retailers, refiners and producers.

The air line activity brought on the higher price trend for the first time this week with the gains going beyond a dollar a share.

Local Death Record

Henry Wallace Felts, husband of Julia Felts, died Tuesday in New York. Private funeral services will be held at the Francis J. McCardle Funeral Home, 99 Henry street, at the convenience of the family. Cremation will take place at the Ferncliff Crematory.

Joseph Young, 41, proprietor of Young's Tavern, Mt. Tremper, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. His body was removed by car from the Gormley Funeral Home, Phoenicia, to Glendale, L. I., for funeral services Saturday morning. Besides his wife, Bertha, survivors are several brothers and sisters and his father. He was popular in that area, having been a member of the Phoenicia Fire Department, the Chamber of Commerce there and several fish and game clubs.

Funeral services for Leo F. Herbert, Sr. were held at 9 a. m. today from the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street; and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church where the Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, celebrated the Mass. On Tuesday evening, the Rev. Joseph V. Keating, second assistant pastor of the church, conducted a prayer service at the funeral home and gave the final absolution at the grave. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral services for Elizabeth Secor Monroe, widow of John R. Monroe, of 290 Pearl street, were held at 2 p. m. on Tuesday at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street. The services which were largely attended were conducted by the Rev. William Cain, pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian and Wurts St. Baptist Church; and the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. There were many beautiful floral pieces. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Stone Ridge.

Clarence Van Der Zee of 65 East Pierpont street died Tuesday night in this city following a protracted illness. He is survived by a son, Henry S.; a daughter, Miss June E. Van Der Zee; a brother, Thomas, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Walker and Miss Anna S. Van Der Zee. A granddaughter, April S., and several nieces and nephews also survive. The body is reposing at the Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church where funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. Friends may view the body at the church tonight. Burial will take place in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emilie Marks were held from the late residence Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick of Trinity Lutheran Church officiated, and spoke of the christian character of the deceased. Services were largely attended by the relatives and many friends. The casket lay in a bank of beautiful floral bouquets which were a silent token of the esteem in which Mrs. Marks was held by her many friends. Burial was in the family plot in Montrepose Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Gollnick gave the final blessing. Bearers were William Marks, Albert Marks, Harry Marks, Gordon Marks, Charles Marks and Lee Gregory.

Ex-Convict Killed

New Haven, Conn., March 21 (AP)—Ralph Mele, 46, a New Haven ex-convict was found shot to death early today in East Rock Park. Police theorized he had been "taken for a ride." Mele had been shot in the face several times. The body was warm when it was discovered. Mele was the brother of Alphonse "Zip" Mele, New Haven fight manager and restaurant owner, and Robert Mele, gymnasium owner and fight manager and trainer.

Need Air

Plants get their main nourishment from the air, not the soil. Carbonic acid gas, of which the atmosphere contains only three parts in ten thousand, is the most important part of air to them. The gas is useless to the plants, however, unless light and moisture are present.

Committee Calls For Investigation

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—The legislative committee of the State Council of Churches called today for a state investigation and overhauling of New York's racing and gambling laws.

"We believe that Governor Dewey and the political leaders of this state owe it to themselves to demonstrate that the New York state government is clean government," the committee said in a statement.

A resolution providing for an investigation of all phases of thoroughbred and harness racing in the state was approved by the Legislature last week.

The resolution was offered by Arthur H. Wicks, Senate Republican majority leader.

The council's executive committee said that the complete tie-up between organized crime and political and law enforcement figures had not yet been brought out by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee hearings in New York city.

"We believe the public should know who does the lobbying for the parimutuel interests," the committee said.

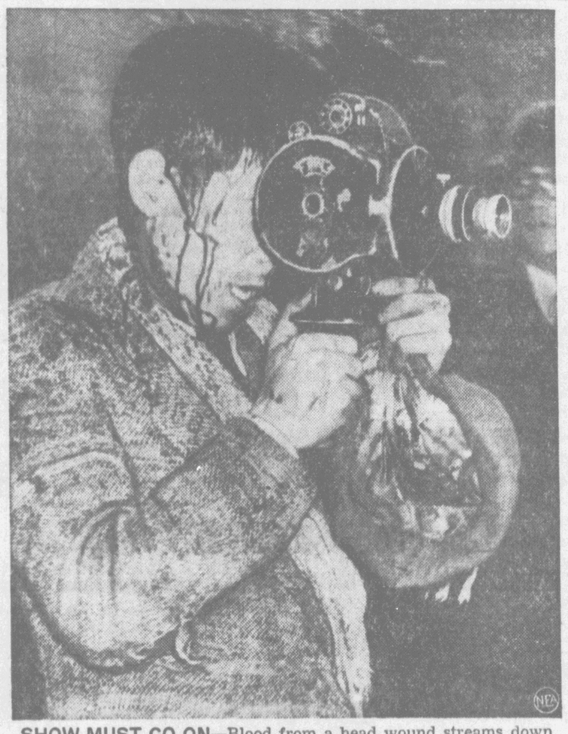
The council is composed of representatives of Protestant churches. It's committee watches legislative matters.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, March 21—Miss Lois Arnold, Skidmore College student taking her nursing affiliation at Memorial Hospital in New York, was a recent visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ellen Mahon. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braithwaite, the former Miss Ida Dunnigan of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ammicell of New Rochelle are expected to spend the Easter holidays at the home of Mrs. Ammicell's sister, Mrs. Ellen McMahon.

Fifty members and eight guests attended the second annual dinner of the Chichester Social Club at Al's Restaurant in Phoenicia. Charles Smith, vice-president, acted as toastmaster in the absence of Frank Carle, president. Entertainment was provided by Louis Pavic. Speakers included Herb Epstein, Mrs. Vin Summerville, Mrs. Robert Ostrander, Mrs. Roy Erickson, Mrs. H. Epstein, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Tony Kirk, John Degnon and Mrs. Reginald Bennett.



SHOW MUST GO ON—Blood from a head wound streams down his face, but Hisaya Matsumoto, Japanese newsreel cameraman, keeps grinding away to record a riot between anti-American Korean demonstrators and Tokyo police. Twenty-seven police and 15 of the rioters were injured.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 21 (AP)—Air lines paced a higher stock market today in restricted trading.

Shortly after the opening the air lines started higher with gains ranging upward to a dollar a share.

It was the air line group that had a sudden run of popularity in the final hour of yesterday's market and firmed the entire list as a result.

Commentators point to the currently good earnings position of the whole air lines industry and contend 1951 results should be good.

In addition to the air lines, the steels, rails and motors also were higher and more active than the rest of the list.

A few of the oils were actively higher. It is reported that the Office of Price Stabilization intends to ease the cost-price squeeze on the oil industry all the way through the retailers, refiners and producers.

The air line activity brought on the higher price trend for the first time this week with the gains going beyond a dollar a share.

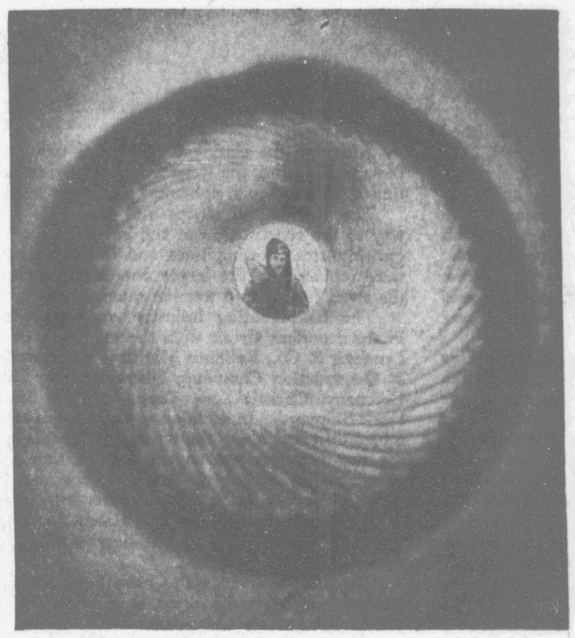
Sign My Petition?

Grand Island, Nebr. (AP)—Just to prove that some people will sign anything, the Grand Island Daily Independent circulated a petition in Grand Island ostensibly asking the city council for better recreational facilities. But buried in the text of the petition was a request "that I be hanged by the neck until dead." Thirty-five persons signed the petition.

HERE'S THAT MAN AGAIN!—Wouldn't you know that when they started building General Eisenhower's SHAPE headquarters near Paris, that famous wandering G.I., Kilroy, would turn up again? The legendary Yank, whose scrawled "Kilroy Was Here" appeared from Aachen to the Zyul River in World War II, still gets around. The perplexed Frenchman is Capt. Pierre Brunelle, chief of engineers in charge of the construction. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Max Winter.)



YANK IN THE BREECH—Slightly rifled, but true, is this shell's-eye view of the outer world as seen through the barrel of a 155-mm. howitzer on the central Korean front. NEA-Acme Staff Photographer Bert Ashworth took this down-the-barrel view of Sgt. Ben Mitchell of Pulaski, Va., a gun crew member.

Demonstration Backfires

Newport Beach, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. I. G. Peter Beall dropped a $10,000 diamond ring into a restaurant coffee cup to demonstrate to a friend "the cleansing properties of coffee." She forgot about the ring temporarily and a waitress cleared the table. Then Mrs. Beall suddenly remembered. There was a frantic search. Mrs. Beall was heartbroken when the management informed her it was customary to empty cups into a garbage pulverizer before washing them. She'd given up hope when in walked the dishwasher, ring in hand. He'd found it in the suds. How it got there, nobody knows.

What of the Night?

Richmond, Ind. (AP)—The faith of two Richmond families in their watchdogs has been shattered by burglars. Sam Graf told police he and his family returned home to find the house entered, $182 taken, and their "vicious" dog locked in the kitchen. And Ed Bratton came home the same night to find his house ransacked and his watch dog—which he hal felt inside—sitting outside, shivering on the front porch.

Firemen Delay Action on State Mutual Aid Plan

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, meeting in Ellenville last night, left open for further consideration a proposal that would temporarily substitute a state mutual aid plan for that of the present county system during an emergency.

The firemen were guests of the three Ellenville fire companies and met at the Kimble Hose station.

Under a state emergency mutual aid plan an advisory board named by the County Board of Supervisors would be in control locally of an inter-county system during an emergency of any kind.

Members of the association questioned possible overlapping or interference with the county mutual aid system as it now stands and delayed action pending further study and consideration of the plan. It is contended, however, that the state plan will not interfere with the county mutual aid system as it now functions.

Arthur Chipp, of Kerhonkson, is the co-ordinator for the plan as it would be worked under the state mutual aid system for emergencies when the interchange of aid might extend beyond county lines.

The firemen saw a demonstration by William Eckman, factory representative, for the Scott Air-Pak inhalator.

The firemen adjourned in respect to the memory of Frank Oscar, a member of the R. A. Snyder Hose Company, of Saugerties, who died March 19.

The firemen will be guests of the Modena, Clintondale and Plattekill fire companies at Modena for the next session on April 17.

Appeal Made Here For Speedy Rescue Of 100,000 Jews

Erwin Savelson, well-known American newspaperman who has just returned from an extended tour of Israel, warned that "only 75 days are left to bring to safety in Israel nearly 100,000 homeless Jews facing emigration deadlines in Eastern Europe and Moslem areas," and urged residents of the communities in eastern New York state to send help swiftly "to rescue these desperate people."

"It is up to the United Jewish Appeal," Mr. Savelson told more than 200 Jewish leaders in this area meeting for a "rescue" conference at the Governor Clinton Hotel, "to decide by its fund-raising action whether these homeless men, women and children, victims of World War 2 and the post-war upheaval, will be moved to Israel in time or whether they will be left behind to live in the shadow of fear and oppression."

Conference Co-Chairman Joseph E. Honig of Kingston and Sol M. Reiter of Newburgh assured Mr. Savelson that "the people in Eastern New York recognize their responsibility to their Jewish brothers and sisters overseas in this crucial hour, and will respond to the need by immediately advancing their share of the nation-wide 1951 United Jewish Appeal budget of $203,684,000."

Hyman Lefcowitz of Buffalo, N. Y., a member of the UJA National Campaign Cabinet, urged the leaders to inform their communities "of the paramount need for speed in meeting the obligations of the United Jewish Appeal for Israel aid, overseas relief and assistance to newcomers to the United States."

Rabbi Irving Miller, president of the American Jewish Congress, described the plight of the homeless, the sick and the aged who seek a haven in Israel. "Israel opens her gates to all who want to come," he said. "Her population has nearly doubled in the less than three years since the state was founded. Still they come, the weary Jews who have no other home, and still the gates are kept open. We must give to help them live, to help Israel grow and flourish. We must help to the limits of our ability, and beyond."

The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution urging all-out support for the 1951 United Jewish Appeal, and calling upon the Jewish communities of Eastern New York "to take all possible steps immediately to speed to completion their local UJA campaign."

In his talk, Mr. Lefcowitz declared: "We must immediately obtain the funds to provide air and sea transportation to Israel for homeless Jews. At the same time, we are engaged in a race against time under conditions of increasing world tension to get underway those agricultural and rehabilitation programs in Israel and elsewhere that are so essential to restoring the dignity and self-reliance of the men and women that are beginning new lives.

"At least 120 new agricultural settlements in Israel must be established with UJA aid," Mr. Lefcowitz stated, "to enable the newcomers to achieve a self-supporting status. At the same time, 236 old settlements must be expanded, and a large scale program of afforestation, land reclamation and irrigation must be pushed to give immediate employment to 100,000 of the new comers. Housing units in rural areas for 40,000 immigrants must also be erected."

The United Jewish Appeal in 1951, Mr. Lefcowitz pointed out, "must also provide relief, welfare, medical and child care assistance to 400,000 Jews in Europe and other lands of distress. Finally," Mr. Lefcowitz concluded, "we must help resettle and speed the full integration and rehabilitation into self-supporting productive citizens of 25,000 newcomers to the United States and other western lands."

Of particular interest to many of the delegates was the presentation of certificates of achievement to two men of the eastern New York area whom the National United Jewish Appeal took the occasion to honor for their many years of devoted service to the cause. The men so honored were Ben Silverman of Kingston and Fred Stern of Newburgh. The certificate to Mr. Silverman was presented by Abraham Streifer, chairman of the Kingston 1951 campaign. Mr. Silverman this year, as for the past 10-years, will serve as campaign treasurer. The award to Fred Stern was made by Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom, president of the Newburgh 1951 Campaign. The meeting closed with the presentation of checks by leaders of the various communities represented at the conference as advanced payments upon their 1951 campaigns. These amounted to approximately $100,000 and will help meet the immediate need pending the completion of this year's campaigns.

Seven Children Perish

Brantford, Ont., March 21 (AP)—Seven children perished in a fire that raced through a frame house in the Six Nations Indian Reservation yesterday. Bodies of six children of Wilford Henry, owner of the dwelling, and 16-year-old Arthur Crawford, a partially crippled cousin, were discovered in the ruins. The dead ranged in age from one to 16 years. Marvin Henry, 14, escaped by jumping from an upstairs window. He said he had urged the others to follow him but none did. A gas lamp hanging too close to the ceiling was blamed for the fire. Mrs. Henry was away at a neighbor's house. She said her husband was in the United States and their eldest daughter Irma June, 18, was in Buffalo, N. Y.

First Aid Course Planned in Line With Civil Defense

Dr. Robert H. Broad, deputy director for medical services in the Ulster county program for civilian defense, today released the following information of utmost importance to the citizens of Ulster county relating to "Self Help and Neighbor Help for the Injured."

This is a course of training in first aid for the average citizen to learn basic facts and skills he needs to help himself, his family and his neighbor until medical attention can be obtained. This course is intended for and will be offered to everyone of high school age and above. It will be taught as four sessions of two hours each being completed in two weeks.

Two nurses from Ulster county, Mrs. Helen VanKirk of the Ellenville Schools and Miss Anne Cassidy of the Ulster County Health Department, have attended orientation classes in Albany and are prepared to conduct similar training courses for instructors. These instructors will, on a volunteer basis, in turn conduct classes for the public.

Instructors Needed

A large corps of instructors will be needed to give all citizens an opportunity to take the course. Volunteer instructors are needed from all sections of the county. The course for instructors, twelve hours in length, will be limited to 12-15 persons, preferably but not necessarily, individuals who have had previous first aid training.

The course for instructors will be conducted in various localities based upon the number of volunteers from each area who will be willing to train others. Persons from organizations are especially desired, in that their lodge, club, or association is a preformed group to whom the course may be given. As a service to their community, organizations might well use this course as their project for the year by selecting a group of twelve or fifteen who would take the instructors course and serve as the teachers in their community.

Volunteers to take the course and serve as instructors are urgently needed. They may call Kingston 5300 week days between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., Saturdays between 9 a. m. and 12 noon, or write to Dr. Robert H. Broad, 15 Main street, stating their desire to serve.

Red Cross Field Director

The Red Cross field director is the GI's best friend. Whether it be on the battle front or in a military installation in this country, the field director is there to help the serviceman with his problems and to act as a liaison between him and his family. A dependable round-the-clock system of emergency communication and fact-finding between the serviceman and his home, no matter in what part of the world or the nation he may be, is made possible by the presence of the Red Cross field director. He travels with them through mud and snow, heat and cold, and is always ready with aids for their comfort that are at his disposal.

Honor Roll Correction

It was announced through the principal's office at Kingston High School today that the name of Sally Sherman should have appeared with students on the 90 per cent honor roll instead of among those with 85 per cent where it was inadvertently listed by the school.

Appeal Made Here For Speedy Rescue Of 100,000 Jews

Erwin Savelson, well-known American newspaperman who has just returned from an extended tour of Israel, warned that "only 75 days are left to bring to safety in Israel nearly 100,000 homeless Jews facing emigration deadlines in Eastern Europe and Moslem areas," and urged residents of the communities in eastern New York state to send help swiftly "to rescue these desperate people."

"It is up to the United Jewish Appeal," Mr. Savelson told more than 200 Jewish leaders in this area meeting for a "rescue" conference at the Governor Clinton Hotel, "to decide by its fund-raising action whether these homeless men, women and children, victims of World War 2 and the post-war upheaval, will be moved to Israel in time or whether they will be left behind to live in the shadow of fear and oppression."

Conference Co-Chairman Joseph E. Honig of Kingston and Sol M. Reiter of Newburgh assured Mr. Savelson that "the people in Eastern New York recognize their responsibility to their Jewish brothers and sisters overseas in this crucial hour, and will respond to the need by immediately advancing their share of the nation-wide 1951 United Jewish Appeal budget of $203,684,000."

Hyman Lefcowitz of Buffalo, N. Y., a member of the UJA National Campaign Cabinet, urged the leaders to inform their communities "of the paramount need for speed in meeting the obligations of the United Jewish Appeal for Israel aid, overseas relief and assistance to newcomers to the United States."

Rabbi Irving Miller, president of the American Jewish Congress, described the plight of the homeless, the sick and the aged who seek a haven in Israel. "Israel opens her gates to all who want to come," he said. "Her population has nearly doubled in the less than three years since the state was founded. Still they come, the weary Jews who have no other home, and still the gates are kept open. We must give to help them live, to help Israel grow and flourish. We must help to the limits of our ability, and beyond."

The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution urging all-out support for the 1951 United Jewish Appeal, and calling upon the Jewish communities of Eastern New York "to take all possible steps immediately to speed to completion their local UJA campaign."

In his talk, Mr. Lefcowitz declared: "We must immediately obtain the funds to provide air and sea transportation to Israel for homeless Jews. At the same time, we are engaged in a race against time under conditions of increasing world tension to get underway those agricultural and rehabilitation programs in Israel and elsewhere that are so essential to restoring the dignity and self-reliance of the men and women that are beginning new lives.

"At least 120 new agricultural settlements in Israel must be established with UJA aid," Mr. Lefcowitz stated, "to enable the newcomers to achieve a self-supporting status. At the same time, 236 old settlements must be expanded, and a large scale program of afforestation, land reclamation and irrigation must be pushed to give immediate employment to 100,000 of the new comers. Housing units in rural areas for 40,000 immigrants must also be erected."

The United Jewish Appeal in 1951, Mr. Lefcowitz pointed out, "must also provide relief, welfare, medical and child care assistance to 400,000 Jews in Europe and other lands of distress. Finally," Mr. Lefcowitz concluded, "we must help resettle and speed the full integration and rehabilitation into self-supporting productive citizens of 25,000 newcomers to the United States and other western lands."

Of particular interest to many of the delegates was the presentation of certificates of achievement to two men of the eastern New York area whom the National United Jewish Appeal took the occasion to honor for their many years of devoted service to the cause. The men so honored were Ben Silverman of Kingston and Fred Stern of Newburgh. The certificate to Mr. Silverman was presented by Abraham Streifer, chairman of the Kingston 1951 campaign. Mr. Silverman this year, as for the past 10-years, will serve as campaign treasurer. The award to Fred Stern was made by Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom, president of the Newburgh 1951 Campaign. The meeting closed with the presentation of checks by leaders of the various communities represented at the conference as advanced payments upon their 1951 campaigns. These amounted to approximately $100,000 and will help meet the immediate need pending the completion of this year's campaigns.

Draft Calls

Local draft headquarters today announced that 54 men are scheduled to be called by Local Board 18 (city) for pre-induction physical examination on April 3. The same board is slated to induct 23 men on April 12. Local Board 19 (county) is scheduled to induct 42 men on April 9 and to call 95 for pre-induction examination on April 18.

Seven Children Perish

Brantford, Ont., March 21 (AP)—Seven children perished in a fire that raced through a frame house in the Six Nations Indian Reservation yesterday. Bodies of six children of Wilford Henry, owner of the dwelling, and 16-year-old Arthur Crawford, a partially crippled cousin, were discovered in the ruins. The dead ranged in age from one to 16 years. Marvin Henry, 14, escaped by jumping from an upstairs window. He said he had urged the others to follow him but none did. A gas lamp hanging too close to the ceiling was blamed for the fire. Mrs. Henry was away at a neighbor's house. She said her husband was in the United States and their eldest daughter Irma June, 18, was in Buffalo, N. Y.

First Aid Course Planned in Line With Civil Defense

Dr. Robert H. Broad, deputy director for medical services in the Ulster county program for civilian defense, today released the following information of utmost importance to the citizens of Ulster county relating to "Self Help and Neighbor Help for the Injured."

This is a course of training in first aid for the average citizen to learn basic facts and skills he needs to help himself, his family and his neighbor until medical attention can be obtained. This course is intended for and will be offered to everyone of high school age and above. It will be taught as four sessions of two hours each being completed in two weeks.

Two nurses from Ulster county, Mrs. Helen VanKirk of the Ellenville Schools and Miss Anne Cassidy of the Ulster County Health Department, have attended orientation classes in Albany and are prepared to conduct similar training courses for instructors. These instructors will, on a volunteer basis, in turn conduct classes for the public.

Instructors Needed

A large corps of instructors will be needed to give all citizens an opportunity to take the course. Volunteer instructors are needed from all sections of the county. The course for instructors, twelve hours in length, will be limited to 12-15 persons, preferably but not necessarily, individuals who have had previous first aid training.

The course for instructors will be conducted in various localities based upon the number of volunteers from each area who will be willing to train others. Persons from organizations are especially desired, in that their lodge, club, or association is a preformed group to whom the course may be given. As a service to their community, organizations might well use this course as their project for the year by selecting a group of twelve or fifteen who would take the instructors course and serve as the teachers in their community.

Volunteers to take the course and serve as instructors are urgently needed. They may call Kingston 5300 week days between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., Saturdays between 9 a. m. and 12 noon, or write to Dr. Robert H. Broad, 15 Main street, stating their desire to serve.

Red Cross Field Director

The Red Cross field director is the GI's best friend. Whether it be on the battle front or in a military installation in this country, the field director is there to help the serviceman with his problems and to act as a liaison between him and his family. A dependable round-the-clock system of emergency communication and fact-finding between the serviceman and his home, no matter in what part of the world or the nation he may be, is made possible by the presence of the Red Cross field director. He travels with them through mud and snow, heat and cold, and is always ready with aids for their comfort that are at his disposal.

Honor Roll Correction

It was announced through the principal's office at Kingston High School today that the name of Sally Sherman should have appeared with students on the 90 per cent honor roll instead of among those with 85 per cent where it was inadvertently listed by the school.

Guest artist for the third concert of the Winter Series of the United States Military Academy Band, Bandmaster Francis E. Resta announced today, will be Percy Aldridge Grainger, composer, pianist, and conductor of international repute. Only last month the U.S.M.A. band performed with Mr. Grainger at Carnegie Hall.

Program for the concert is as follows: Overture, Tannhauser, Wagner; Movement No. 1, Symphony in D, Franck; Suite, The French Quarter, Morrisey; Concerto in B Flat Minor, Tschaikowsky, (Mr. Grainger will conduct the above); Lads of Wamphrey March, Grainger; Hillsong No. 2, Grainger; Chosen Gems for Winds, Grainger arrangement; The Gumsuckers' March, Grainger.

No admission will be charged for the concert, and the public is invited to attend.

Miss A. Millonig Plans Organ Recital At Old First Church

Miss Alice Millonig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Millonig, 99 Clinton avenue, will give an organ recital at the First Dutch Reformed Church, Monday, 8:15 p. m. She will be assisted by Miss Susan Reiter, flutist, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Donna Hyatt, contralto, of this city. The public is invited.

Miss Millonig, who is a senior at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, Pa., has studied organ for several years. She began her organ work with Mrs. Raymond Rignall of Arlington, Va., formerly of this city, and has studied during the summer at Deerwood Adirondack Music Camp, Saranac Lake, and with Frederick Mayer, organist at West Point Military Chapel. She also participated in school orchestras and was assistant accompanist for the Kingston High School A Cappella Choir.

Miss Reiter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Reiter, is a junior at Penn Hall, where she is Miss Millonig's roommate. She has studied flute for a number of years, with musicians of the Boston Symphony and also in Pittsburgh. She won two annual Pennsylvania State Competitions and plays with the Chambersburg, Pa., Symphony.

Miss Hyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hyatt, 204 Main street, is a senior at Kingston High School. She is a soloist with the A Cappella Choir and has been soloist on many occasions in the community.

The program will include the following organ numbers: Suite Modale (Koral and Adagio), Peeters; Suite Gothique (Minuet), Boellman; Ich Ruf Zu Dir, Herr Jesu Christ, Bach; Christ Lag im Todesban Den, Bach; Song of the Basket Weaver, Russell; Memories of Dunfermline Abbey, Wolf; and Toccata on "O Filli et Fliae," Farnam.

Flute selections will include Arioso, Bach, arranged by Georges Barrere; Concertino, Opus 107, Chaminade; Le Petit Negre, Debussy.

Songs will be A Song of Thanksgiving, Allitsen; Bist du bei Mir, Bach; and Iris, Wolf.

Saugerties Holds Art Exhibition

Guests and friends of the Saugerties Art Association attended a special opening of the spring exhibition and tea at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, Livingston street, Saugerties. Mrs. Iris Bogoson, and Mrs. Evelyn Rightmeyer were the hostesses.

Highlight of the opening was a demonstration portrait by Mark Vukovic of Woodstock of Attorney Percy Decker of Catskill.

Arrangements Are Completed for Music, Meditation Program

Arrangements have been completed for a music and meditation service Good Friday at 8 p. m. in the Old First Reformed Church, Donald Romme, minister of music at the church, announced today. The service will include two premiere performances of works written by Mr. Romme.

First of these works, Mr. Romme explained, is a setting for piano, organ, and chorus of the chorale-melody, O Sacred Head, Now Wounded. The melody itself was composed by Hans Leo Hassler in 1601, and was used later in many different harmonizations by Johann Sebastian Bach. Mr. Romme's harmonization was written in February especially for performance during the Good Friday service.

The second work to be presented that evening will be a cantata, The Cross of Christ, with text based on scriptural passages pertinent to Christ's seven last words on the cross. There are also additional meditative passages.

The cantata, which was originally composed in 1946, was rewritten in January. It begins with an instrumental statement of two themes, which evolve into the main thematic material for the entire work. Meanwhile, the chorus' first entrance is a broad statement of the work's textual significance: "In the cross of Christ I glory . . ." The narration begins from this introduction, with Christ's condemnation by the chief priests, and His sentencing by Pilate. A meditation by the soprano soloist follows: "Ah! dearest Jesus! How hast Thou offended?"

The narration continues through the Third Word, when it is interrupted by an organ intermezzo, and the contralto meditation: "O come and mourn with me a while." Again the narration picks up the thread, carrying on to Christ's death on the cross. The conclusion, beginning, "Here the King of all the ages," reflects on the significance of the action.

The senior choir will be assisted by Mrs. Lester Decker, organist; Howard Houghtaling, pianist; and Miss Elizabeth Sherman, Mrs. Collete Sonnenberg, Arnold Adams, John Hill, William Murray, and Chase Page, soloists. Mr. Romme will direct.

Percy A. Grainger To Be Guest Artist At U.S.M.A. Concert

Guest artist for the third concert of the Winter Series of the United States Military Academy Band, Bandmaster Francis E. Resta announced today, will be Percy Aldridge Grainger, composer, pianist, and conductor of international repute. Only last month the U.S.M.A. band performed with Mr. Grainger at Carnegie Hall.

Program for the concert is as follows: Overture, Tannhauser, Wagner; Movement No. 1, Symphony in D, Franck; Suite, The French Quarter, Morrisey; Concerto in B Flat Minor, Tschaikowsky, (Mr. Grainger will conduct the above); Lads of Wamphrey March, Grainger; Hillsong No. 2, Grainger; Chosen Gems for Winds, Grainger arrangement; The Gumsuckers' March, Grainger.

No admission will be charged for the concert, and the public is invited to attend.

Miss A. Millonig Plans Organ Recital At Old First Church

Miss Alice Millonig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Millonig, 99 Clinton avenue, will give an organ recital at the First Dutch Reformed Church, Monday, 8:15 p. m. She will be assisted by Miss Susan Reiter, flutist, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Donna Hyatt, contralto, of this city. The public is invited.

Miss Millonig, who is a senior at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, Pa., has studied organ for several years. She began her organ work with Mrs. Raymond Rignall of Arlington, Va., formerly of this city, and has studied during the summer at Deerwood Adirondack Music Camp, Saranac Lake, and with Frederick Mayer, organist at West Point Military Chapel. She also participated in school orchestras and was assistant accompanist for the Kingston High School A Cappella Choir.

Miss Reiter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Reiter, is a junior at Penn Hall, where she is Miss Millonig's roommate. She has studied flute for a number of years, with musicians of the Boston Symphony and also in Pittsburgh. She won two annual Pennsylvania State Competitions and plays with the Chambersburg, Pa., Symphony.

Miss Hyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hyatt, 204 Main street, is a senior at Kingston High School. She is a soloist with the A Cappella Choir and has been soloist on many occasions in the community.

The program will include the following organ numbers: Suite Modale (Koral and Adagio), Peeters; Suite Gothique (Minuet), Boellman; Ich Ruf Zu Dir, Herr Jesu Christ, Bach; Christ Lag im Todesban Den, Bach; Song of the Basket Weaver, Russell; Memories of Dunfermline Abbey, Wolf; and Toccata on "O Filii et Fliae," Farnam.

Flute selections will include Arioso, Bach, arranged by Georges Barrere; Concertino, Opus 107, Chaminade; Le Petit Negre, Debussy.

Songs will be A Song of Thanksgiving, Allitsen; Bist du bei Mir, Bach; and Iris, Wolf.

Saugerties Holds Art Exhibition

Guests and friends of the Saugerties Art Association attended a special opening of the spring exhibition and tea at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, Livingston street, Saugerties. Mrs. Iris Bogoson, and Mrs. Evelyn Rightmeyer were the hostesses.

Highlight of the opening was a demonstration portrait by Mark Vukovic of Woodstock of Attorney Percy Decker of Catskill.

Arrangements Are Completed for Music, Meditation Program

Arrangements have been completed for a music and meditation service Good Friday at 8 p. m. in the Old First Reformed Church, Donald Romme, minister of music at the church, announced today. The service will include two premiere performances of works written by Mr. Romme.

First of these works, Mr. Romme explained, is a setting for piano, organ, and chorus of the chorale-melody, O Sacred Head, Now Wounded. The melody itself was composed by Hans Leo Hassler in 1601, and was used later in many different harmonizations by Johann Sebastian Bach. Mr. Romme's harmonization was written in February especially for performance during the Good Friday service.

The second work to be presented that evening will be a cantata, The Cross of Christ, with text based on scriptural passages pertinent to Christ's seven last words on the cross. There are also additional meditative passages.

The cantata, which was originally composed in 1946, was rewritten in January. It begins with an instrumental statement of two themes, which evolve into the main thematic material for the entire work. Meanwhile, the chorus' first entrance is a broad statement of the work's textual significance: "In the cross of Christ I glory . . ." The narration begins from this introduction, with Christ's condemnation by the chief priests, and His sentencing by Pilate. A meditation by the soprano soloist follows: "Ah! dearest Jesus! How hast Thou offended?"

The narration continues through the Third Word, when it is interrupted by an organ intermezzo, and the contralto meditation: "O come and mourn with me a while." Again the narration picks up the thread, carrying on to Christ's death on the cross. The conclusion, beginning, "Here the King of all the ages," reflects on the significance of the action.

The senior choir will be assisted by Mrs. Lester Decker, organist; Howard Houghtaling, pianist; and Miss Elizabeth Sherman, Mrs. Collete Sonnenberg, Arnold Adams, John Hill, William Murray, and Chase Page, soloists. Mr. Romme will direct.

James E. Lawrence Tells Garden Group Of Conservation Plan

The ever present and important problem of conservation was reviewed Tuesday afternoon when the Ulster Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. G.V.D. Hutton, 203 Manor avenue, with the president, Mrs. Howard Lewis presiding. Guest speaker for the group was James E. Lawrence, assistant game research investigator, operating out of Poughkeepsie.

While giving a consistant outline of the necessity for soil conservation, Mr. Lawrence pointed out that it is the sort of problem that is of very real concern to everyone. He also stressed the importance women could play in the movement by assuming a leadership role.

The only road to effective conservation, the speaker continued, is through the district system. Districts, he explained, are formed by the property owners in a given area. When an individual in the district finds the need for conservation measures on his land, whether it is building a pond, or planting trees, he goes to the other members of his district. Usually, until the district can afford to buy its own equipment, it has the loan of the equipment owned by the area highway department. The result is, of course, little actual cost to the individual for conservation measures. As an example, Mr. Lawrence sited the large conservation district in Dutchess county. Conservation, he concluded, benefits the entire area, and results in soil conservation, the protection of wild life, and the protection of homes.

Following the meeting tea was served, with Mrs. Frank Steenken, and Mrs. William Boyd pouring.

HOME BUREAU

Tabasco Unit

The members of Tabasco Unit, Home Bureau, held their monthly meeting March 14 at the home of Mrs. Edwin Schwab. Mrs. Jennie Traver, a new member, was among the 13 persons attending. The evening's guest, Miss Everice Parsons of 307 Washington avenue, congratulated the unit on the season's work. Mrs. Edwin Schwab, and Mrs. Ben Pollack displayed the material handbags they had completed. It was announced that beginning in May, meetings will be held the third Thursday of each month. The next meeting of the unit will be held April 11 at the home of Mrs. R. Lane, Kerhonkson, when Miss Helen Rowe will give a demonstration on sewing machine attachments.

TABLE MANNERS

On the subject of table manners, a man tells me: "Although I have found your book Etiquette interesting as well as very helpful, you do not cover one detail which, though seeming small, is very important to me: This is, how should one's knife and fork be left on the plate at the end of the main course? Have had many discussions about it."

After each course — no matter which—the handle of the spoon or the fork is left on the rim of the plate over toward the lower right hand edge. If you are using two implements, you put the one in your right hand down first on the right rim of your plate and the one in your left hand directly below it, handles together.

Proper Use of Service Plate

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper use of a service plate? In particular, is it left on the table throughout the dinner, and every plate put down on it instead of on the table?

Answer: According to formal service, from the setting of the table until it is cleared for dessert, a plate must remain at every place. The place with which the place is set remains until after the soup course when it is removed with the soup plate and the plate for the next course immediately exchanged for the two taken away.

Addressing One Envelope to Family

Dear Mrs. Post: We're about to address our engagement announcements and have run into this problem: In certain families I know the parents very well as well as a son or daughter, or perhaps both in the family. Who should be addressed, and how? Is it necessary to send more than one announcement to a family?

Answer: An engagement announcement is not a conventional form and no strict rules apply. However, if there are daughters and sons both in the family, two envelopes will have to be sent—one to Mr. and Mrs. with the Misses beneath, and a separate envelope addressed to the Messrs.

Lenten Services

Trinity Lutheran

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor, has announced the following special Holy Week services for Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets:

On Holy Thursday, 7:30 p. m., there will be the celebration of Holy Communion. The Rev. Arne Unhjen will assist the pastor at this service. The Rev. Mr. Unhjen served as a missionary in China for six years and was formerly one of the pastors of Trinity Lutheran Church, Brooklyn. He will preach the sermon at this service.

Music for the Holy Thursday service includes the following: Prelude, Meditation, Hayes; anthem, My Lord, My Master at Thy Feet Adoring, Stainer; offertory, Reverie, Dickinson; postlude, Fugue in B Flat, Bach.

Three special Good Friday services have been planned at Trinity Lutheran starting at 10 a. m., with a communion service.

Music for this celebration includes the following: Prelude, Communion, MacDowell; solos, Rock of Ages, Holy Grave Where Jesus Slumbers, Mrs. Henry Thiel; and postlude, Andante, Alcock.

Distribution of Easter crosses will be made during the children's Good Friday service at 2 p. m. The sermon theme of the Rev. Mr. Gollnick will be "Children of the Cross."

Music for this service includes Prelude, To Spring, Grieg; anthem, O Sacred Head Now Wounded, Passion Chorale by junior choir; anthem, The Lord's Prayer, York, junior choir; postlude, Solemn March, Mendelssohn.

The traditional Good Friday service will be held in the church at 7:30 p. m. The sermon theme by the pastor will be "Christ's Eternal Hour." Celebration of Holy Communion will be observed. Music for this service will include Prelude, Largo, Reynolds; solo, Were You There When They Crucified My Lord, spiritual, Gustav Talleur; anthem, God So Loved the World, Stainer; postlude, Melody, Whiting.

During the Holy Thursday service and Good Friday night service there will be the usual quiet time during the general prayer for the individual petitions of the members of the parish.

All musical programs for these special Holy Week services have been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Willard Burke, choir director and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist.

Bloomington Church

Holy Communion will be celebrated by members of the Bloomington Reformed Church during the Good Friday service at 7:45 p. m., the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, pastor, announced today.

A prayer meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage.

St. Remy Reformed

Holy Communion will be observed during the Holy Thursday service at 8 p. m. at the church, the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, pastor, announced today.

Fair Street Reformed

Maundy Thursday will be observed in the Fair Street Reformed Church by the celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion with the traditional Office of Tenebrae at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra's topic for the communion meditation will be "That Same Night." The chancel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Madeleine Wood, will sing the Gesthemane portions of The Crucifixion by John Stainer. The Office of Tenebrae, service of shadows, was written prior to 350 A.D., and was used in the primitive church to demonstrate in dramatic fashion the disciple's desertion of Jesus on the night before the crucifixion. Candles representing the disciples are extinguished until only the light representing Jesus is left in the church. This light is carried from the sanctuary and returned on Easter morning. Elders of the Fair Street Church who will read the shadows of the disciples at this year's service will be Addison Schultz, Hubert Hoderath, Henry D. Eltinge, C. Effingham Burnett, Burton L. Haver, A. Theodore Young, John Garon and the pastor. Visitors are welcome to attend this service.

Redeemer Church

Holy Thursday and Good Friday will be observed at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, with service both evenings at 7:45 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, has announced the topic for Thursday sermon, "At the Table" and Friday's "Before the Cross." Following the regular service, the order for public confession will be used and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered both evenings. Members are urged to observe both Holy Days by their presence at the services and will be permitted to leave before the confessional service on the evening when they do not plan to commune.

Thursday's service will include the reception of a large class of new members by confirmation and letter of transfer as well as the first communion of the class of young people confimed on Palm Sunday. For Friday's service, the altar and chancel will be stripped of adornments and all brassware will be draped in black, symbolic of the state of penitence and mourning befitting the death of Christ. There will be no service on Wednesday night. Visitors are welcome to attend these Holy Week services.

Those who wish to provide memorial Easter lilies for the chancel should arrange to have them delivered to the church before 6 p. m. Saturday as the flower committee will arrange them at 6:30 p. m.

Democratic Women Hear Mrs. Fisher

Mrs. Mabel Fisher, agent for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, C.I.O., was guest speaker Thursday night when the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club held its monthly meeting at 36 St. James street.

Mrs. Fisher, speaking on a nonpartisan basis, told the group of both Democratic and Republican women working in the government, and enumerated many of their accomplishments.

The club's next meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, April 19, at 8 p. m. It will be held in the reception room of McCabe's Restaurant, 294 Wall street.

Earth's Crust 36 Miles Thick

It has been estimated that the solid crust of the earth is 36 miles thick, thinner proportionately to the size of the earth than an egg shell is to the size of an egg.

Three County Meetings On 'Care of the Hair'

Mrs. Anita Morris Lear, specialist from the College of Home Economics at Ithaca, will conduct three county wide meetings on the "Care of the Hair." Mrs. Lear will demonstrate and discuss ways to improve the condition of scalp and hair, common hair problems, proper care of the hair including shampooing, and hair styling. She will include a demonstration of shampooing and scalp massaging on people who have volunteered to be models.

The meetings will start at 1:30 at the following times and places: March 27 at the New Paltz High School; March 28 at the Ellenville Reformed Church; and March 29 at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston.

Answer: An engagement announcement is not a conventional form and no strict rules apply. However, if there are daughters and sons both in the family, two envelopes will have to be sent—one to Mr. and Mrs. with the Misses beneath, and a separate envelope addressed to the Messrs.

Dance Plans Completed

Final arrangements have been completed for a Purim masquerade dance, to be given jointly by the Women's Group of Congregation Agudas Achim, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston Hebrew School. Music will be by Harry Simon and his orchestra. A "Queen Esther" will be chosen, and there will be prizes for the best costume. The dance will be held March 24 at the Agudas Achim vestry hall, with dancing from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m., and all friends of both groups are urged to attend.

Lenten Services

Trinity Lutheran

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor, has announced the following special Holy Week services for Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets:

On Holy Thursday, 7:30 p. m., there will be the celebration of Holy Communion. The Rev. Arne Unhjen will assist the pastor at this service. The Rev. Mr. Unhjen served as a missionary in China for six years and was formerly one of the pastors of Trinity Lutheran Church, Brooklyn. He will preach the sermon at this service.

Music for the Holy Thursday service includes the following: Prelude, Meditation, Hayes; anthem, My Lord, My Master at Thy Feet Adoring, Stainer; offertory, Reverie, Dickinson; postlude, Fugue in B Flat, Bach.

Three special Good Friday services have been planned at Trinity Lutheran starting at 10 a. m., with a communion service.

Music for this celebration includes the following: Prelude, Communion, MacDowell; solos, Rock of Ages, Holy Grave Where Jesus Slumbers, Mrs. Henry Thiel; and postlude, Andante, Alcock.

Distribution of Easter crosses will be made during the children's Good Friday service at 2 p. m. The sermon theme of the Rev. Mr. Gollnick will be "Children of the Cross."

Music for this service includes Prelude, To Spring, Grieg; anthem, O Sacred Head Now Wounded, Passion Chorale by junior choir; anthem, The Lord's Prayer, York, junior choir; postlude, Solemn March, Mendelssohn.

The traditional Good Friday service will be held in the church at 7:30 p. m. The sermon theme by the pastor will be "Christ's Eternal Hour." Celebration of Holy Communion will be observed. Music for this service will include Prelude, Largo, Reynolds; solo, Were You There When They Crucified My Lord, spiritual, Gustav Talleur; anthem, God So Loved the World, Stainer; postlude, Melody, Whiting.

During the Holy Thursday service and Good Friday night service there will be the usual quiet time during the general prayer for the individual petitions of the members of the parish.

All musical programs for these special Holy Week services have been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Willard Burke, choir director and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist.

Bloomington Church

Holy Communion will be celebrated by members of the Bloomington Reformed Church during the Good Friday service at 7:45 p. m., the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, pastor, announced today.

A prayer meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage.

St. Remy Reformed

Holy Communion will be observed during the Holy Thursday service at 8 p. m. at the church, the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, pastor, announced today.

Fair Street Reformed

Maundy Thursday will be observed in the Fair Street Reformed Church by the celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion with the traditional Office of Tenebrae at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra's topic for the communion meditation will be "That Same Night." The chancel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Madeleine Wood, will sing the Gesthemane portions of The Crucifixion by John Stainer. The Office of Tenebrae, service of shadows, was written prior to 350 A.D., and was used in the primitive church to demonstrate in dramatic fashion the disciple's desertion of Jesus on the night before the crucifixion. Candles representing the disciples are extinguished until only the light representing Jesus is left in the church. This light is carried from the sanctuary and returned on Easter morning. Elders of the Fair Street Church who will read the shadows of the disciples at this year's service will be Addison Schultz, Hubert Hoderath, Henry D. Eltinge, C. Effingham Burnett, Burton L. Haver, A. Theodore Young, John Garon and the pastor. Visitors are welcome to attend this service.

Redeemer Church

Holy Thursday and Good Friday will be observed at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, with service both evenings at 7:45 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, has announced the topic for Thursday sermon, "At the Table" and Friday's "Before the Cross." Following the regular service, the order for public confession will be used and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered both evenings. Members are urged to observe both Holy Days by their presence at the services and will be permitted to leave before the confessional service on the evening when they do not plan to commune.

Thursday's service will include the reception of a large class of new members by confirmation and letter of transfer as well as the first communion of the class of young people confimed on Palm Sunday. For Friday's service, the altar and chancel will be stripped of adornments and all brassware will be draped in black, symbolic of the state of penitence and mourning befitting the death of Christ. There will be no service on Wednesday night. Visitors are welcome to attend these Holy Week services.

Those who wish to provide memorial Easter lilies for the chancel should arrange to have them delivered to the church before 6 p. m. Saturday as the flower committee will arrange them at 6:30 p. m.

Bard Offers Four U.N. Scholarships

Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., March 21—Bard College is offering four one-year scholarships to sons and daughters of personnel of the United Nations and Specialized Agencies for 1951-52, President James H. Case, Jr., announced today. The awards which have a value up to $1,000 are a part of the college's international scholarship program inaugurated last year.

The purpose of the international scholarships is to provide foreign students with the opportunity to spend a year in the United States learning about our institutions and ways of life at first hand.

This year eight scholarships were awarded, four to sons and daughters of UN personnel. The countries represented by the group include France, Switzerland, Colombia, Germany, Israel and Holland. Other foreign students now attending Bard College come from Belgium, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Canada and Peru.

Child Clinic Slated Downtown March 27

The Ulster County Health Department will conduct a child health conference at 97 Broadway on March 27 from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. Dr. Henry L. Bibby will be the physician in charge assisted by Miss Janet Hasbrouck, public health nurse.

These well-child clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These clinics are not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the child health conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided.

Bard Charter Day Program

Annandale-on-Hudson, March 21—A conference on the relationships between prose and poetry is being sponsored by Bard College on March 30 and 31. The program will commemorate the 91st anniversary of the granting of the college's charter. The three principal addresses will be given by Dr. William Carlos Williams, poet; Glenway Wescott, novelist; and Kenneth Burke, critic.

Winter Still Clings To Great Part of U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

Spring arrived today and found winter making a liar out of the calendar.

Spring's fresh, gentle breezes were missing except for a few spots in the deep south and in the far southwest.

Temperatures were below normal over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation. It was cold in the central part of the country from the northern Rockies to the northern Appalachians.

Icy blasts sent temperatures down below zero over midwest areas. It was -8 at Bismarck, N. D., -7 at Sioux Falls, S. D., and Grantsburg, Wis., -3 at Norfolk, Neb., -2 at Mason City, Ia., and Duluth, Minn. Snow was hip-deep over some of the area.

The cold air from the midwest moved south and eastward. Temperatures were at or below freezing over many areas as spring made its official entry at 5:26 a. m. EST.

No warming was in prospect for the snow-covered and chilled north central region until at least tomorrow afternoon. The cold air moderated as it moved into eastern and southern states. But federal forecasters said there was not much springlike weather except in the extreme south and the far southwest. That's where most of the baseball teams are in training.

Light snow fell today over much of the Great Lakes region as well as the Appalachians. Showers were reported in the far southeast and also along the Pacific coast from northern California northward.

Bigamist Is Forced To Work for Families

Los Angeles, March 21 (AP)—Some men go to jail for bigamy, but Edward Breault is going to have to get out and work for the two families he acquired.

Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose ruled yesterday that the 42-year-old machinist must support the wife and two children he has in Modesto, Calif., and the wife and one child here, meanwhile remaining under probation.

Breault voluntarily surrendered last December, saying his conscience hurt him.

Judge Ambrose placed him on probation for three years with the condition that he support both families.

Price of $4.40 Forecast

New York, March 21 (AP)—A uniform price of $4.40 per hundredweight (about 47 quarts) is forecast for milk deliveries made during March to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential for March is 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The estimates were announced last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

Suit Reported Settled

New York, March 21 (Special)—An $8,350 damage suit brought by Jacob and Sam Bailinson of 24 Chambers street, Kingston, was reported settled in Federal Court here Tuesday on undisclosed terms. Bard Offers Four U.N. Scholarships

Annandale - on - Hudson, N. Y., March 21—Bard College is offering four one-year scholarships to sons and daughters of personnel of the United Nations and Specialized Agencies for 1951-52, President James H. Case, Jr., announced today. The awards which have a value up to $1,000 are a part of the college's international scholarship program inaugurated last year.

The purpose of the international scholarships is to provide foreign students with the opportunity to spend a year in the United States learning about our institutions and ways of life at first hand.

This year eight scholarships were awarded, four to sons and daughters of UN personnel. The countries represented by the group include France, Switzerland, Colombia, Germany, Israel and Holland. Other foreign students now attending Bard College come from Belgium, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Canada and Peru.

Child Clinic Slated Downtown March 27

The Ulster County Health Department will conduct a child health conference at 97 Broadway on March 27 from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. Dr. Henry L. Bibby will be the physician in charge assisted by Miss Janet Hasbrouck, public health nurse.

These well-child clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These clinics are not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the child health conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided.

Bard Charter Day Program

Annandale-on-Hudson, March 21—A conference on the relationships between prose and poetry is being sponsored by Bard College on March 30 and 31. The program will commemorate the 91st anniversary of the granting of the college's charter. The three principal addresses will be given by Dr. William Carlos Williams, poet; Glenway Wescott, novelist; and Kenneth Burke, critic.

Winter Still Clings To Great Part of U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

Spring arrived today and found winter making a liar out of the calendar.

Spring's fresh, gentle breezes were missing except for a few spots in the deep south and in the far southwest.

Temperatures were below normal over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation. It was cold in the central part of the country from the northern Rockies to the northern Appalachians.

Icy blasts sent temperatures down below zero over midwest areas. It was -8 at Bismarck, N. D., -7 at Sioux Falls, S. D., and Grantsburg, Wis., -3 at Norfolk, Neb., -2 at Mason City, Ia., and Duluth, Minn. Snow was hip-deep over some of the area.

The cold air from the midwest moved south and eastward. Temperatures were at or below freezing over many areas as spring made its official entry at 5:26 a. m. EST.

No warming was in prospect for the snow-covered and chilled north central region until at least tomorrow afternoon. The cold air moderated as it moved into eastern and southern states. But federal forecasters said there was not much springlike weather except in the extreme south and the far southwest. That's where most of the baseball teams are in training.

Light snow fell today over much of the Great Lakes region as well as the Appalachians. Showers were reported in the far southeast and also along the Pacific coast from northern California northward.

To Activate Base

Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Another fighter base for the defense of the northeastern area of the U. S. will be activated next Tuesday when the air force takes over Suffolk County Airport at Westhampton, Long Island, the Eastern Area Defense Command announced yesterday. Built early in World War 2 as a fighter base, The airport was leased to present civilian tenants with a recapture clause in case of national need.

Bigamist Is Forced To Work for Families

Los Angeles, March 21 (AP)—Some men go to jail for bigamy, but Edward Breault is going to have to get out and work for the two families he acquired.

Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose ruled yesterday that the 42-year-old machinist must support the wife and two children he has in Modesto, Calif., and the wife and one child here, meanwhile remaining under probation.

Breault voluntarily surrendered last December, saying his conscience hurt him.

Judge Ambrose placed him on probation for three years with the condition that he support both families.

Price of $4.40 Forecast

New York, March 21 (AP)—A uniform price of $4.40 per hundredweight (about 47 quarts) is forecast for milk deliveries made during March to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential for March is 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The estimates were announced last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

Owners' Attitude Conciliatory On New Commissioner Proposal

Many Feel Players Should Have Voice

(By The Associated Press)

Baseball's front office executives generally adopted a conciliatory attitude today towards the idea that the players, as well as the owners, be given a vote in naming a successor to A. B. Chandler as commissioner.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, assured the players their interests will be protected "regardless who is commissioner."

"The major league clubs put the pension fund and revised player contracts in operation and will continue to carry them out," added Harridge.

Freddie Hutchinson, Detroit pitcher and player-representative for the American League, broached the player-vote-for-commissioner idea on Monday. He said that a petition will be presented to the owners at a meeting in Detroit in July.

If the owners reject the petition, the players may hire a commissioner of their own, Hutchinson said, perhaps the deposed Chandler himself at $40,000 a year.

Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, expressed a minority opinion.

"It's a bad situation," he asserted, "if the players have no more confidence in the owners than to want their own commissioner. Somebody should get in another business, the players or the owners."

Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, said "Hutchinson and the players shouldn't have any fears about what may happen under a new rule commissioner. For our part, Tom Yawkey was a member of the committee that set up the pension fund. Regardless of who the commissioner is, the ball players should have no fears."

In Los Angeles, however, shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, commented: "It sounds like a fair suggestion. The players should have some voice in the matter."

Chandler Pleased

Chandler, in Chicago, declared it's "wonderful to think the players still possess that confidence in me. They always have been my pals and this proves they are not going to forget me even if the club owners did."

Hutchinson, in explaining his suggestion, said "we never have been told any official reason why Chandler was fired * * * we think it is our business just as much as theirs (the clubowners) * * * baseball is our livelihood. For many club owners, it is just a hobby."

Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, said "actually the gains they (the players) made were through their own representatives' efforts, not what the commissioner did for them."

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, didn't think the idea "would pan out" and Warren Giles, Cincinnati owner, said "a general majority of the players realize the advantages they have as professional ball players and that they are being treated fairly."

Billy Evans, general manager of Hutchinson's team, the Tigers, said: "It's the club owners who pay all of us our salaries on the first and fifteenth and they will continue to operate their own business."

Training Camp News in Brief

Hollywood, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, chief drawing card of the New York Yankees, is having a tough time at the plate. The great Yankee centerfielder has collected only two hits in 18 trips to the plate for a .111 average. However, both blows were home runs.

Brown in Slump

Miami, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Tommy Brown, leading candidate for Brooklyn's regular left field berth, is finding the going rough in exhibition games. Brown has failed to collect a hit in his last 20 official times at bat.

Pruning Process

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The New York Giants squad probably will be cut before the week is out. Manager Leo Durocher, farm director Carl Hubbell and owner Horace Stoneham conferred yesteday over the distribution of players for the farm system. The young pitchers on the way to the minors probably will remain until the club breaks camp April 2.

Cuban Love Bug

Orlando, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Washington pitcher Carlos (Potatoes) Pascual, smitten with a love bug, got a free ticket to Havana today—one way.

The stocky little Cuban wants to be near his senorita. Manager Bucky Harris, with Pesident Clark Griffith concurring, announced he would be sent home on option.

Harris watched him go with no apparent sense of loss.

"I don't want to be troubled with any home-sick Cubans," he said.

Williams Ailing

Sarasota, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Ted Williams will be kept out of today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals here to doctor a slight cold.

Manager Steve O'Neill said Ted didn't ask for a breather but adds Williams needs the rest.

"Ted hasn't said anything about it," O'Neill said, "but I know he has a slight cold. So he'll have morning batting practice and then go home."

Johnny Pesky, Billy Goodman and Lou Bcudreau also will get some extra time off in the next day or so, the Sox manager added. Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder will pitch for the Sockers.

Tribe In Slump

Burbank, Cal., March 21 (AP)—In the old days, the Cleveland Indians were known as a Hot Spring club that got colder as the regular season progressed.

So far this season, they can be called only a cold spring club. Before today's game with the St. Louis Browns, they won two games and lost six against major league clubs. Their overall record is six losses in 11 exhibition games.

Yesterday, they hit bottom by letting the St. Louis Browns win their first major league practice contest, 6 to 5, on an 11th inning homer by Tommy Upton, a .237 hitter last season.

Brownies Win First

Burbank, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Fresh from their first victory of another major league club this year, the St. Louis Browns tangle with the Cleveland Indians again today.

The Browns beat the Indians, 6-5, yesterday on Tom Upton's 11th inning homer with Hank Arft on base.

Today's contest closes out the Brown's stand here. They have games at San Bernardino, Pasadena and Los Angeles before heading east.

Cliff Annin andq Bill Kennedy were scheduled to hurl for the Browns.

Phils Meet Brooks

Clearwater, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies get their first 1951 taste of night baseball today when they tackle the Brooklyn Dodgers under the lights of Miami's new stadium.

The National League champs are making the trip to Miami by plane. The game is the fifth night contest on the Brooks' schedule.

X-rays disclose that Bill Nicholson did not suffer a fracture of his left arm when he was hit by a ball in Monday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals. He is expected to be ready for action again by the end of the week.

State Bowling Times Listed

Kingston's 12-team squad in the New York State bowling championships in Binghamton on April 7-8 will roll their singles and doubles at 6 p. m. and 7:45 p. m. on Saturday, April 7, and the team event on Sunday at 5 p. m., tournament manager, James Burns, announced last night.

The tournament has attracted an entry of 1556 teams.

TEED OFF — Wearing the latest design in a sport shirt, Jimmy Demaret drives at Palm Beach, Fla. Fined by the Professional Golfers' Association for playing in the Mexican Open, the Houston professional has quit the tournament circuit. He says he'll play only in the Masters, Goodall, United States and British Opens. (NEA)

QUICK RELIEF — Big Jim Konstanty unveils his new pitch at the Phillies' Clearwater, Fla., camp. It breaks quicker but not as far as a slider, says the first relief pitcher to be named most-valuable player. (NEA)

Holmes to Pilot Hartford Club

Bradenton, Fla., March 31 (AP)—Boston Braves outfielder Tommy Holmes, one of the most popular baseball players in Hub history, is the new player-manager of the Tribe's Hartford, Conn., farm club in the Class A Eastern League.

The 33-year-old veteran of nine seasons with the Braves decided to take the job offered by Boston owner Lou Perini rather than try to make it ten straight years in the big time.

"Tommy has earned a spot in our organization," Perini said yesterday in announcing the change, "and I'm very happy he has decided to accept the position. He's been a popular and faithful member of the Braves and I know he'll be very successful at Hartford."

Holmes will assume his new duties at the Myrtle Beach, S. C., training camp of the Tribe's Minor League Club in about a week. The Hartford Chief's managerial post opened up when Ripper Collins quit to take a radio broadcasting job in Baltimore.

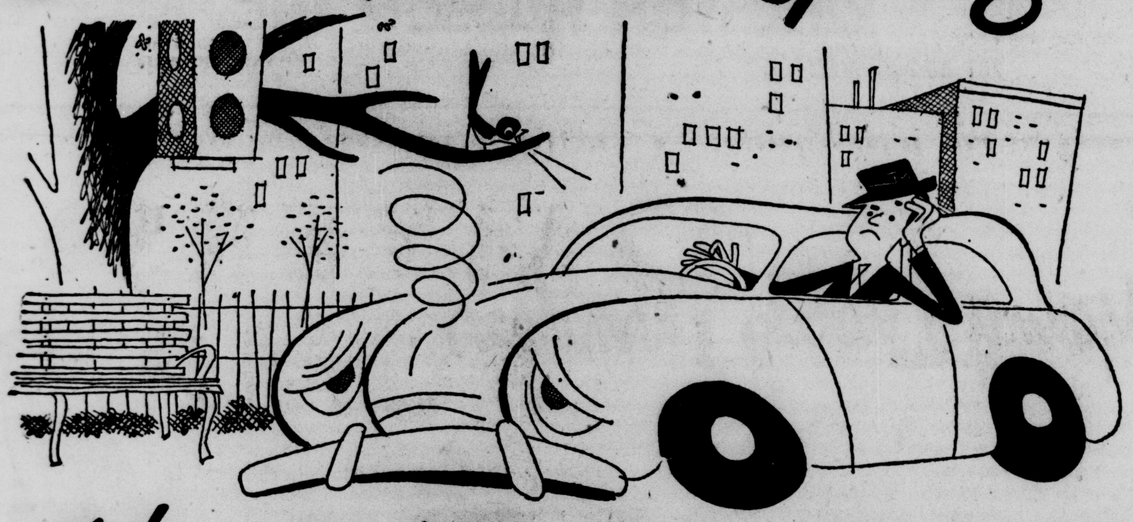
Don't stall this Spring...



get new ANTI-STALLING ESSO EXTRA GASOLINE

Here's an entirely new type gasoline especially made to combat cold-engine stalling in cool, damp weather. Try a tankful today, and forget about cold-engine stalling headaches. It's especially good in cars with automatic transmissions.

A REAL EXTRA VALUE

New Anti-Stalling Esso Extra is the result of continuing Esso Research to give you "something more" at the Esso Sign. It was road-tested for five months before a single gallon was sold! Now you can enjoy Esso Extra's smooth, anti-stalling power without spending a penny more than for other premium gasolines.

Detroit's Automotive Engineers...

say that cold-engine stalling has been a persistent problem for years. Under certain conditions, powerful gasolines required for today's high-compression engines evaporate and freeze moisture out of the air, "icing up" the carburetor and causing temporary stalling. This stalling is practically eliminated by the new Esso Extra Gasoline. (No gasoline, of course, can correct stalling caused by mechanical faults or electrical failure.)

Extra Value in that Spring Oil Change

Holmes to Pilot Hartford Club

Bradenton, Fla., March 31 (AP)—Boston Braves outfielder Tommy Holmes, one of the most popular baseball players in Hub history, is the new player-manager of the Tribe's Hartford, Conn., farm club in the Class A Eastern League.

The 33-year-old veteran of nine seasons with the Braves decided to take the job offered by Boston owner Lou Perini rather than try to make it ten straight years in the big time.

"Tommy has earned a spot in our organization," Perini said yesterday in announcing the change, "and I'm very happy he has decided to accept the position. He's been a popular and faithful member of the Braves and I know he'll be very successful at Hartford."

Holmes will assume his new duties at the Myrtle Beach, S. C., training camp of the Tribe's Minor League Club in about a week. The Hartford Chief's managerial post opened up when Ripper Collins quit to take a radio broadcasting job in Baltimore.

Owners' Attitude Conciliatory On New Commissioner Proposal

Many Feel Players Should Have Voice

(By The Associated Press)

Baseball's front office executives generally adopted a conciliatory attitude today towards the idea that the players, as well as the owners, be given a vote in naming a successor to A. B. Chandler as commissioner.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, assured the players their interests will be protected "regardless who is commissioner."

"The major league clubs put the pension fund and revised player contracts in operation and will continue to carry them out," added Harridge.

Freddie Hutchinson, Detroit pitcher and player-representative for the American League, broached the player-vote-for-commissioner idea on Monday. He said that a petition will be presented to the owners at a meeting in Detroit in July.

If the owners reject the petition, the players may hire a commissioner of their own, Hutchinson said, perhaps the deposed Chandler himself at $40,000 a year.

Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, expressed a minority opinion.

"It's a bad situation," he asserted, "if the players have no more confidence in the owners than to want their own commissioner. Somebody should get in another business, the players or the owners."

Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, said "Hutchinson and the players shouldn't have any fears about what may happen under a new rule commissioner. For our part, Tom Yawkey was a member of the committee that set up the pension fund. Regardless of who the commissioner is, the ball players should have no fears."

In Los Angeles, however, shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, commented: "It sounds like a fair suggestion. The players should have some voice in the matter."

Chandler Pleased

Chandler, in Chicago, declared it's "wonderful to think the players still possess that confidence in me. They always have been my pals and this proves they are not going to forget me even if the club owners did."

Hutchinson, in explaining his suggestion, said "we never have been told any official reason why Chandler was fired * * * we think it is our business just as much as theirs (the clubowners) * * * baseball is our livelihood. For many club owners, it is just a hobby."

Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, said "actually the gains they (the players) made were through their own representatives' efforts, not what the commissioner did for them."

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, didn't think the idea "would pan out" and Warren Giles, Cincinnati owner, said "a general majority of the players realize the advantages they have as professional ball players and that they are being treated fairly."

Billy Evans, general manager of Hutchinson's team, the Tigers, said: "It's the club owners who pay all of us our salaries on the first and fifteenth and they will continue to operate their own business."

Training Camp News in Brief

Hollywood, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, chief drawing card of the New York Yankees, is having a tough time at the plate. The great Yankee certerfielder has collected only two hits in 18 trips to the plate for a .111 average. However, both blows were home runs.

Brown in Slump

Pruning Process

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The New York Giants squad probably will be cut before the week is out. Manager Leo Durocher, farm director Carl Hubbell and owner Horace Stoneham conferred yesteday over the distribution of players for the farm system. The young pitchers on the way to the minors probably will remain until the club breaks camp April 2.

Cuban Love Bug

Orlando, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Washington pitcher Carlos (Potatoes) Pascual, smitten with a love bug, got a free ticket to Havana today—one way.

The stocky little Cuban wants to be near his senorita. Manager Bucky Harris, with Pesident Clark Griffith concurring, announced he would be sent home on option.

Harris watched him go with no apparent sense of loss.

"I don't want to be troubled with any home-sick Cubans," he said.

Williams Ailing

Sarasota, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Ted Williams will be kept out of today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals here to doctor a slight cold.

Manager Steve O'Neill said Ted didn't ask for a breather but adds Williams needs the rest.

"Ted hasn't said anything about it," O'Neill said, "but I know he has a slight cold. So he'll have morning batting practice and then go home."

Johnny Pesky, Billy Goodman and Lou Bcudreau also will get some extra time off in the next day or so, the Sox manager added. Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder will pitch for the Sockers.

Tribe In Slump

Burbank, Cal., March 21 (AP)—In the old days, the Cleveland Indians were known as a Hot Spring club that got colder as the regular season progressed.

So far this season, they can be called only a cold spring club. Before today's game with the St. Louis Browns, they won two games and lost six against major league clubs. Their overall record is six losses in 11 exhibition games.

Yesterday, they hit bottom by letting the St. Louis Browns win their first major league practice contest, 6 to 5, on an 11th inning homer by Tommy Upton, a .237 hitter last season.

Brownies Win First

Burbank, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Fresh from their first victory of another major league club this year, the St. Louis Browns tangle with the Cleveland Indians again today.

The Browns beat the Indians, 6-5, yesterday on Tom Upton's 11th inning homer with Hank Arft on base.

Today's contest closes out the Brown's stand here. They have games at San Bernardino, Pasadena and Los Angeles before heading east.

Cliff Annin andq Bill Kennedy were scheduled to hurl for the Browns.

Phils Meet Brooks

Clearwater, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies get their first 1951 taste of night baseball today when they tackle the Brooklyn Dodgers under the lights of Miami's new stadium.

The National League champs are making the trip to Miami by plane. The game is the fifth night contest on the Brooks' schedule.

X-rays disclose that Bill Nicholson did not suffer a fracture of his left arm when he was hit by a ball in Monday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals. He is expected to be ready for action again by the end of the week.

Defeat St. Mary's For 'B' Crown

Old Hurley completed a "rags to riches" saga in the Junior division Shaughnessy playoffs of the Church Basketball League last night, with a thumping 44-28 victory over St. Mary's Junior A squad.

The Hurley basketeers were forced to win three games to qualify as the fourth team in the Shaughnessy and then proceeded to lick everything in sight.

Last night they grabbed an early lead and were in front all the way behind the sharpshooting of Glass and Hickey and the sterling defensive work of Meyers, Browne and Pilz.

Hickey was the individual scoring leader with 15 points, Glass hit for 14 and Pilz had eight. Meyers held his high scoring opponent, Joe Erena, to a 6-6 standoff.

Graney's 11 points led the losers.

The Old Hurley club will be honored with the regular league champions at the Church League banquet on Wednesday, March 28, at the Stuyvesant Hotel. Ken Norton, basketball coach at Manhattan University, will be the principal speaker.

Wiltwyck Motors made it five straight in the third round of the "A" League at the Y, with a 49-39 victory over Potter Bros., last night on the Y court.

The victory averted the possibility of a triple tie in the third round and set the stage for a best two-out-of-three championship playoff between the Motormen and Potter Bros. on Tuesday, March 27. The contest is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. and will be followed by a game between Harry's Angels and an out-of-town team to be announced later.

Tonight's clash between Esopus Firemen and Newkirk Aces in the "B" divisions pairs two of the finest young basketball teams in the area. A high scoring duel is in prospect.

Haggerty Stars

In last night's action, Andy Juhl's 19 points paced the Wiltwyck triumph, while Fink McElrath aided with 16. Big Jack Doyle's 10 points were high for the Pottermen, who trailed 26-15 at halftime.

Andy Juhl unloaded 23 points in the Angels' 77-63 conquest of the Sixth Ward. But Scheffel with 18 and Erick Goercke with 16 were other high scorers.

Armstrong and Fitzgerald shared 6th Ward scoring honors with 15 points apiece and Paul Scott hit for 14.

Hooker's Stars Beat Firemen

Leroy Hooker's All Stars led all the way in a hard fought game to defeat the Esopus Firemen, 84 to 76, in a free scoring duel last night at the Wiltwyck court.

Four of the five Hooker players were members of the K.H.S. varsity squad the past season. The Maroon's top scorer, Hooker, led last night's spree with 38 points on 19 fields. His squad led 34-31 at halftime.

Bones Hampton tosed in 14 points for the winners and Pete Camp had 14. Joe Ferraro hit for 25 for the Firemen, with Ronnie Burger getting 14 and Richie Mains 10.

Illinois Cagers Snap Columbia's Streak

Big Ten Champions Win NCAA Opener

New York, March 21 (AP)—Four members of college basketball's elite top ten — Kentucky, St. John's, Illinois and North Carolina State—will square off at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in the semi-finals of the NCAA Eastern eliminations.

Kentucky, No. 1 nationally, will face a tired St. John's team, No. 9, Illinois, No. 5, will oppose North Carolina State, No. 8. Illinois and N. C. State are expected to play the first game, at 7:45 p. m. (EST).

Those four powers moved forward last night in opening skirmishes at Madison Square Garden here and at Raleigh, N. C.

Kentucky had its troubles for a while at Raleigh last night but brought its class to the surface in time to trounce a fired-up Louisville team, 79-68. N. C. State, playing without three of its stars, thumped Villanova, 67-62.

Columbia Stopped

Until they ran up against Illinois' Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage, Columbia's Ivy League titlists had piled up 22 straight victories this year and 31 over a two-year span.

Columbia led 45 to 38 at the half, but Beach popped in seven out of eight long one-handed set shots in eight minutes just before the end of the half. Then Sunderlage went on a one-man scoring spree to catch Columbia, 57-57, with ten minutes to go and send Illinois out front to stay.

Redmen Tired

St. John's, looking a bit weary from its recent Invitation tournament grind, rolled up a 25-point lead early in the last half against little Connecticut and then almost let the game get away on a strong rally sparked by Vince Yokabaskas and Bill Abel. However, time ran out on the Uconns.

A capacity crowd of 12,400 saw the two-game show at N.C. State's Coliseum in Raleigh and almost tore down the house when Bill Kukoy, subbing for All America Sam Ranzino, led the Wolfpack to its unexpected victory over Villanova. The Gary, Ind., sophomore popped in 27 points.

Kentucky had its famous hands full with its neighborhood rival, Louisville, for a half, leading only 44-40 at the intermission. But Shelby Linville, scoring 22 points altogether, pulled the team's offense up by the bootstraps and the Wildcats breezed home.

Old Hurley Captures Shaughnessy Playoff

Defeat St. Mary's For 'B' Crown

Old Hurley completed a "rags to riches" saga in the Junior division Shaughnessy playoffs of the Church Basketball League last night, with a thumping 44-28 victory over St. Mary's Junior A squad.

The Hurley basketeers were forced to win three games to qualify as the fourth team in the Shaughnessy and then proceeded to lick everything in sight.

Last night they grabbed an early lead and were in front all the way behind the sharpshooting of Glass and Hickey and the sterling defensive work of Meyers, Browne and Pilz.

Hickey was the individual scoring leader with 15 points, Glass hit for 14 and Pilz had eight. Meyers held his high scoring opponent, Joe Erena, to a 6-6 standoff.

Graney's 11 points led the losers.

The Old Hurley club will be honored with the regular league champions at the Church League banquet on Wednesday, March 28, at the Stuyvesant Hotel. Ken Norton, basketball coach at Manhattan University, will be the principal speaker.

Wiltwyck Motors made it five straight in the third round of the "A" League at the Y, with a 49-39 victory over Potter Bros., last night on the Y court.

The victory averted the possibility of a triple tie in the third round and set the stage for a best two-out-of-three championship playoff between the Motormen and Potter Bros. on Tuesday, March 27. The contest is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. and will be followed by a game between Harry's Angels and an out-of-town team to be announced later.

Tonight's clash between Esopus Firemen and Newkirk Aces in the "B" divisions pairs two of the finest young basketball teams in the area. A high scoring duel is in prospect.

Haggerty Stars

In last night's action, Andy Juhl's 19 points paced the Wiltwyck triumph, while Fink McElrath aided with 16. Big Jack Doyle's 10 points were high for the Pottermen, who trailed 26-15 at halftime.

Andy Juhl unloaded 23 points in the Angels' 77-63 conquest of the Sixth Ward. But Scheffel with 18 and Erick Goercke with 16 were other high scorers.

Armstrong and Fitzgerald shared 6th Ward scoring honors with 15 points apiece and Paul Scott hit for 14.

Illinois Cagers Snap Columbia's Streak

Big Ten Champions Win NCAA Opener

New York, March 21 (AP)—Four members of college basketball's elite top ten — Kentucky, St. John's, Illinois and North Carolina State—will square off at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in the semi-finals of the NCAA Eastern eliminations.

Kentucky, No. 1 nationally, will face a tired St. John's team, No. 9, Illinois, No. 5, will oppose North Carolina State, No. 8. Illinois and N. C. State are expected to play the first game, at 7:45 p. m. (EST).

Those four powers moved forward last night in opening skirmishes at Madison Square Garden here and at Raleigh, N. C.

Kentucky had its troubles for a while at Raleigh last night but brought its class to the surface in time to trounce a fired-up Louisville team, 79-68. N. C. State, playing without three of its stars, thumped Villanova, 67-62.

Columbia Stopped

At Madison Square Garden, before 17,107, Illinois' Big Ten champions shattered Columbia's unbeaten record — the only one left—, 79-71, while St. John's disposed of little Conecticut, 63-52.

Until they ran up against Illinois' Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage, Columbia's Ivy League titlists had piled up 22 straight victories this year and 31 over a two-year span.

Columbia led 45 to 38 at the half, but Beach popped in seven out of eight long one-handed set shots in eight minutes just before the end of the half. Then Sunderlage went on a one-man scoring spree to catch Columbia, 57-57, with ten minutes to go and send Illinois out front to stay.

Redmen Tired

St. John's, looking a bit weary from its recent Invitation tournament grind, rolled up a 25-point lead early in the last half against little Connecticut and then almost let the game get away on a strong rally sparked by Vince Yokabaskas and Bill Abel. However, time ran out on the Uconns.

A capacity crowd of 12,400 saw the two-game show at N.C. State's Coliseum in Raleigh and almost tore down the house when Bill Kukoy, subbing for All America Sam Ranzino, led the Wolfpack to its unexpected victory over Villanova. The Gary, Ind., sophomore popped in 27 points.

Kentucky had its famous hands full with its neighborhood rival, Louisville, for a half, leading only 44-40 at the intermission. But Shelby Linville, scoring 22 points altogether, pulled the team's offense up by the bootstraps and the Wildcats breezed home.

Stiffer Penalties For Deer Slayers

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Stiffer penalties for hunters who take deer out of season are provided in a bill signed today by Governor Dewey.

The new law set a penalty of $100, plus $400 for the first deer taken and a further penalty of $100 for each succeeding deer taken.

Out-of-season hunting now is penalized by a $100 fine, plus $100 for each deer taken.

The law becomes effective July 1.

Migratory Waterfowl Making Comeback

Washington, March 21 (AP)—North America's migratory waterfowl have made a comeback and are more plentiful than since 1949, the Fish and Wildlife Service said today.

This good news for sportsmen does not imply more liberal hunting regulations next fall, however.

Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the Service, told a reporter hunting regulations are based entirely upon spring and summer reports from nesting areas, and not upon the annual winter inventory.

Albert M. Day, service director, said in a prepared statement that the 1951 mid-January inventory showed an upward trend sufficient to offset a 20 per cent decline noted in the 1950 inventory.

Draft Call Gets Dodgers' Palica

Miami, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Erv Palica, who developed into an important cog in Brooklyn's pitching staff late last season, will leave the Dodgers camp today for Brooklyn.

Palica received notice yesterday to report for induction into the armed forces by his Los Angeles draft board March 30.

Palica, who was turned down for high blood pressure and then accepted after a second three-day examination, said he hopes to have his induction papers transferred so that he can enter the service in Brooklyn.

Stiffer Penalties For Deer Slayers

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Stiffer penalties for hunters who take deer out of season are provided in a bill signed today by Governor Dewey.

The new law set a penalty of $100, plus $400 for the first deer taken and a further penalty of $100 for each succeeding deer taken.

Out-of-season hunting now is penalized by a $100 fine, plus $100 for each deer taken.

The law becomes effective July 1.

Migratory Waterfowl Making Comeback

Washington, March 21 (AP)—North America's migratory waterfowl have made a comeback and are more plentiful than since 1949, the Fish and Wildlife Service said today.

This good news for sportsmen does not imply more liberal hunting regulations next fall, however.

Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the Service, told a reporter hunting regulations are based entirely upon spring and summer reports from nesting areas, and not upon the annual winter inventory.

Albert M. Day, service director, said in a prepared statement that the 1951 mid-January inventory showed an upward trend sufficient to offset a 20 per cent decline noted in the 1950 inventory.

Draft Call Gets Dodgers' Palica

Miami, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Erv Palica, who developed into an important cog in Brooklyn's pitching staff late last season, will leave the Dodgers camp today for Brooklyn.

Palica received notice yesterday to report for induction into the armed forces by his Los Angeles draft board March 30.

Palica, who was turned down for high blood pressure and then accepted after a second three-day examination, said he hopes to have his induction papers transferred so that he can enter the service in Brooklyn.

Honolulu—Carl (Bobo) Olson, 162¾, Honolulu, outpointed Art Soto, 155½, Oakland, Calif. 10.

Akron, O.—Fritzie Pruden, 148, St. Catherine, Ont., knocked out Ray Carter, 155, New York, 3.

Stiffer Penalties For Deer Slayers

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Stiffer penalties for hunters who take deer out of season are provided in a bill signed today by Governor Dewey.

The new law set a penalty of $100, plus $400 for the first deer taken and a further penalty of $100 for each succeeding deer taken.

Out-of-season hunting now is penalized by a $100 fine, plus $100 for each deer taken.

The law becomes effective July 1.

Migratory Waterfowl Making Comeback

Washington, March 21 (AP)—North America's migratory waterfowl have made a comeback and are more plentiful than since 1949, the Fish and Wildlife Service said today.

This good news for sportsmen does not imply more liberal hunting regulations next fall, however.

Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the Service, told a reporter hunting regulations are based entirely upon spring and summer reports from nesting areas, and not upon the annual winter inventory.

Aibert M. Day, service director, said in a prepared statement that the 1951 mid-January inventory showed an upward trend sufficient to offset a 20 per cent decline noted in the 1950 inventory.

Draft Call Gets Dodgers' Palica

Miami, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Erv Palica, who developed into an important cog in Brooklyn's pitching staff late last season, will leave the Dodgers camp today for Brooklyn.

Palica received notice yesterday to report for induction into the armed forces by his Los Angeles draft board March 30.

Palica, who was turned down for high blood pressure and then accepted after a second three-day examination, said he hopes to have his induction papers transferred so that he can enter the service in Brooklyn.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

New Paltz, March 20—The first in a series of workshops on flower arrangements sponsored by the New Paltz Garden Club will be held in the art room of the Campus School on Thursday, March 29, at 10 a. m. Another group will be conducted in the afternoon. Groups from Walden and Ellenville have enrolled as well as members of the New Paltz group. Mrs. Victor Huyler of Gladstone, N. J., will be in charge of the series and will also present the regular Garden Club program on Thursday evening. This meeting will be held at the new municipal building at 8 p. m. Friday, the 30th, members of the local garden group will participate in a workshop to be held in the Campus School at 10 a. m. The April meeting date has been changed from April 26 to Friday, April 27. Miss Alice Dustan, landscape counsellor will be the featured speaker.

The old stone house of Luther Calhoun erected in 1856 located on the Lily Lake road has been sold to Leombruno Bode. Milton Gregory has the contract for remodeling and improving the property. Mr. Calhoun has moved to Highland.

New Paltz bowling team took second place in the IBM tournament in Poughkeepsie. The team was composed of Preston Bennett, Bruce Conkfin, Lou Rolling, Bob DuBois and Ronny Ulrich.

James H. Fisher of Yonkers, a former resident of New Paltz, died suddenly on Wednesday, March 14. Funeral services were held on Saturday, March 17 at 10 a. m. at Haydon's Funeral Home in Yonkers.

In recognition of the outstanding record made by the championship teams of New Paltz High School, the Parents Advisory Committee is planning a banquet for the champions of the 1950-51 UCAL Football and Basketball League. This program is also to include the first time winners of the Junior Varsity team basketball championship. The banquet will be held in the high school auditorium on Saturday April 14 at 7 o'clock. Tickets for the banquet will be on sale at various stores in the community or can be obtained from the following people: Mrs. Roland G. Will, Mrs. James Burke, Mrs. Ralph Martin, Mrs. Howard Mosher, Mrs. Virgil DeWitt, Mrs. Schuyler Millham, Mrs. Arthur Kurtz, Miss Gertrude Strobel, Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, Mrs. Elting Clearwater, Mrs. John Tizio, Mrs. Thomas Murphy, Mrs. Martin DuBois. Donations can also be sent to Frank Bugar at the high school, Harold Wood at the Huguenot Bank, Mrs. Vergil DeWitt, Peter Harp or David Corwin.

One of the highlights of the high school year, the Thespian Checkerboard Cafe took place in the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening, March 17. There was dancing and entertainment featuring Miss Patty Burke, dancer. Refreshments were served.

"The Story of Easter" in words and music was given by the combined choruses and soloists of New Paltz High School in the auditorium on Monday, March 19. Sacred music of J. S. Bach, Franz Schubert, Mendelssohn, Gounod, Stainer and F. F. Swift was presented. The following students were chosen by the chorus for the solo parts: Narrators—Carolyn Cotton, Isabel Gibbons; soprano soloists—Diane Morris, Patricia Will; tenor soloist—Walter Paradies; baritone soloist—Tom Elsbree. The 50-voice chorus under the direction of Miss Jeanne Johnston was accompanied by Ernest Rost. The performance was open to students, parents and friends.

Officers elected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a meeting held on Wednesday evening were: Commander, Anthony J. Petrucelli; junior vice-commander, Charles Greco; quartermaster, Charles Staats; post advocate, Richard Lent; chaplain, Anthony Bologna; surgeon, Samuel Emanuele; trustee for three years, Clifford Michel; for two years, Vincent X. Smith. The post will in the near future, proclaim May 30 as National Poppy Day.

Mrs. Isaac Dingee a former resident of New Paltz, who was a patient in the Kingston Hospital, has returned to 80 Marius street, Kingston where she makes her home.

Pvt. John Jones, is at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Mrs. Lee H. Ball was the speaker at the meeting of the W.S.C.S. in Carmel on March 14.

Eighty-seven persons were served at the annual dinner of the New Paltz unit of the Farmer-Consumer Milk Cooperative on March 10, which was held in the Methodist Church. Among the guests from New York were Paul U. Killogg, editor of the magazine, Survey Graphic, and his wife, Helen Hall, director of Henry Street Settlement, President Meyer Parodneck complimented Chester Elliott, Jr., local manager, on his conduct of the plant.

Perry Berago as guest violinist was heard in Goddard's "Canzonetti" at the Methodist Church on Palm Sunday. The choir sang Faure's The Palms and Parker's Jerusalem, Be Not Afraid was the sermon subject.

More than 150 civil defense workers were present at the special meeting held on Tuesday night at the high school. John Brereton introduced Defense Director Lou Rolling who spoke briefly on the fine work that was being done by the volunteer workers in New Paltz. Mayor Robert Reid expressed the sentiments of the village regarding the fine work done by the group. County Director Howard Shurter spoke next on the value of movies to get across to the people about the atom bomb. Col. Allan L. Hanstein, deputy director in charge of reception centers, spoke of the two major considerations: (1) That New Paltz could be bombed and (2) problem of helping expected target areas. Credit was given to Mrs. Harry Ahlberg on the success of the local blood bank. Donald Allen was also a speaker. Following a short talk on the medical set-up by Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt two films were shown. Dr. DeWitt told of the local medical teams led by Drs. Walter Rost, Erhard Boetzel and himself along with four nurses and six stretcher bearers under each doctor. The first film, "Tale of Two Cities" showed the destruction wrought by the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The second movie was a Red Cross film on safety and first aid. The high light of the evening was the swearing in by Director Shurter of 12 civilian police who were at the meeting.

Mrs. George Brannagan of New Paltz was hostess to the Forest Glen Home Bureau Unit at her home on Thursday, March 15.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Hoffman, Sr., attended a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Costello, Plattekill, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coy, Sr., attended an antique auction in Dutchess county last Monday.

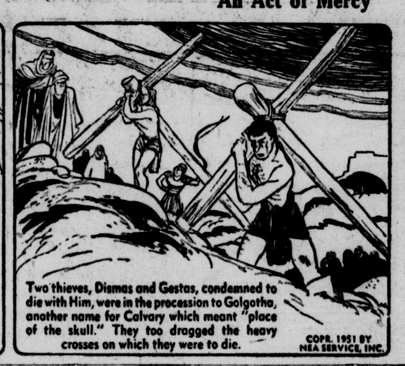
Mr. and Mrs. Irving Imlott of Albany spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Smalley in this vicinity.

THE WAY TO CALVARY

Many women wept at the sight of Jesus being led to Calvary. Among them was a girl named Veronica, who wiped the blood, sweat and dust from His face. It is written that He left the print of His countenance upon the cloth.

At one point, Jesus turned to the women to comfort them, saying, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."

An Act of Mercy



Two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were in the procession to Golgotha, another name for Calvary which meant "place of the skull." They too dragged the heavy crosses on which they were to die.

Favors Young Drivers

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey today vetoed a bill that would have given Mom and Dad a veto power over Junior's license to drive a car. Dewey made no comment in rejecting the measure, which would have forced suspension of the license if parents withdrew their consent, now required before a license can be issued to a 16-or 17-year-old. The suspension would have remained in effect until the parent's consent was renewed, or until the driver reached 18 and qualified for a regular license.

TR's House to Be Shrine

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey has signed a bill that was designed to permit restoration of President Theodore Roosevelt's summer White House at Oyster Bay. Efforts to rehabilitate the 23-room house, Sagamore Hill, had been blocked by local zoning regulations. The bill signed by Dewey yesterday permits restoration of the home of a deceased president, despite any local zoning ordinance. The measure was introduced by Republican Assemblyman D. S. Hill, Jr., of Nassau county.

Fishermen use a leaf from an automobile spring to pry abalones from their wave-swept rocky homes.

Help for Villages

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—All villages of 5,000 or more population may levy a one per cent tax on the gross income of utilities, under terms of a bill approved today by Governor Dewey. Previously, the tax authority was limited to cities and first class villages. The new authority is effective at once.

Lions Give $250 To Little League

The Kingston Lions Club board of directors has voted a donation of $250 to the Kingston Athletic Association to help promote its Little League baseball program.

The Lions Club has supported the K.A.A.'s playground work with similar contributions the past three years.

At the regular Lions Club luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday, member Robert E. Teetsel, was presented with a scroll in recognition of his two years as president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. Presentation was made by Lawrence J. MacAvery, Teetsel's successor as Chamber president, who is also a Lions Club member.

In accepting the scroll, Teetsel paid tribute to MacAvery for his work in building up membership in the commerce group, and commended those businessmen who "were able to see the future of the Chamber of Commerce" and assisted greatly in its development. Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber, was a guest at the meeting.

It was announced that it is still possible to obtain booths for the Lions Club exposition, April 3 to 7. A moving picture taken at the Lions International Convention in Chicago last July was shown.

One of the highlights of the high school year, the Thespian Checkerboard Cafe took place in the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening, March 17. There was dancing and entertainment featuring Miss Patty Burke, dancer. Refreshments were served.

"The Story of Easter" in words and music was given by the combined choruses and soloists of New Paltz High School in the auditorium on Monday, March 19. Sacred music of J. S. Bach, Franz Schubert, Mendelssohn, Gounod, Stainer and F. F. Swift was presented. The following students were chosen by the chorus for the solo parts: Narrators—Carolyn Cotton, Isabel Gibbons; soprano soloists—Diane Morris, Patricia Will; tenor soloist—Walter Paradies; baritone soloist—Tom Elsbree. The 50-voice chorus under the direction of Miss Jeanne Johnston was accompanied by Ernest Rost. The performance was open to students, parents and friends.

Officers elected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a meeting held on Wednesday evening were: Commander, Anthony J. Petrucelli; junior vice-commander, Charles Greco; quartermaster, Charles Staats; post advocate, Richard Lent; chaplain, Anthony Bologna; surgeon, Samuel Emanuele; trustee for three years, Clifford Michel; for two years, Vincent X. Smith. The post will in the near future, proclaim May 30 as National Poppy Day.

Mrs. Isaac Dingee a former resident of New Paltz, who was a patient in the Kingston Hospital, has returned to 80 Marius street, Kingston where she makes her home.

Pvt. John Jones, is at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Mrs. Lee H. Ball was the speaker at the meeting of the W.S.C.S. in Carmel on March 14.

Eighty-seven persons were served at the annual dinner of the New Paltz unit of the Farmer-Consumer Milk Cooperative on March 10, which was held in the Methodist Church. Among the guests from New York were Paul U. Killogg, editor of the magazine, Survey Graphic, and his wife, Helen Hall, director of Henry Street Settlement, President Meyer Parodneck complimented Chester Elliott, Jr., local manager, on his conduct of the plant.

Perry Berago as guest violinist was heard in Goddard's "Canzonetti" at the Methodist Church on Palm Sunday. The choir sang Faure's The Palms and Parker's Jerusalem, Be Not Afraid was the sermon subject.

More than 150 civil defense workers were present at the special meeting held on Tuesday night at the high school. John Brereton introduced Defense Director Lou Rolling who spoke briefly on the fine work that was being done by the volunteer workers in New Paltz. Mayor Robert Reid expressed the sentiments of the village regarding the fine work done by the group. County Director Howard Shurter spoke next on the value of movies to get across to the people about the atom bomb. Col. Allan L. Hanstein, deputy director in charge of reception centers, spoke of the two major considerations: (1) That New Paltz could be bombed and (2) problem of helping expected target areas. Credit was given to Mrs. Harry Ahlberg on the success of the local blood bank. Donald Allen was also a speaker. Following a short talk on the medical set-up by Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt two films were shown. Dr. DeWitt told of the local medical teams led by Drs. Walter Rost, Erhard Boetzel and himself along with four nurses and six stretcher bearers under each doctor. The first film, "Tale of Two Cities" showed the destruction wrought by the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The second movie was a Red Cross film on safety and first aid. The high light of the evening was the swearing in by Director Shurter of 12 civilian police who were at the meeting.

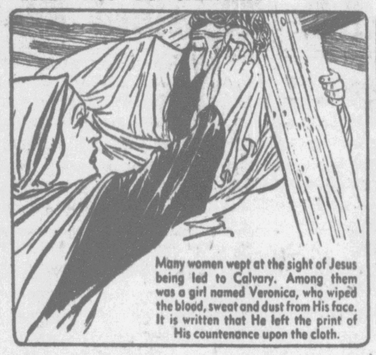
Mrs. George Brannagan of New Paltz was hostess to the Forest Glen Home Bureau Unit at her home on Thursday, March 15.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Hoffman, Sr., attended a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Costello, Plattekill, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coy, Sr., attended an antique auction in Dutchess county last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Imlott of Albany spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Smalley in this vicinity.

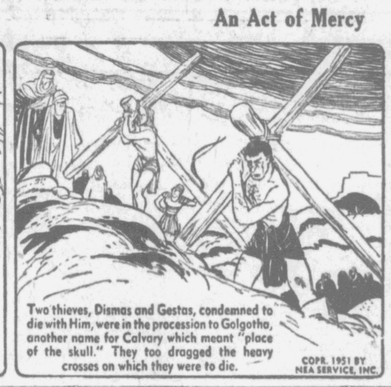
THE WAY TO CALVARY



Many women wept at the sight of Jesus being led to Calvary. Among them was a girl named Veronica, who wiped the blood, sweat and dust from His face. It is written that He left the print of His countenance upon the cloth.

At one point, Jesus turned to the women to comfort them, saying, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."

An Act of Mercy



Two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were in the procession to Golgotha, another name for Calvary which meant "place of the skull." They too dragged the heavy crosses on which they were to die.

Favors Young Drivers

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey today vetoed a bill that would have given Mom and Dad a veto power over Junior's license to drive a car. Dewey made no comment in rejecting the measure, which would have forced suspension of the license if parents withdrew their consent, now required before a license can be issued to a 16-or 17-year-old. The suspension would have remained in effect until the parent's consent was renewed, or until the driver reached 18 and qualified for a regular license.

TR's House to Be Shrine

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey has signed a bill that was designed to permit restoration of President Theodore Roosevelt's summer White House at Oyster Bay. Efforts to rehabilitate the 23-room house, Sagamore Hill, had been blocked by local zoning regulations. The bill signed by Dewey yesterday permits restoration of the home of a deceased president, despite any local zoning ordinance. The measure was introduced by Republican Assemblyman D. S. Hill, Jr., of Nassau county.

Fishermen use a leaf from an automobile spring to pry abalones from their wave-swept rocky homes.

Help for Villages

Albany, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—All villages of 5,000 or more population may levy a one per cent tax on the gross income of utilities, under terms of a bill approved today by Governor Dewey. Previously, the tax authority was limited to cities and first class villages. The new authority is effective at once.

Lions Give $250 To Little League

The Kingston Lions Club board of directors has voted a donation of $250 to the Kingston Athletic Association to help promote its Little League baseball program.

The Lions Club has supported the K.A.A.'s playground work with similar contributions the past three years.

At the regular Lions Club luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday, member Robert E. Teetsel, was presented with a scroll in recognition of his two years as president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. Presentation was made by Lawrence J. MacAvery, Teetsel's successor as Chamber president, who is also a Lions Club member.

In accepting the scroll, Teetsel paid tribute to MacAvery for his work in building up membership in the commerce group, and commended those businessmen who "were able to see the future of the Chamber of Commerce" and assisted greatly in its development. Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber, was a guest at the meeting.

It was announced that it is still possible to obtain booths for the Lions Club exposition, April 3 to 7. A moving picture taken at the Lions International Convention in Chicago last July was shown.

Tailored Touches

A number of new edgings now available will give a tailored finish to homemade dresses. One is a lattice loop trim, effective on collars and cuffs.

President Says

globe by the State Department's Voice of America.

Telegraphs Marshall

He telegraphed Marshall:

"I wish to commend you and all your associates in the army, navy, and the air force for the strenuous efforts which have made such growth possible.

"This tremendous gain in our strength has been made necessary by the lawless aggression of Communist forces in Korea, and by the menace of still further Communist attacks against other free nations.

"The armed forces we are building, and the supplies for them which our factories, farms, and mines are turning out, are for the protection and preservation of our freedom.

"The speed with which we have been able to strengthen our defenses should be a source of inspiration and encouragement to men everywhere who love freedom. It is evidence of our determination, in company with other free nations, to establish and maintain world peace.

"I am confident that, under your wise leadership, the Department of Defense will continue to build the strength we need, fully supported by the congress and the American people."

Strength Was 1,458,000

The defense department gave this country's pre-Korean armed force strength at 1,458,000 men.

Mr. Truman has announced the goal of 3,500,000 men as soon as possible after June 30. And his leaders in congress are making a last-ditch stand against some attempts to place a ceiling of 4,000,000 men on the uniformed personnel.

Even more determined resistance has been decided upon against any attempt to require congressional approval to dispatching to Europe more than the four divisions already promised to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The monthly draft has been running at about 80,000, but has been reduced to 50,000 for May. Six National Guard divisions have been called into service.

Mr. Truman's statement today was an invitation to Allies of the United States to speed up the rebuiding of their armaments and their armed forces.

It came after a conference at this naval submarine station yesterday with Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.

Kept Well on Ice

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 21 (AP)—Two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ulmer escaped unhurt when a fire destroyed their apartment. But—Mrs. Ulmer fainted on recalling she had left an engagement ring she valued at $1,800, on the bathroom sink. For weeks Ulmer combed the ruins of the building looking for the ring. Yesterday he unearthed the sink and triumphantly produced the ring. It was imbedded in ice and undamaged. Mrs. Ulmer fainted again.

43 Stores Announce They'll Close for Good Friday Hours

A move instigated by two uptown clergymen of different denominations for business places to observe Good Friday resulted in an announcement today that 43, mostly in the uptown area, would close from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

The clerics, one a minister, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old First Reformed Church, and the Rev. John D. Simmons, Roman Catholic priest of St. Joseph's Church, expressed their sentiments on the Good Friday observance in a letter to the editor of The Freeman.

After it appeared in print, businessmen of their own volition announced that they would close their stores. No meetings were held on the matter or group action taken.

In their letter, the clergymen asked that stores close "in observance of the three hours agony in which the Son of God wrought the salvation of mankind."

Among the places of business to lock their doors from noon to 3 p. m. Friday, according to a list announced by the priest and minister are:

Dedrick drug store, Herzog hardware store, Gotelli's fruit market, Fanny Farmer candy store, Flanagans' clothing store, Wonderly Company, O'Reilly's two stationery stores, Van's drug store, Brother & Sister shop, Elston Sport shop.

The Mayfair's two stores, Rossi's music shop, Arace barber shop, Meyer's jewelry shop, Hudela's tailor shop, Microtone hearing service, Styles jewelry shop.

Governor Clinton barber shop, Samuel Bernstein & Co., clothiers, Blackstone pharmacy, Colonial City Carpet Co., Wiltwyck Motors, McBride's drug store, Colonial book shop, Junior Deb shop, Donnaruma & Augustine insurance, Arace barber shop, Carl's millinery shop, Teresa hat shop.

Byrnes Brothers monuments, Veteran's barber shop, Decker & Fowler insurance, Lanzafame barber shop, Loft Candy store, Harry Beck's meat maket, Ackerman & Herrick, hardware; Van Tassell's drug store, Shultz paint store, Potter's sport shop, Safford & Scudder jewelers, Walt May appliance store, Mollott clothiers, Frank J. Jagger optometrist.

Many places of business that will not close have arranged schedules for employes to attend church services.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has announced that offices in the city hall will remain closed during the three hours.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SPECIAL DISTRICT MEETING

Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York.

The Board of Education of Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, hereby gives notice that a special district meeting of the qualified voters of said School District will be held at the Grange Hall, in Stone Ridge, New York, in said School District, on the 10th day of April, 1951, at 2:30 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, at which the polls will be kept open between the hours of 3:00 o'clock P. M. and 9:00 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of voting by ballot upon the following proposition:

Proposition

Shall the following resolution be adopted, to-wit:

RESOLVED, that the Board of Education of Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, is hereby authorized to construct and equip a new school building on the existing school site of said District located at the intersection of Krippiebush Road and Peak Road, in said School District, in accordance with plans and specifications, approved by the Commissioner of Education of the State of New York, at a total estimated cost of $610,000; which sum of $610,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be raised by the levy of a tax upon the taxable property of said School District and collected in annual installments as provided by Section 416 of the Education Law; and, in anticipation of such tax, bonds of said School District shall be issued.

Dated, Stone Ridge, New York, March 20th, 1951.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 3 OF THE TOWNS OF MARBLETOWN, ROCHESTER AND ROSENDALE, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK.

By MYRTLE STRONG
School District Clerk

Budget-Cutters

quit for the day there was pending an amendment to chop out another $1,000,000.

Yesterday's cuts were aimed at bureau payrolls in the Treasury Department.

Here's what the did:

1. Cut salary allowances for the secretary's office to $2,400,000 from the $2,648,000 recommended by the Appropriations Committee and $2,684,000 requested by the President. The vote was 111 to 48.

2. Cut Bureau of Accounts salary allowances to $1,850,000. The President asked for $2,095,000 and the committee recommended $2,050,000. The vote was 107 to 54.

3. Cut $450,000 from the Division of Disbursements salary allotment, leaving it at $11,050,000 instead of the $11,500,000 recommended by the committee and $12,000,000 sought by the President. It carried 112 to 57.

Many large items, including the post office allotment of $2,335,500,000, still must be acted on.

Dies for Rape of Child

Huntsville, Tex., March. 21 (AP)—A 41-year-old father of two children died in the state's electric chair today for the rape of a 10-year-old girl. Allen Conway Williams, a seaman, was convicted of the rape of a Laporte, Tex., girl Oct. 28, 1949. The child identified Williams as her attacker. She accused him of luring her from a theatre and raping her twice. During his trial, Williams denied knowledge of the assault. "If I did it," he said, "I don't know anything about it." Williams was father of a 12-year-old girl and a six-year-old boy.

maneuver by which the rested Chinese Third Field Army may replace the Chinese Fourth Field Army all across the front.

The Third has been resting in North Korea since last December. It had fought against Allied forces in the Hungnam area of northeast Korea.

Resistance Is Stiff

Field reports said an American unit Wednesday met stiff resistance from about 2,500 Chinese on the western front. Air strikes were called down on three Red troop concentrations.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker said the Reds have manned defense positions on both sides of the highway which runs northward from Seoul through Uijongbu. Chinese are in the east, North Koreans on the west.

Uijongbu is 12 miles north of Seoul.

General MacArthur's ban on any mention of the 38th parallel was lifted Wednesday. Such bans usually cloak an impending military operation. No new operations have been reported, however.

American forces are within 13 miles of 38 on the west central front. They were reported six miles northeast of the Chungpyong reservoir.

Settlement Not Far Off

Despite their criticism of Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and others, there were indications that a settlement was not far off of the major quarrel over a wage stabilization board which would handle some labor disputes.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston was due back from Key West this afternoon, and was expected to begin again a round of peace talks with the labor leaders and management spokesmen.

Johnston met with President Truman yesterday and was asked to redouble his efforts, according to word from Key West.

Despite the criticism voiced at a series of meetings, none of the labor leaders called directly for the resignation of Wilson, nor did they blame Mr. Truman personally for the snarl-up of his mobilization program.

Mr. Truman has announced he'll establish a 17-man mobilization advisory board, with Wilson as its chairman. He said the aim is to get the best talents in industry, labor, agriculture and the public on a board which would advise the President on problems as they arise.

Green and Murray told reporters they wanted to know more about that proposal before they support the idea.

President Says

globe by the State Department's Voice of America.

Telegraphs Marshall

He telegraphed Marshall:

"I wish to commend you and all your associates in the army, navy, and the air force for the strenuous efforts which have made such growth possible.

"This tremendous gain in our strength has been made necessary by the lawless aggression of Communist forces in Korea, and by the menace of still further Communist attacks against other free nations.

"The armed forces we are building, and the supplies for them which our factories, farms, and mines are turning out, are for the protection and preservation of our freedom.

"The speed with which we have been able to strengthen our defenses should be a source of inspiration and encouragement to men everywhere who love freedom. It is evidence of our determination, in company with other free nations, to establish and maintain world peace.

"I am confident that, under your wise leadership, the Department of Defense will continue to build the strength we need, fully supported by the congress and the American people."

Strength Was 1,458,000

The defense department gave this country's pre-Korean armed force strength at 1,458,000 men.

Mr. Truman has announced the goal of 3,500,000 men as soon as possible after June 30. And his leaders in congress are making a last-ditch stand against some attempts to place a ceiling of 4,000,000 men on the uniformed personnel.

Even more determined resistance has been decided upon against any attempt to require congressional approval to dispatching to Europe more than the four divisions already promised to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The monthly draft has been running at about 80,000, but has been reduced to 50,000 for May. Six National Guard divisions have been called into service.

Mr. Truman's statement today was an invitation to Allies of the United States to speed up the rebuiding of their armaments and their armed forces.

It came after a conference at this naval submarine station yesterday with Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.

Kept Well on Ice

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 21 (AP)—Two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ulmer escaped unhurt when a fire destroyed their apartment. But—Mrs. Ulmer fainted on recalling she had left an engagement ring she valued at $1,800, on the bathroom sink. For weeks Ulmer combed the ruins of the building looking for the ring. Yesterday he unearthed the sink and triumphantly produced the ring. It was imbedded in ice and undamaged. Mrs. Ulmer fainted again.

43 Stores Announce They'll Close for Good Friday Hours

A move instigated by two uptown clergymen of different denominations for business places to observe Good Friday resulted in an announcement today that 43, mostly in the uptown area, would close from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

The clerics, one a minister, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old First Reformed Church, and the Rev. John D. Simmons, Roman Catholic priest of St. Joseph's Church, expressed their sentiments on the Good Friday observance in a letter to the editor of The Freeman.

After it appeared in print, businessmen of their own volition announced that they would close their stores. No meetings were held on the matter or group action taken.

In their letter, the clergymen asked that stores close "in observance of the three hours agony in which the Son of God wrought the salvation of mankind."

Among the places of business to lock their doors from noon to 3 p. m. Friday, according to a list announced by the priest and minister are:

Dedrick drug store, Herzog hardware store, Gotelli's fruit market, Fanny Farmer candy store, Flanagans' clothing store, Wonderly Company, O'Reilly's two stationery stores, Van's drug store, Brother & Sister shop, Elston Sport shop.

The Mayfair's two stores, Rossi's music shop, Arace barber shop, Meyer's jewelry shop, Hudela's tailor shop, Microtone hearing service, Styles jewelry shop.

Governor Clinton barber shop, Samuel Bernstein & Co., clothiers, Blackstone pharmacy, Colonial City Carpet Co., Wiltwyck Motors, McBride's drug store, Colonial book shop, Junior Deb shop, Donnaruma & Augustine insurance, Arace barber shop, Carl's millinery shop, Teresa hat shop.

Byrnes Brothers monuments, Veteran's barber shop, Decker & Fowler insurance, Lanzafame barber shop, Loft Candy store, Harry Beck's meat maket, Ackerman & Herrick, hardware; Van Tassell's drug store, Shultz paint store, Potter's sport shop, Safford & Scudder jewelers, Walt May appliance store, Mollott clothiers, Frank J. Jagger optometrist.

Many places of business that will not close have arranged schedules for employes to attend church services.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has announced that offices in the city hall will remain closed during the three hours.

Budget-Cutters

quit for the day there was pending an amendment to chop out another $1,000,000.

Yesterday's cuts were aimed at bureau payrolls in the Treasury Department.

Here's what the did:

1. Cut salary allowances for the secretary's office to $2,400,000 from the $2,648,000 recommended by the Appropriations Committee and $2,684,000 requested by the President. The vote was 111 to 48.

2. Cut Bureau of Accounts salary allowances to $1,850,000. The President asked for $2,095,000 and the committee recommended $2,050,000. The vote was 107 to 54.

3. Cut $450,000 from the Division of Disbursements salary allotment, leaving it at $11,050,000 instead of the $11,500,000 recommended by the committee and $12,000,000 sought by the President. It carried 112 to 57.

Many large items, including the post office allotment of $2,335,500,000, still must be acted on.

Dies for Rape of Child

Huntsville, Tex., March 21 (AP)—A 41-year-old father of two children died in the state's electric chair today for the rape of a 10-year-old girl. Allen Conway Williams, a seaman, was convicted of the rape of a Laporte, Tex., girl Oct. 28, 1949. The child identified Williams as her attacker. She accused him of luring her from a theatre and raping her twice. During his trial, Williams denied knowledge of the assault. "If I did it," he said, "I don't know anything about it." Williams was father of a 12-year-old girl and a six-year-old boy.

Americans in maneuver by which the rested Chinese Third Field Army may replace the Chinese Fourth Field Army all across the front.

The Third has been resting in North Korea since last December. It had fought against Allied forces in the Hungnam area of northeast Korea.

Resistance Is Stiff

Field reports said an American unit Wednesday met stiff resistance from about 2,500 Chinese on the western front. Air strikes were called down on three Red troop concentrations.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker said the Reds have manned defense positions on both sides of the highway which runs northward from Seoul through Uijongbu. Chinese are in the east, North Koreans on the west.

Uijongbu is 12 miles north of Seoul.

General MacArthur's ban on any mention of the 38th parallel was lifted Wednesday. Such bans usually cloak an impending military operation. No new operations have been reported, however.

American forces are within 13 miles of 38 on the west central front. They were reported six miles northeast of the Chungpyong reservoir.

Fifth Air Force fighters Wednesday littered the northwestern corner of North Korea with wrecked and burned transport.

Labor Raps . . .

the wage ceiling at a level 10 per cent above Jan. 15, 1950.

Settlement Not Far Off

Despite their criticism of Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and others, there were indications that a settlement was not far off of the major quarrel over a wage stabilization board which would handle some labor disputes.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston was due back from Key West this afternoon, and was expected to begin again a round of peace talks with the labor leaders and management spokesmen.

Johnston met with President Truman yesterday and was asked to redouble his efforts, according to word from Key West.

Despite the criticism voiced at a series of meetings, none of the labor leaders called directly for the resignation of Wilson, nor did they blame Mr. Truman personally for the snarl-up of his mobilization program.

Mr. Truman has announced he'll establish a 17-man mobilization advisory board, with Wilson as its chairman. He said the aim is to get the best talents in industry, labor, agriculture and the public on a board which would advise the President on problems as they arise.

Green and Murray told reporters they wanted to know more about that proposal before they support the idea.

Both mace and nutmeg come from the same African tree.

Will Close Offices

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced today that all offices and departments in the city hall, excepting the police department, will be closed Friday afternoon starting at noon in observance of Good Friday.

President Says

globe by the State Department's Voice of America.

Telegraphs Marshall

He telegraphed Marshall:

"I wish to commend you and all your associates in the army, navy, and the air force for the strenuous efforts which have made such growth possible.

"This tremendous gain in our strength has been made necessary by the lawless aggression of Communist forces in Korea, and by the menace of still further Communist attacks against other free nations.

"The armed forces we are building, and the supplies for them which our factories, farms, and mines are turning out, are for the protection and preservation of our freedom.

"The speed with which we have been able to strengthen our defenses should be a source of inspiration and encouragement to men everywhere who love freedom. It is evidence of our determination, in company with other free nations, to establish and maintain world peace.

"I am confident that, under your wise leadership, the Department of Defense will continue to build the strength we need, fully supported by the congress and the American people."

Strength Was 1,458,000

The defense department gave this country's pre-Korean armed force strength at 1,458,000 men.

Mr. Truman has announced the goal of 3,500,000 men as soon as possible after June 30. And his leaders in congress are making a last-ditch stand against some attempts to place a ceiling of 4,000,000 men on the uniformed personnel.

Even more determined resistance has been decided upon against any attempt to require congressional approval to dispatching to Europe more than the four divisions already promised to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The monthly draft has been running at about 80,000, but has been reduced to 50,000 for May. Six National Guard divisions have been called into service.

Mr. Truman's statement today was an invitation to Allies of the United States to speed up the rebuiding of their armaments and their armed forces.

It came after a conference at this naval submarine station yesterday with Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.

Kept Well on Ice

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 21 (AP)—Two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ulmer escaped unhurt when a fire destroyed their apartment. But—Mrs. Ulmer fainted on recalling she had left an engagement ring she valued at $1,800, on the bathroom sink. For weeks Ulmer combed the ruins of the building looking for the ring. Yesterday he unearthed the sink and triumphantly produced the ring. It was imbedded in ice and undamaged. Mrs. Ulmer fainted again.

LEGAL NOTICE

Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York.

The Board of Education of Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, hereby gives notice that a special district meeting of the qualified voters of said School District will be held at the Grange Hall, in Stone Ridge, New York, in said School District, on the 10th day of April, 1951, at 2:30 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, at which the polls will be kept open between the hours of 3:00 o'clock P. M. and 9:00 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of voting by ballot upon the following proposition:

Proposition

Shall the following resolution be adopted, to-wit:

RESOLVED, that the Board of Education of Central School District No. 3 of the Towns of Marbletown, Rochester and Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, is hereby authorized to construct and equip a new school building on the existing school site of said District located at the intersection of Krippiebush Road and Peak Road, in said School District, in accordance with plans and specifications, approved by the Commissioner of Education of the State of New York, at a total estimated cost of $610,000; which sum of $610,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be raised by the levy of a tax upon the taxable property of said School District and collected in annual installments as provided by Section 416 of the Education Law; and, in anticipation of such tax, bonds of said School District shall be issued.

Dated, Stone Ridge, New York, March 20th, 1951.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 3 OF THE TOWNS OF MARBLETOWN, ROCHESTER AND ROSENDALE, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK.

By MYRTLE STRONG
School District Clerk

43 Stores Announce They'll Close for Good Friday Hours

A move instigated by two uptown clergymen of different denominations for business places to observe Good Friday resulted in an announcement today that 43, mostly in the uptown area, would close from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

The clerics, one a minister, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old First Reformed Church, and the Rev. John D. Simmons, Roman Catholic priest of St. Joseph's Church, expressed their sentiments on the Good Friday observance in a letter to the editor of The Freeman.

After it appeared in print, businessmen of their own volition announced that they would close their stores. No meetings were held on the matter or group action taken.

In their letter, the clergymen asked that stores close "in observance of the three hours agony in which the Son of God wrought the salvation of mankind."

Among the places of business to lock their doors from noon to 3 p. m. Friday, according to a list announced by the priest and minister are:

Dedrick drug store, Herzog hardware store, Gotelli's fruit market, Fanny Farmer candy store, Flanagans' clothing store, Wonderly Company, O'Reilly's two stationery stores, Van's drug store, Brother & Sister shop, Elston Sport shop.

The Mayfair's two stores, Rossi's music shop, Arace barber shop, Meyer's jewelry shop, Hudela's tailor shop, Microtone hearing service, Styles jewelry shop.

Governor Clinton barber shop, Samuel Bernstein & Co., clothiers, Blackstone pharmacy, Colonial City Carpet Co., Wiltwyck Motors, McBride's drug store, Colonial book shop, Junior Deb shop, Donnaruma & Augustine insurance, Arace barber shop, Carl's millinery shop, Teresa hat shop.

Byrnes Brothers monuments, Veteran's barber shop, Decker & Fowler insurance, Lanzafame barber shop, Loft Candy store, Harry Beck's meat maket, Ackerman & Herrick, hardware; Van Tassell's drug store, Shultz paint store, Potter's sport shop, Safford & Scudder jewelers, Walt May appliance store, Mollott clothiers, Frank J. Jagger optometrist.

Many places of business that will not close have arranged schedules for employes to attend church services.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has announced that offices in the city hall will remain closed during the three hours.

Budget-Cutters

quit for the day there was pending an amendment to chop out another $1,000,000.

Yesterday's cuts were aimed at bureau payrolls in the Treasury Department.

Here's what the did:

1. Cut salary allowances for the secretary's office to $2,400,000 from the $2,648,000 recommended by the Appropriations Committee and $2,684,000 requested by the President. The vote was 111 to 48.

2. Cut Bureau of Accounts salary allowances to $1,850,000. The President asked for $2,095,000 and the committee recommended $2,050,000. The vote was 107 to 54.

3. Cut $450,000 from the Division of Disbursements salary allotment, leaving it at $11,050,000 instead of the $11,500,000 recommended by the committee and $12,000,000 sought by the President. It carried 112 to 57.

Many large items, including the post office allotment of $2,335,500,000, still must be acted on.

Dies for Rape of Child

Huntsville, Tex., March 21 (AP)—A 41-year-old father of two children died in the state's electric chair today for the rape of a 10-year-old girl. Allen Conway Williams, a seaman, was convicted of the rape of a Laporte, Tex., girl Oct. 28, 1949. The child identified Williams as her attacker. She accused him of luring her from a theatre and raping her twice. During his trial, Williams denied knowledge of the assault. "If I did it," he said, "I don't know anything about it." Williams was father of a 12-year-old girl and a six-year-old boy.

Americans in maneuver by which the rested Chinese Third Field Army may replace the Chinese Fourth Field Army all across the front.

The Third has been resting in North Korea since last December. It had fought against Allied forces in the Hungnam area of northeast Korea.

Resistance Is Stiff

Field reports said an American unit Wednesday met stiff resistance from about 2,500 Chinese on the western front. Air strikes were called down on three Red troop concentrations.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker said the Reds have manned defense positions on both sides of the highway which runs northward from Seoul through Uijongbu. Chinese are in the east, North Koreans on the west.

Uijongbu is 12 miles north of Seoul.

General MacArthur's ban on any mention of the 38th parallel was lifted Wednesday. Such bans usually cloak an impending military operation. No new operations have been reported, however.

American forces are within 13 miles of 38 on the west central front. They were reported six miles northeast of the Chungpyong reservoir.

Fifth Air Force fighters Wednesday littered the northwestern corner of North Korea with wrecked and burned transport.

Labor Raps . . .

the wage ceiling at a level 10 per cent above Jan. 15, 1950.

Settlement Not Far Off

Despite their criticism of Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and others, there were indications that a settlement was not far off of the major quarrel over a wage stabilization board which would handle some labor disputes.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston was due back from Key West this afternoon, and was expected to begin again a round of peace talks with the labor leaders and management spokesmen.

Johnston met with President Truman yesterday and was asked to redouble his efforts, according to word from Key West.

Despite the criticism voiced at a series of meetings, none of the labor leaders called directly for the resignation of Wilson, nor did they blame Mr. Truman personally for the snarl-up of his mobilization program.

Mr. Truman has announced he'll establish a 17-man mobilization advisory board, with Wilson as its chairman. He said the aim is to get the best talents in industry, labor, agriculture and the public on a board which would advise the President on problems as they arise.

Green and Murray told reporters they wanted to know more about that proposal before they support the idea.

Both mace and nutmeg come from the same African tree.

Will Close Offices

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced today that all offices and departments in the city hall, excepting the police department, will be closed Friday afternoon starting at noon in observance of Good Friday.

The Weather

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1951

Sun rises at 5:47 a. m.; sun sets at 5:57 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 30 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 50 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Fair weather, seasonable temperatures today, tonight and tomorrow; high today in upper 40's; low tonight, near 35 in city, near 25 in suburbs. High Thursday, near 45.

Eastern New York — Some cloudiness, continued rather cold today, tonight and tomorrow.

Mercury at 29 As Spring Arrives

Spring arrived at 5:25 a. m. today with no promise of quickly changing the temperament of March.

The city engineer's office reported the mercury at 29 degrees at the moment when the sun crossed the line. It was still 29 at 6 a. m., but started moving upward from then on and was 46 at 10:30 a. m.

This March has had its share of dampness and raw air, but records show only seven days to date of below-freezing temperatures including today. The lowest was March 6 when the overnight was 21 degrees, but that same day brought a high of 53 which was high for the month. The mercury hit 53 again March 16.

Precipitation for March, to date, however, is above the 15-year average of 3.02 inches for the month. The city engineer's records show a rainfall of 3.18 inches (this includes nearly eight inches of snow) with ten more days to go in the month.

Costello Defies

gave Erickson $3,800 or $4,000 as an initial investment.

Halley: How much time have you devoted to legitimate enterprises in the last two years.

Costello: I told you what I did for the Beverly Country Club and I have been up to Mr. Wolf's office making inquiries about a building."

He previously had testified to having an interest in the Beverly Club in New Orleans.

Halley asked Costello whether the broiler business and the club were the only legitimate businesses he was engaged in now.

Costello: I would say, yes. Of course, I have a trading company.

He was referring to a real estate company.

Then he said he had "a little interest in an oil field."

Halley asked whether Costello had in excess of $10,000 in cash "anywhere else" than in his strongbox at home or in his bank accounts.

Costello: I'm not going to answer that question on the ground it pertains to my net worth, which I refused to answer before.

Costello told the committee on an earlier appearance he had between $40,000 and $50,000 in cash at his home.

No Other Box

Halley: Do you have a safe deposit box anywhere else other than in your home?

Costello: No.

Halley: Do you have anyone who holds cash money for you?

Costello: No.

Halley: In other words, you refuse to answer if you have any cash money other than what you have described?

Costello said this was so.

Kefauver: Well, we have to direct you to answer that question.

Defense Counsel George Wolf said the committee was within its rights in asking pertinent questions, then added:

"The question now is whether the constitutional rights of the witness are involved."

The committee has asked for a legal brief on this claim. It says the brief will figure in its recommendation to the Senate to cite the witness for contempt of Congress.

Won't Summon Pair

Earlier, Kefauver said the committee did not intend to "send for" Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri or Ferdinand Pecora, rivals in last fall's election campaign. Later the mayor said he would not appear.

Impellitteri ran as an Independent Democrat and Pecora was the regular Democratic candidate, with Tammany backing.

State Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi, unsuccessful Republican mayoralty candidate, yesterday repeated before the committee his campaign charges that both his rivals had underworld backing in their campaigns.

"We had invited all three of the mayoralty candidates and Mr. Corsi appeared," Kefauver told reporters. "If the others care to appear we will be glad to hear them, but we don't intend to send for them."

Kefauver said he considered Corsi's testimony was not satisfactory because it needed "substantiation."

Intense public interest continued as the hearing went into its eighth day here.

Every one of the 200 seats in the third-floor hearing room in the U. S. Courthouse was occupied.

At least a dozen spectators were standing in line at the courthouse as early as 4 a. m. (EST).

Lehman Sends Report

Kefauver said the committee had received from the staff of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), a voluminous report of state action taken against gambling at Saratoga Springs during Lehman's term as governor of New York.

The report referred to 1939 and other years, Kefauver said.

The senator also reported receiving a telegram from Walter P. Van Riper, former New Jersey attorney general, in which Van Riper "took exception" to statements made before the committee by Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh of New York city.

Murtagh had said that while he was New York city investigations commissioner under O'Dwyer he had turned over New Jersey telephone numbers of Erickson and other underworld figures to Van Riper.

Bert Stand, a Democrat leader and former luminary in Tammany Hall, New York Democratic organization, appeared uninvited and said he wished to make a statement.

Stand, who had been named as an associate of Costello, read a three-page statement defending his record and naming O'Dwyer as the real boss of Tammany.

'Always Confusing'

"O'Dwyer's action were always confusing, contradictory and irrational," Stand said.

"He changed the leadership in Tammany Hall almost as often as he changed his mind.

"The public, however, was apparently misled by all his artful double-talk into believing that O'Dwyer sought to 'reform' the organization, when actually his only objective was to control it.

"And he did control it."

Stand said he met Costello in 1942 but that the gambler never asked for political favors.

As Stand left the hearing room, he bumped into Costello and they shook hands.

As Costello took the stand, Louis Weber, reputed Brooklyn "policy" number king, was brought to the committee witness room by a deputy marshal.

Weber, who testified earlier, was arrested on a purjury charge when he denied knowing James Moran, a friend and political associate of O'Dwyer.

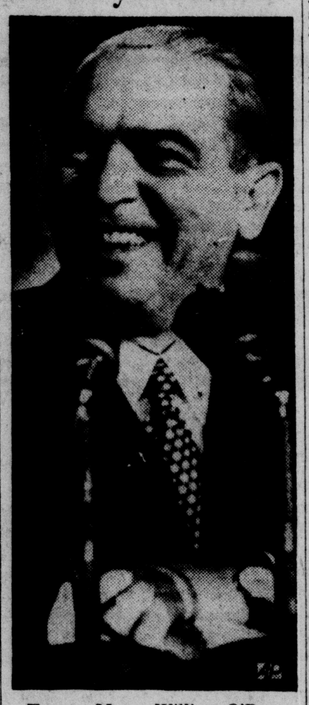
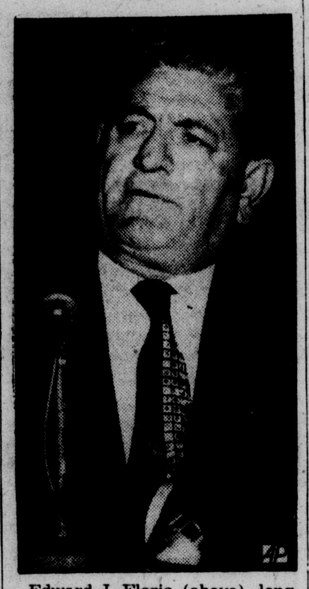
O'Dwyer Smiles



Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York smiles as he testifies for the second successive day before the Senate crime committee hearing in New York. The ambassador to Mexico told the committee there is a growing "national empire" of crime and urged big-scale appropriations to stop it.

Witness



Edward J. Florio (above), longshoremen's union organizer, of Hoboken, N. J., told Senate crime committee investigators in New York, March 19, that "I wouldn't know a horse from a nanny-goat" in reply to a question on waterfront gambling.

Regional Meeting Slated For Insurance Agents

A regional meeting has been scheduled by the New York State Association of Insurance Agents at Catskill on April 3 at the Saulpaugh Hotel, it was announced today by President Joseph A. Neumann.

Several hundred agents from this area have been invited and judging from the response to the 12 previous regional meetings a large attendance is anticipated, Neumann stated.

Speakers at this meeting will be Walter F. Brooks, deputy superintendent of the New York Insurance Department; Eugene A. Toale, C.P.C.U., assistant director of education of the National Association of Insurance Agents; Arthur Schwab, C.P.C.U., chairman of the membership committee; John G. Mayer, executive secretary, and President Neumann.

The Catskill region includes Greene, Columbia, Sullivan, Ulster and Dutchess counties. Local chairman is Alex Grossmann of Catskill.

Wrong Worker's Name

Mrs. Robert Baylor and not Mrs. Roland Baylor is a member of the first ward Red Cross canvassing committee in Kingston. Mrs. Roland Baylor was listed in Monday's committee announcement.

Arrives at Hearing

Albert Anastasia, reputed executioner for the Murder, Inc., mob of a decade ago, wears smoked glasses as he arrives at federal courthouse, New York, for the March 20 morning session of the Senate crime committee. Anastasia said he had conjunctivitis, an eye ailment, and asked that he not be required to appear but the committee directed that he be on hand for the afternoon session.

There are only THREE Kinds of Insurance!

1. The kind that protects you against catastrophes that could cost you almost everything you have.
2. The kind that will prevent your losing smaller amounts of money — still important but not disastrous.
3. The kind that it's nice to have so you won't worry about unexpected losses — losses that you won't enjoy but that won't break your heart or your bankroll if you have to pay them yourself.

The more than 50 different types of protection we offer can all be accurately divided into these three major kinds of insurance. The classification of a particular type of protection, however, varies with different people and their special situations.

Do you know whether the policies you have are in the first, second or third class? Perhaps you have some in the third class and don't have all of the few in the first class. That's dangerous to your bank account.

We'll be glad to study your policies, without charge or obligation on your part, and classify them according to your individual needs.

Carlson Returns To U. S. From War

Pfc. Clifford R. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, 65 Staples street, is among 1,500 U. S. Marines returning aboard the U.S.S. Gen. G. M. Randall after service in Korea, the Associated Press reported today.

The local Marine's mother said he enlisted when he was 16 years old. He has been in the service since Aug. 14, 1947, and had been overseas since last July.

The list of names of the men returning released today from San Francisco, contained the names of many other men from New York state (most of them were from the metropolitan area). The only other one from this area was Cpl. Donald G. Penovi, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Penovi, 53 Prospect street, Poughkeepsie.

The Gen. Randall is scheduled to dock in San Francisco tomorrow.

Musical Terms in Hebrew

Tel Aviv, (AP)—A dictionary with 1200 musical expressions in Hebrew is expected to be published in Israel. The "Va'ad Halashon" (Hebrew Language Council) originally believed that it might only be necessary to determine some 100-120 musical expressions in the revived Bible language, but experience has shown that many more are needed—even if a number of non-Hebrew (often Italian) words which are internationally used, are admitted into modern Hebrew as well.

The Weather

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1951

Sun rises at 5:47 a. m.; sun sets at 5:57 p. m., E.S.T.

Weather, partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 30 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 50 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Fair weather, seasonable temperatures today, tonight and tomorrow; high today in upper 40's; low tonight, near 35 in city, near 25 in suburbs. High Thursday, near 45.

Eastern New York — Some cloudiness, continued rather cold today, tonight and tomorrow.

Mercury at 29 As Spring Arrives

Spring arrived at 5:25 a. m. today with no promise of quickly changing the temperament of March.

The city engineer's office reported the mercury at 29 degrees at the moment when the sun crossed the line. It was still 29 at 6 a. m., but started moving upward from then on and was 46 at 10:30 a. m.

This March has had its share of dampness and raw air, but records show only seven days to date of below-freezing temperatures including today. The lowest was March 6 when the overnight was 21 degrees, but that same day brought a high of 53 which was high for the month. The mercury hit 53 again March 16.

Precipitation for March, to date, however, is above the 15-year average of 3.02 inches for the month. The city engineer's records show a rainfall of 3.18 inches (this includes nearly eight inches of snow) with ten more days to go in the month.

Sun rises at 5:47 a. m.; sun sets at 5:57 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 30 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 50 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Fair weather, seasonable temperatures today, tonight and tomorrow; high today in upper 40's; low tonight, near 35 in city, near 25 in suburbs. High Thursday, near 45.

Eastern New York — Some cloudiness, continued rather cold today, tonight and tomorrow.

Mercury at 29 As Spring Arrives

Spring arrived at 5:25 a. m. today with no promise of quickly changing the temperament of March.

The city engineer's office reported the mercury at 29 degrees at the moment when the sun crossed the line. It was still 29 at 6 a. m., but started moving upward from then on and was 46 at 10:30 a. m.

This March has had its share of dampness and raw air, but records show only seven days to date of below-freezing temperatures including today. The lowest was March 6 when the overnight was 21 degrees, but that same day brought a high of 53 which was high for the month. The mercury hit 53 again March 16.

Precipitation for March, to date, however, is above the 15-year average of 3.02 inches for the month. The city engineer's records show a rainfall of 3.18 inches (this includes nearly eight inches of snow) with ten more days to go in the month.

Costello Defies

gave Erickson $3,800 or $4,000 as an initial investment.

Halley: How much time have you devoted to legitimate enterprises in the last two years.

Costello: I told you what I did for the Beverly Country Club and I have been up to Mr. Wolf's office making inquiries about a building."

He previously had testified to having an interest in the Beverly Club in New Orleans.

Halley asked Costello whether the broiler business and the club were the only legitimate businesses he was engaged in now.

Costello: I would say, yes. Of course, I have a trading company.

He was referring to a real estate company.

Then he said he had "a little interest in an oil field."

Halley asked whether Costello had in excess of $10,000 in cash "anywhere else" than in his strongbox at home or in his bank accounts.

Costello: I'm not going to answer that question on the ground it pertains to my net worth, which I refused to answer before.

Costello told the committee on an earlier appearance he had between $40,000 and $50,000 in cash at his home.

No Other Box

Halley: Do you have a safe deposit box anywhere else other than in your home?

Costello: No.

Halley: Do you have anyone who holds cash money for you?

Costello: No.

Halley: In other words, you refuse to answer if you have any cash money other than what you have described?

Costello said this was so.

Kefauver: Well, we have to direct you to answer that question.

Defense Counsel George Wolf said the committee was within its rights in asking pertinent questions, then added:

"The question now is whether the constitutional rights of the witness are involved."

The committee has asked for a legal brief on this claim. It says the brief will figure in its recommendation to the Senate to cite the witness for contempt of Congress.

Won't Summon Pair

Earlier, Kefauver said the committee did not intend to "send for" Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri or Ferdinand Pecora, rivals in last fall's election campaign. Later the mayor said he would not appear.

Impellitteri ran as an Independent Democrat and Pecora was the regular Democratic candidate, with Tammany backing.

State Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi, unsuccessful Republican mayoralty candidate, yesterday repeated before the committee his campaign charges that both his rivals had underworld backing in their campaigns.

"We had invited all three of the mayoralty candidates and Mr. Corsi appeared," Kefauver told reporters. "If the others care to appear we will be glad to hear them, but we don't intend to send for them."

Kefauver said he considered Corsi's testimony was not satisfactory because it needed "substantiation."

Intense public interest continued as the hearing went into its eighth day here.

Every one of the 200 seats in the third-floor hearing room in the U. S. Courthouse was occupied.

At least a dozen spectators were standing in line at the courthouse as early as 4 a. m. (EST).

Lehman Sends Report

Kefauver said the committee had received from the staff of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.) a voluminous report of state action taken against gambling at Saratoga Springs durfng Lehman's term as governor of New York.

The report referred to 1939 and other years, Kefauver said.

The senator also reported receiving a telegram from Walter P. Van Riper, former New Jersey attorney general, in which Van Riper "took exception" to statements made before the committee by Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh of New York city.

Murtagh had said that while he was New York city investigations commissioner under O'Dwyer he had turned over New Jersey telephone numbers of Erickson and other underworld figures to Van Riper.

Bert Stand, a Democrat leader and former luminary in Tammany Hall, New York Democratc organization, appeared uninvited and said he wished to make a statement.

Stand, who had been named as an associate of Costello, read a three-page statement defending his record and naming O'Dwyer as the real boss of Tammany.

'Always Confusing'

"O'Dwyer's action were always confusing, contradictory and irrational," Stand said.

"He changed the leadership in Tammany Hall almost as often as he changed his mind.

"The public, however, was apparently misled by all his artful double-talk into believing that O'Dwyer sought to 'reform' the organization, when actually his only objective was to control it.

"And he did control it."

Stand said he met Costello in 1942 but that the gambler never asked for political favors.

As Stand left the hearing room, he bumped into Costello and they shook hands.

As Costello took the stand, Louis Weber, reputed Brooklyn "policy" number king, was brought to the committee witness room by a deputy marshal.

Weber, who testified earlier, was arrested on a purjury charge when he denied knowing James Moran, a friend and political associate of O'Dwyer.

O'Dwyer Smiles

Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York smiles as he testifies for the second successive day before the Senate crime committee hearing in New York. The ambassador to Mexico told the committee there is a growing "national empire" of crime and urged big-scale appropriations to stop it.

Witness

Regional Meeting Slated For Insurance Agents

A regional meeting has been scheduled by the New York State Association of Insurance Agents at Catskill on April 3 at the Saulpaugh Hotel, it was announced today by President Joseph A. Neumann.

Several hundred agents from this area have been invited and judging from the response to the 12 previous regional meetings a large attendance is anticipated, Neumann stated.

Speakers at this meeting will be Walter F. Brooks, deputy superintendent of the New York Insurance Department; Eugene A. Toale, C.P.C.U., assistant director of education of the National Association of Insurance Agents; Arthur Schwab, C.P.C.U., chairman of the membership committee; John G. Mayer, executive secretary, and President Neumann.

The Catskill region includes Greene, Columbia, Sullivan, Ulster and Dutchess counties. Local chairman is Alex Grossmann of Catskill.

Arrives at Hearing

Albert Anastasia, reputed executioner for the Murder, Inc., mob of a decade ago, wears smoked glasses as he arrives at federal courthouse, New York, for the March 20 morning session of the Senate crime committee. Anastasia said he had conjunctivitis, an eye ailment, and asked that he not be required to appear but the committee directed that he be on hand for the afternoon session.

There are only THREE Kinds of Insurance!

1. The kind that protects you against catastrophes that could cost you almost everything you have.
2. The kind that will prevent your losing smaller amounts of money — still important but not disastrous.
3. The kind that it's nice to have so you won't worry about unexpected losses — losses that you won't enjoy but that won't break your heart or your bankroll if you have to pay them yourself.

The more than 50 different types of protection we offer can all be accurately divided into these three major kinds of insurance. The classification of a particular type of protection, however, varies with different people and their special situations.

Do you know whether the policies you have are in the first, second or third class? Perhaps you have some in the third class and don't have all of the few in the first class. That's dangerous to your bank account.

We'll be glad to study your policies, without charge or obligation on your part, and classify them according to your individual needs.

Carlson Returns To U. S. From War

Pfc. Clifford R. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, 65 Staples street, is among 1,500 U. S. Marines returning aboard the U.S.S. Gen. G. M. Randall after service in Korea, the Associated Press reported today.

The local Marine's mother said he enlisted when he was 16 years old. He has been in the service since Aug. 14, 1947, and had been overseas since last July.

The list of names of the men returning released today from San Francisco, contained the names of many other men from New York state (most of them were from the metropolitan area). The only other one from this area was Cpl. Donald G. Penovi, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Penovi, 53 Prospect street, Poughkeepsie.

The Gen. Randall is scheduled to dock in San Francisco tomorrow.

Musical Terms in Hebrew

Tel Aviv, (AP)—A dictionary with 1200 musical expressions in Hebrew is expected to be published in Israel. The "Va'ad Halashon" (Hebrew Language Council) originally believed that it might only be necessary to determine some 100-120 musical expressions in the revived Bible language, but experience has shown that many more are needed—even if a number of non-Hebrew (often Italian) words which are internationally used, are admitted into modern Hebrew as well.
